Program direction and policy coordination.—The Attorney General of the United States is responsible for leading the Department of Justice in accomplishing its missions. The Attorney General is assisted by the Deputy Attorney General, the Associate Attorney General, Department policy-level officials, and the Justice Management Division. The General Administration appropriation provides the resources for the programs and operations of the Attorney General, the Deputy Attorney General, the Associate Attorney General, and their Offices, the several Senior Policy Offices, and the Justice Management Division.

Joint Automated Booking System.—The Joint Automated Booking System (JABS) performs three major functions: (1)

facilitates rapid identification of individuals under arrest or detention through automation of the booking process and an interface with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) fingerprint identification system; (2) minimizes duplication of data entry by multiple law enforcement agencies during the booking process, and; (3) promotes data sharing of arrest records among JABS participants and other interested parties. When implemented, JABS will provide a rapid conduit to the FBI for offender identification and a current, nationwide reference for criminal offenders, arrests, cases and related data to aid in criminal investigations and prosecutions.

IDENT/IAFIS Integration.—The Automated Biometric Identification System/Integrated Automated Fingerprint Identification System (IDENT/IAFIS) integration project is designed to support the apprehension and prosecution of criminal aliens and to provide state and local law enforcement personnel with direct access to Immigration and Naturalization Service data through IAFIS. With a real-time connection between the two systems, IDENT/IAFIS integration will provide INS the capability to determine whether an apprehended person is the subject of a currently posted Want/Warrant or has a record in the FBI's Criminal Master File. Collaterally, the integration of IDENT and IAFIS will enable cognizant law enforcement agencies to obtain all relevant immigration information as part of a criminal history response from a single FBI search request. IDENT/IAFIS integration is proceeding in an incremental manner with a careful attention to the technical aspects as well as the programmatic and operational effects associated with the project before initiating the full scale development and implementation of the integrated system.

In 2003, resources are proposed to provide funding for the Department of Justice conversion of its wireless radio communications to narrowband operations. Federal Government agencies are required by 47 U.S.C. 903(d)(1) to make more efficient use of their radio spectrum. The National Telecommunications and Information Administration's (NTIA) implementing regulations require that all Federal spectrum users narrow, by one-half, the bandwidth used to transmit radio signals by the year 2005 for Very High Frequency (VHF) allocations and 2008 for Ultra High Frequency (UHF) allocations. The Department's 2003 budget continues the implementation of the Justice Wireless Network (JWN). Requested resources will be allocated to support components' existing legacy land mobile radio systems; support JWN operations and maintenance requirements; invest in new narrowband infrastructure and subscriber equipment; and support management and operating requirements of the Wireless Management Office.

The Communications Assistance for Law Enforcement Act (CALEA) of 1994 authorizes the Attorney General to reimburse telecommunications carriers for costs associated with modifying digital equipment installed before January 1, 1995, in order that court-authorized wiretaps may be performed.

The Omnibus Consolidated Appropriations Act of 1997 (P.L. 104-208) extended eligibility for reimbursement to telecommunications equipment manufacturers and providers of support services. In addition to direct appropriations to the Fund, Congress authorized Federal agencies with law enforcement and intelligence responsibilities to transfer to the Fund unobligated balances that are available until expended, upon compliance with Congressional notification requirements.

With the appropriations provided in 2001, total funding for the program has reached $500 million, the authorization level provided in the Act.

This program includes the Office of the Pardon Attorney (OPA) and the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR). The Pardon Attorney receives and reviews all petitions for clemency, i.e., commutation of sentences and pardons. The Executive Office for Immigration Review contains the Immigration Judge function, the Board of Immigration Appeals, the Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer, and the Office of Management and Administration. EOIR was established January 1, 1983, to improve the immigration hearing and appeal process.

Additional funding of $9.195 million is proposed to provide adjudicative support for INS' enforcement activities. This coordination involves hiring additional Immigration Judges, attorneys, and support staff who will allow EOIR to maintain current performance levels. Workload for the activity follows:

The Detention Trustee reports to the Deputy Attorney General and is responsible for the centralized management of the Department detention resource allocations, to include the Cooperative Agreement Program, exercising financial oversight of detention operations, and ensuring the implementation of efficiency and effectiveness improvements in Department detention operations.

