

alterations and identify the supporting documentation that may be used to support approval for return to service after aircraft alteration. Use of these airworthiness compliance checklists should be limited to alterations that have been determined to be "major" alterations, as defined in 14 CFR, part 1. They should not be used for complex alterations that require a Supplemental Type Certificate (STC), per FAA Order 8300.10. This advisory circular is intended to work in conjunction with and complement AC 43-210, Standardized Procedures for Requesting Field Approval of Data, Major Alterations, and Repairs. This advisory circular does not change any previously released FAA guidance material such as FAA Orders and AC's listed in section 4 of this advisory circular. The intent of this advisory circular is to provide a tool to work within existing approval processes. Material in this advisory circular is neither mandatory nor regulatory in nature and does not constitute a regulation. The use of these checklists during the return to service of a major alteration is not mandatory nor does it alter any previously acceptable method. The draft advisory circular was issued for Public Comment on May 28, 2004 (69 FR 30738). There were no comments received for the draft advisory circular.
