Moving In The Right Direction

Make a smart move today to assure even greater success in your future. Plan to attend the new AMSA Annual Education Conference and Expo featuring GSA, themed "Moving Today, Transforming Tomorrow." This unique event, which is sponsored by the American Moving and Storage Association (AMSA), is given in partnership with the household goods and freight transportation industries.

Spanning over several action-filled days, this event promises great value and the best opportunity for learning and growth through transportation training, networking and seminars. This annual event, which will be held April 1- 4, 2008 at the Omni Orlando Resort at ChampionsGate, Florida, will offer more than ever before. That's because this year you can attend more than a dozen new industry sessions, valuable development forums and roundtable discussions with industry experts, and entertaining industry direction from dynamic keynote speakers. Plus, the trade show has been more than doubled in size to a full-blown expo — with more than 125 exhibitors displaying the industry's latest and greatest products and services! You'll learn first-hand the hottest technologies and product enhancements from leading international brands and manufacturers.

Additionally, there will be training sessions and a host of other activities, including some recreational and social gatherings, all geared toward professionals who handle transportation business matters. Federal employees have an opportunity to learn about the latest trends, procedures and products within the freight, household goods and relocation arenas, while interacting with transportation experts. They will learn from those with hands-on experience and those who can provide insight and practical solutions to transportation challenges.

This not-to-be-missed forum will bring together all of the federal civilian agency transportation community and transportation industry experts, maximizing networking opportunities like never before. It's the perfect place for them to learn more about the most recent transportation policies and programs mutually impacting their functional responsibilities.

This year's event promises to be even better than ever ... we are looking forward to seeing you in Orlando!