For FY 2003, $5,000,000 is included for the creation of a National Clearinghouse for Detention Space. The clearinghouse will serve as a national repository for State and Local governments and private detention space providers to electronically post vacancies, rates, services, administrative costs, availability, mode of transport and medical facilities and services. Detention space and service providers will be required to supply their daily rates, which includes cost and any applicable service fees, as well as the basis for the calculation of the rates. Those posting vacancies will also be required to list and provide a means for verification of their credentials and accreditations. The goal in creating this nationwide electronic detention space clearinghouse is to enable Federal users to find more cost-efficient space where they need it and avoid paying for costly transportation and services they do not need. In addition, the Detention Trustee will contract for a business process re-engineering study to examine the advisability, feasibility and cost-effectiveness of contracting out the Joint Prisoner and Alien Transportation System (JPATS).

The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) was statutorily established in the Department of Justice on April 14, 1989. The OIG investigates alleged violations of criminal and civil laws, regulations, and ethical standards arising from the conduct of the Department's employees. The OIG provides leadership and assists management in promoting integrity, economy, efficiency, and effectiveness within the Department and in its financial, contractual, and grant relationships with others. Also by statute, the OIG reports to the Attorney General, Congress, and the public on a semiannual basis regarding its significant activities.

The Audit function is responsible for independent audits and reviews of Department organizations, programs, functions, computer security and information technology systems, and financial statement audits. The Audit function also conducts or reviews external audits of expenditures made under Department contracts, grants, and other agreements.

The Investigations function investigates allegations of civil rights violations, bribery, fraud, abuse and violations of other laws, rules and procedures that govern Department employees, contractors, and grantees. This function also develops these cases for criminal prosecution, civil action, or administrative action. In some instances the OIG refers allegations to components within the Department and requests notification of their findings and of any disciplinary action taken.

The Evaluation and Inspections function conducts analyses and makes recommendations to decision makers for improvements in Department programs, policies, and procedures. In addition, this function also conducts shorter and more time-sensitive reviews and evaluations to provide managers with early warnings about possible program deficiencies.

The Oversight and Review function investigates allegations of significant interest to the American public and Congress and of vital importance to the Department.

The Executive Direction and Control function provides program direction for the OIG. Responsibilities include policy development, legal counsel, Congressional affairs, planning, budget, finance, personnel, procurement, automated data processing, and general support services.

The United States Parole Commission makes decisions to grant or deny parole to Federal and D.C. Code prisoners serving sentences of one year and a day or more, sets conditions of parole, supervises parolees and mandatory releasees, recommitts parolees in the event of violations of the conditions of supervision, and determines the termination of supervision in accordance with the Parole Commission and Reorganization Act of 1976.

In addition, the Commission seeks to improve the rehabilitation process by monitoring an effective parole supervision program through U.S. and District of Columbia probation officers and through research studies that evaluate the effectiveness of parole programs. During 2001, the U.S. Parole Commission assumed responsibility for parole revocation hearings and supervision of District of Columbia parolees under the National Capital Revitalization and Self-Government Improvement Act (P.L. 105-33).

Since the workload associated with Federal inmates and D.C. inmates will continue beyond the Commission's termination date of November 1, 2002, the Budget includes funding for these activities through 2003. The Administration will finalize plans for the continuation of the Commission's statutory responsibilities over the next several months.

The Federal Government is represented in each of the 94 judicial districts by a U.S. Marshal. The primary missions of the U.S. Marshals Service are protection of the Federal judiciary, protection of witnesses, execution of warrants and court orders, and custody and transportation of unsentenced prisoners. It is the principal support force in the Federal judicial system and an integral part of the Federal law enforcement community.

Reimbursable program.—Federal funds in 2002 are derived primarily from the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts for the court security program and inspectors for court security, the Assets Forfeiture Fund for seized assets management, the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force Program for multi-agency drug investigations, the U.S. Air Force for the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile Program for transportation security services provided by the U.S. Marshals Service, and the Office of National Drug Control Policy and the Centers for Disease Control for security services. Non-Federal funds are derived from State and local governments for witness protection and for the transportation of prisoners pursuant to State writs and from fees collected from service of civil process and sales associated with judicial orders.

This appropriation is used to pay fees and expenses to witnesses who appear on behalf of the Government in litigation in which the United States is a party. Factors over which the Department of Justice has little, or no, control affect the costs incurred. The U.S. Attorneys, the U.S. Marshals, and the Department's six litigating divisions are served by this appropriation.

Fees and expenses of witnesses.—Pays the fees and expenses associated with the preparation and presentation of testimony on behalf of the United States for fact witnesses, who testify as to events or facts about which they have personal knowledge, and for expert witnesses, who provide technical or scientific testimony. This program also pays the fees of physicians and psychiatrists who examine accused persons upon order of the court to determine their mental competency.

Protection of witnesses.—Pays subsistence and other costs to ensure the safety of Government witnesses whose testimony on behalf of the United States places them or their families in jeopardy.

Victim compensation fund.—Pays restitution to any victim of a crime committed by a protected witness who causes or threatens death or serious bodily injury.

Private counsel.—Pays private counsel retained to represent Government employees who are sued, charged, or subpoenaed for actions taken while performing their official duties (private counsel expenditures may be authorized for congressional testimony as well as for litigation in instances where government counsel is precluded from representing the employee or private counsel is otherwise appropriate);

D.C. Court Informant Protection.—Pays for the short term protection and temporary relocation of informants for the District of Columbia Superior Court.

Alternative Dispute Resolution.—Pays the costs of providing Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) services in instances wherein the Department has taken the initiative to use such services and in those matters wherein the courts have directed the parties to attempt a settlement using mediation or some other ADR process.

Reimbursable program.—Receives reimbursement from States and localities to cover the costs of maintaining those State and local organized crime witnesses and their families who have been accepted into the witness protection program.

United States trustee system fund.—The United States trustees supervise the administration of bankruptcy cases and private trustees in the Federal Bankruptcy Courts. The Bankruptcy Judges, U.S. Trustees and Family Farmer Bankruptcy Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-554) expanded the pilot trustee program to a twenty-one region, nationwide program encompassing 88 judicial districts. This program collects user fees assessed against debtors, which offset the annual appropriation.

The Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984 established the Assets Forfeiture Fund, into which forfeited cash and the proceeds of sales of forfeited property are deposited. Authorities of the fund have been amended by various public laws enacted since 1984. Under current law, authority to use the fund for certain investigative expenses shall be specified in annual appropriation acts. Expenses necessary to seize, detain, inventory, safeguard, maintain, advertise or sell property under seizure are funded through a permanent, indefinite appropriation. In addition, beginning in 1993, other general expenses of managing and operating the asset forfeiture program are paid from the permanent, indefinite portion of the fund. Once all expenses are covered, and statutorily mandated transfers are accomplished, the balance is maintained to meet ongoing expenses of the program. Excess unobligated balances may also be allocated by the Attorney General in accordance with 28 U.S.C. 524(c)(8)(E).

The Justice Prisoner and Alien Transportation System (JPATS) is responsible for transporting by air all Federal prisoners and detainees, including sentenced, pretrial, and illegal aliens, whether in the custody of the U.S. Marshals Service, the Bureau of Prisons, or the Immigration and Naturalization Service. JPATS also provides prisoner transportation to the Department of Defense, and State and local law enforcement, on a full cost recovery reimbursable and space available basis. JPATS transports prisoners and detainees on a full cost recovery reimbursable basis with participating Executive Departments and agencies without sacrificing the safety of the public, Federal employees, or those in custody. Proceeds from the disposal of aircraft will be deposited into the Fund. In FY 2003, the Detention Trustee will contract for a business process reengineering study to examine the advisability, feasibility and cost-effectiveness of contracting out JPATS.

This appropriation provides reimbursements to agencies within the Department of Justice that participate in the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force (OCDETF) Program. The OCDETF Program consists of a nationwide structure of 9 regional task forces that combine the resources and expertise of its 11 member Federal agencies, in cooperation with State and local investigators and prosecutors, to target and destroy major narcotic trafficking and money-laundering organizations. The task forces perform the following activities:

1. Law Enforcement.—This activity includes the resources for direct investigative and support activities of the task forces, focusing on the disruption of drug trafficking controlled by various organized crime enterprises. Organizations participating under the law enforcement function are the Drug Enforcement Administration, Federal Bureau of Investigation, U.S. Customs Service, Internal Revenue Service, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, U.S. Coast Guard, U.S. Marshals Service, and the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

2. Drug Intelligence.—This activity includes the resources to maintain Regional Drug Intelligence Squads (RDIS) in selected regions. The squads gather and disseminate raw data for strategic, operational and tactical intelligence purposes and provide regional intelligence linkage to the National Drug Intelligence Center (NDIC) and member agencies' headquarters.

3. Prosecution.—This activity includes the resources for the prosecution of cases generated through the investigative efforts of task force agents. Litigation efforts are targeted selectively on the criminal leadership involved in drug trafficking and are intended to dissolve organized illicit enterprises. This includes activities designed to secure the seizure and forfeiture of the assets of these enterprises. Participating agencies are the U.S. Attorneys, Criminal Division and Tax Division.

4. Administrative Support.—This activity includes the resources for a Washington-based administrative staff in the Criminal Division, which provides policy guidance, central coordination, and administrative support to the headquarters of the 11 member Federal agencies and the 9 regional task forces. The administrative staff is also responsible for financial management, records management, and maintenance of a case tracking system.

The planned distribution of obligations for 2002 and 2003 among the participating Federal agencies, as well as the actual distribution for 2001, is as follows:

The total number of investigations is expected to decrease as priority is placed on more sophisticated national targets, which will be more workload and resource intensive in nature.

The mission of the FBI is to uphold the law through the investigation of violations of Federal criminal law; to protect the United States from foreign intelligence and terrorist activities; to provide leadership and law enforcement assistance to Federal, State, local and international agencies; and to perform these responsibilities in a manner that is responsive to the needs of the public and is faithful to the Constitution of the United States.

The FBI Strategic Plan: 1998–2003 establishes a three-tier framework to achieve this mission: (1) foreign intelligence, terrorist, and criminal activities that directly threaten the national or economic security of the United States; (2) crimes that affect the public safety or undermine the integrity of American society; and (3) crimes that affect individuals and property. Through this framework, the FBI will focus its resources and operational strategies on threats that affect the security of the Nation and crime problems that are national in scope.

National and Economic Security. FBI investigations in this tier encompass threats and criminal acts that are of such importance to the U.S. national interests that they must receive priority attention by the FBI. Within this tier, strategic goals have been established to:

—identify, prevent, and defeat intelligence operations conducted by any foreign power within the United States, or against U.S. interests abroad, that constitute a threat to U.S. national security;

—prevent, disrupt, and defeat terrorist operations before they occur;

—create an effective and ongoing deterrent designed to prevent criminal conspiracies from defrauding major U.S. industries and the U.S. Government; and —deter the unlawful exploitation of emerging technologies by foreign powers, terrorists, and criminal elements.

Criminal Enterprises and Public Safety. FBI investigations in this tier target criminal organizations, such as the La Cosa Nostra, drug traffickers, violent gangs, and other groups that exploit social, economic or political circumstances at a significant cost to the Nation. Investigations often transcend jurisdictional and national boundaries, and often are conducted by the FBI in partnership with other Federal agencies, such as the Drug Enforcement Administration, and State and local law enforcement. Strategic goals have been established to:

—identify, disrupt, and dismantle existing and emerging organized criminal enterprises whose activities affect the United States;

—identify, disrupt, and dismantle targeted international and national drug trafficking organizations;

—reduce public corruption at all levels of government with special emphasis on law enforcement operations; and

—deter civil rights violations through aggressive investigations and proactive measures.

Individuals and Property. Violent street crimes, interstate theft, crimes against children, and environmental crimes are among the offenses where the FBI is expected to respond quickly and efficiently. Many Federal crimes involving offenses against individuals and property are also State and local crimes and FBI investigative strategies recognize the generally primary role of State and local law enforcement. The FBI works closely with State and local law enforcement through Safe Streets Task Forces and similar working groups and by providing investigative expertise and technical and forensic assistance. In support of this strategy, the FBI has established a strategic goal to reduce the impact of the most significant crimes that affect individuals and property.

FBI investigations and operations are conducted through a world-wide network of 56 major field offices, over 400 resident agencies, and 4 information technology centers located throughout the United States and Puerto Rico; the FBI Academy complex at Quantico, Virginia; a fingerprint identification center in Clarksburg, West Virginia; 44 foreign liaison posts; and, FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

A number of FBI activities are carried out on a reimbursable basis. Since 1997, the FBI has been reimbursed for investigations of health care fraud and abuse as a result of the enactment of the Health Care Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (P.L. 104–191). Additionally, the FBI is reimbursed for its participation in Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement programs and by other Federal agencies for certain investigative services, such as preemployment background inquiries and fingerprint and name checks. The FBI also is authorized to conduct fingerprint and name checks for certain non-federal agencies.

For 2003, $446.3 million in enhancements are proposed in support of Tier I counterterrorism activities. The proposed enhancements support operational, information technology, and infrastructure needs. Highlights of these initiatives include: (1) enhanced counterterrorism capabilities; (2) enhanced capability for cyber crimes investigations; (3) improvement of security for FBI personnel, facilities, and information; and (4) enhanced information technology equipment, systems, and telecommunications services.

The mission of the DEA is to control abuse of narcotics and dangerous drugs by restricting the aggregate supply of those drugs. In order to safeguard Americans, DEA will disrupt/dismantle the leadership, command, control and infrastructure of drug syndicates, gangs and traffickers of illicit drugs that threaten Americans and erode the quality of life in our communities. At the Federal level, DEA is the lead drug law enforcement agency. DEA accomplishes its objectives through coordination with State, local, and other Federal officials in drug law enforcement activities, development and maintenance of drug intelligence systems, regulation of legitimate controlled substances activities, and enforcement coordination and intelligence-gathering activities with foreign government agencies.

Cooperation among Federal law enforcement agencies is extensive, especially within the nine Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement (ICDE) regional task forces. DEA's involvement is integral to this nationwide coordinated enforcement strategy. With the ICDE program and the expansion of other agency cooperative efforts, overall drug enforcement capabilities have been significantly strengthened in recent years.

The activities of the DEA are divided into the following general categories:

Enforcement—

Domestic enforcement.—This activity encompasses DEA's general efforts to eliminate or immobilize major drug trafficking organizations and thereby reduce the domestic supply of illicit drugs.

Domestic Enforcement includes the majority of the activities encompassed within DEA's 21 domestic field divisions and the Special Operations Division. These activities include efforts to reduce the availability of illicit drugs by immobilizing targeted organizations that are substantially responsible for importation and distribution of drugs and by focusing enforcement operations on specific drug trafficking problems. This program also includes DEA's Regional Enforcement Teams (RET), an initiative designed to provide a proactive, mobile regional investigative element to better develop intelligence, and investigate and target drug organizations operating in America's smaller communities. DEA's RET program (4 teams) is equipped with the investigative equipment and vehicles needed to ensure a high degree of mobility and to support the performance of even the most complex of investigations.

State and local task forces.—This activity encompasses efforts to reduce drug availability and immobilize major drug trafficking organizations through intergovernmental cooperation with State and local law enforcement agencies and through DEA's Mobile Enforcement Team Program. There are currently 155 program-funded (109 funded by DEA, and 46 funded by the High Intensity Drug Trafficking appropriation) and 54 provisional State and Local Task Forces and 24 Mobile Enforcement Teams participating in the program.

Measures reported in past years, such as arrests, indictments, and convictions, are not considered useful indicators of the outcome or impact of law enforcement activities by the Department of Justice. The Department and DEA have developed new and more meaningful performance measures as part of implementing the Government Performance and Results Act. The measures below reflect the new focus on priority targets and the planned outcomes of disruption and dismantlement.

Domestic Priority Targeted Organizations identified	498	474	514
Number of PTO disrupted/dismantled (Int'l Nexus)	30	14	18
Number of PTO disrupted/dismantled (Nat/Reg Nexus)	24	14	18
Cooperative (State & Local) PTO identified	134	114	124
Number of PTO disrupted/dismantled (Local Nexus)	12	7	9

Foreign cooperative investigations.—This activity encompasses efforts to (1) disrupt, as close to the source as possible, production of opium, heroin, cocaine, marijuana, and illicitly produced and diverted legitimate dangerous drugs destined for the United States, and (2) collect and disseminate intelligence regarding narcotics production and trafficking.

Chemical diversion control.—This activity seeks to reduce the diversion of legitimately produced controlled chemicals into illicit channels at all levels of distribution, and to provide the leadership and support necessary to ensure that State and local agencies and the chemical industry establish and maintain programs and policies to control diversion. The Drug Diversion Control activities are funded from the Drug Diversion Control Fee Account.

Investigative Support—

Intelligence.—This activity encompasses the collection, analysis, and dissemination of drug intelligence in support of the enforcement operations of DEA and other Federal, State, and local agencies.

DEA laboratory services.—This activity encompasses laboratory analysis of evidence and expert testimony in support of the investigation and prosecution of drug traffickers.

DEA training.—This activity encompasses entry level training for all special agents, diversion investigators, and intelligence analysts; advanced, in-service and specialized training for investigative and other personnel; executive, mid-level management, and supervisory training for appropriate agency officials; and foreign language training for DEA personnel assigned to overseas and border offices as needed. In 2003, training will focus on basic agent, in-service and specialized training activities.

Research, engineering, and technical operations.—This activity provides high quality and timely radio communications capability, technical and investigative equipment assistance support, maintenance and operation of an aircraft fleet, and research programs directly related to the DEA law enforcement and intelligence functions.

ADP and telecommunications.—This activity encompasses automated data processing, to include the FIREBIRD NETWORK, and telecommunication support on a nationwide and worldwide basis.

Records management.—This activity encompasses effective and efficient records management, Freedom of Information/Privacy Act, and library support.

Program Direction—

Management and Administration.—This activity encompasses the overall management, contracting, and direction of DEA to include personnel, general services, financial management and Equal Employment Opportunity functions.

Reimbursable program.—The primary reimbursements to DEA are for the Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement Task Force program, the training of foreign drug law enforcement officials (funded by the Department of State), and the expenses incurred in managing seized assets and other purposes for which DEA is reimbursed from the Department of Justice Assets Forfeiture Fund.

Public Law 102-395 established the Diversion Control Fee Account in 1993. Fees charged by the Drug Enforcement Administration under the Diversion Control Program are set at a level that ensures the recovery of the full costs of operating the various aspects of the program. The purpose of this program is to prevent, detect, and investigate the diversion of controlled substances from legitimate channels, while at the same time ensuring an adequate and uninterrupted supply of controlled substances required to meet legitimate needs.

The measures below reflect the level of activity performed by this program.

The mission of the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) is to enforce provisions of the law which govern lawful entry and presence within the United States, and provide immigration benefits and services to individuals and entities (e.g., employers) entitled under law. The mission is accomplished through INS' operational offices located on the border, in the interior and overseas, and through numerous special facilities (e.g., detention centers, application processing centers, national records repository, training centers) throughout the United States. Accomplishing the enforcement and benefits/services mission of the INS requires significant investment in physical infrastructure and equipment, administrative support services, and maintenance; and a competent, diversified, motivated and productive workforce. INS addresses its mission through several goals that are used to target and monitor performance.

Immigration enforcement.—This account contains resources for preventing illegal entry into the United States, facilitating the entry of qualified persons, and investigating criminal organizations that facilitate illegal migration. This includes inspection of applicants for admission, patrol of the border, and locating aliens who are in the United States following illegal entry or violation of status after legal entry. Apprehensions are made through the inspection of places of employment, by the investigation of information about the location of undocumented aliens, and through investigative case work. Also included are resources for the Service's nationwide anti-smuggling program and for the detention and removal of illegal aliens.

Border Enforcement.—Effectively control the border by securing the land border, ports of entry and coasts of the United States against illegal migration. In coordination with other agencies and through enhanced integration of INS' overseas, border and interior intelligence operations, this activity seeks to (1) prevent illegal entry by comprehensive border protection programs, including increased Border Patrol strength, (2) concentrate resources at the major problem sources, ports of entry and border points, and (3) gather, analyze, and disseminate intelligence regarding illegal migration to target enforcement efforts on criminal activities, smuggling, fraud, and terrorism.

	2001 actual	2002 est.	2003 est.
Interceptions of mala fide and offshore travelers	34,594	20,000	20,000
Offshore prosecutions assisted by INS personnel	514	515	515
Deportable aliens apprehended (border patrol)	1.2 million	1.0 million	1.0 million
Smugglers apprehended (border patrol)	9,586	12,000	13,000
Southwest Corridors controlled (border patrol)	8	8	9

In addition, a component of immigration enforcement is the inspection of lawful travel and commerce across the borders to the United States. This activity seeks to (1) expand the use of techniques and technologies that promote and expedite lawful entry, including implementation of a comprehensive entry exit system, (2) increase the number of registered Dedicated Commuter Lane participants, and (3) work cooperatively with the U.S. Customs Service and other Federal agencies at ports-of-entry. The measures below reflect the expected outcomes from these activities.

	2001 actual	2002 est.	2003 est.
Total persons inspected (land only)	414,361,743	400,000,000	414,000,000
Inadmissible aliens intercepted (land ports)	414,496	419,000	429,000
Land-border wait times that did not exceed 30 minutes	84%	82%	90%
Alternative Inspection system usage (annual)	3,860,296	3,860,296	4,000,000
Total persons inspected (air and sea)	91,532,388	91,532,000	91,532,000
Inadmissible aliens intercepted (air and sea)	279,084	284,000	294,000
Commercial air flights to clear primary inspection in 30 min ..	79%	70%	79%
Passenger manifest data submitted electronically by the carrier	85%	87%	98%

Interior Enforcement.—Maximize deterrence to unlawful migration and enforce immigration laws in the interior through effective and coordinated use of resources to reduce the incentives of unauthorized employment and assistance; address interior smuggling and benefit and document fraud; and increase intergovernmental cooperation and the integration of activities among law enforcement entities at all levels of government. In coordination with other agencies and through enhanced integration of INS' overseas, border and interior intelligence operations, this activity seeks to (1) increase prosecution and forfeiture activities to disrupt and dismantle criminal, smuggling, and benefit and document fraud organizations, and (2) target worksite enforcement activities toward employers who intentionally hire unauthorized workers in selected industry and geographic areas or engage in related smuggling and fraud ventures.

Also included are Federal funds in 2003 derived primarily from the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force program for multi-agency drug investigations and the Asset Forfeiture Fund for seized assets. The measures below reflect the expected outcomes from these activities.

Cases (investigations):
Smuggling cases completed (investigations)	2,885	2,900	3,050
Fraud cases presented (investigations)	346	210	210

Detention and Removals.—Maximize deterrence to unlawful migration and enforce immigration laws by removing deportable inadmissible aliens expeditiously, and increase intergovernmental cooperation and the integration of activities among law enforcement entities at all levels of government. In coordination with other agencies and through enhanced integration of INS' overseas, border and interior intelligence operations, this activity seeks to (1) Identify, process and remove deportable aliens and those criminal aliens eligible for deportation who are incarcerated in Federal, State and local institutions, (2) strengthen coordination with Federal, State and local law enforcement entities to identify, detain, and remove aliens, particularly those involved in terrorism, violent gangs and criminal activities, and (3) provide adequate, safe, humane and efficiently run detention bedspace and a transportation capability that meets aliens detention and removal obligations. In 2003, $615 million would be transferred to the Detention Trustee to improve efficiency in the acquisition of bed space.

Number of detention days	7,129,586	7,391,250	7,760,630

Immigration Services.—Deliver services to the public in a timely, consistent fair and high quality manner. This activity encompasses efforts to (1) Establish and maintain an asylum process that is fair and timely, and that denies meritless claims quickly without discouraging legitimate seekers of asylum, (2) establish and maintain immigration and naturalization processes that deliver benefits to our customers in a fair, accurate and timely manner, (3) make "user friendly" customer service an integral, permanent aspect of all INS activities, and (4) provide employers, benefit providers and other appropriate entities with immigration information and alien status, and the assistance and tools needed to allow them to comply with the laws while safeguarding the civil and privacy rights of citizens and aliens alike. The 2003 Budget continues to support a five-year, $500 million initiative to support a universal six-month processing standard for all immigration applications.

Federal Prison Industries, Inc., was created by Congress in 1934 and is a wholly-owned Government corporation. Its mission is to employ and train Federal inmates through a diversified program providing products and services to other Federal agencies. These operations are conducted in such a manner as to offer a minimum of competition to private industry and labor. Employment provides inmates with work, occupational knowledge and skills, plus money for personal expenses and family assistance.

The Corporation strives to provide additional industrial employment opportunities at existing and planned institutions.

Budget program.—Federal Prison Industries, Inc., operations are entirely self-sustaining. No appropriations are required. The amounts used by the Corporation for administrative expenses are subject to a congressional limitation. Information regarding this limitation is provided separately following this account.

Financing program.—Revenues are derived entirely from the sale of products and services to other Federal agencies. Operating expenses are applied against these revenues, resulting in operating income or loss. Earnings surplus to the needs of the manufacturing operations, capital improvements and cash reserves are used to pay accident compensation.

Operating results.—To date, Federal Prison Industries, Inc., has returned to the Treasury a total of $82 million of retained income excess to the Corporation's needs. No contributions from budget authority have been made to offset deficits for non-revenue producing outlays since the inception of the fund.

The Office of Justice Programs (OJP) carries out policy coordination and general management responsibilities for the Bureau of Justice Assistance, Bureau of Justice Statistics, National Institute of Justice, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, Office for Victims of Crime, and six program offices. The following OJP programs are funded through the Justice Assistance account.

Research, evaluation, and demonstration programs.—Funds provide for and encourage the development of basic and applied research for the improvement of Federal, State, and local criminal, civil, and juvenile justice systems; new methods for the prevention and reduction of crime and the detection, apprehension, and rehabilitation of criminals; and the dissemination of the results of such research efforts. In 2003, funding is requested for a comprehensive hate crimes study and the expansion of the Arrestee Drug Abuse Monitoring system to 50 sites.

Technology centers.—These technology centers were established to bring technology information directly to law enforcement agencies, principally to State and local levels, and to provide a source of objective technology information. In 2003, funding is requested to continue research and development of technology to assist State and local law enforcement to combat terrorism.

Criminal justice statistical programs.—Funds provide for the collection and analysis of statistical information concerning crime, victims, offenders, criminal justice processes, juvenile delinquency, and civil disputes in support of public and private policy and decisionmaking about society's response to crime; planning, coordination, implementation and provision of technical assistance to States to initiate innovative applications of communications and information systems technology for State and local criminal justice systems; and assurance of conformity with privacy and security regulations.

Missing children.—Funds are used to reduce the incidence of crimes against children, particularly kidnaping and sexual exploitation, by assisting families, citizen groups, law enforcement agencies and government institutions in a national effort to insure the safety and protection of children. In 2003, funding is requested to expand the Internet Crimes Against Children Task Forces.

Regional information sharing system.—Funds aid State and local law enforcement agencies in the exchange of intelligence information.

National White Collar Crime Center.—Funds provide assistance to State and local law enforcement and regulatory agencies in addressing multi-jurisdictional white collar crimes.

Counterterrorism Programs.—Beginning in 2003, the activities of the Office for Domestic Preparedness are funded within the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

Management and administration.—Funds provide executive direction and control, program operation, and administrative support of the Office of Justice Programs.

This program provides grants to states, units of local government, Indian Tribal governments, and other public and private entities to advance community policing, expand cooperation between law enforcement agencies and members of the community, and enhance public safety. Grants may be used for police integrity strategies, procuring equipment and technology, and funding additional grant projects. Funding also supports training and technical assistance, methamphetamine lab clean-up, grants and cooperative agreements to Indian Tribes, the Police Corps program, and bullet-proof vests for law enforcement officers.

Continuing initiatives include the DNA Initiative, the Crime Lab Improvement Program and the Criminal Records Upgrade program. The DNA Initiative aims to reduce the backlog of crime scene and convicted offender DNA backlog samples. The Crime Lab Improvement Program provides grants to improve the general forensic capabilities of state and local forensic labs. The Criminal Records Upgrade program provides discretionary grants to states to upgrade criminal history, criminal justice, and identification record systems, promote compatibility and participation in federal, state and local systems, and capture information for statistical and research programs as authorized by the Crime Identification Technology Act of 1998 for the funds requested for criminal records upgrade in 2003. $25 million will be specifically targeted to help states improve the accuracy and completeness of court-based records data.

The Justice Department will also continue three programs to help state and local governments enhance their prosecutorial efforts to address crime. First, Project Sentry is a federal-state partnership to provide additional funding for state and federal law enforcement to establish "Safe School Task Forces," to identify and appropriately prosecute, punish and supervise juveniles who violate state and federal firearms laws. Second, the Gun Violence Prosecution Program provides grants to encourage states to increase prosecution of gun-related crime through increased arrests and public awareness. Both Project Sentry and the Gun Violence Prosecution Program are key elements of the Justice Department's Project Safe Neighborhood Initiative. Finally, funding is provided to assist counties near the Southwest border with the costs of prosecuting and detaining federal drug and alien arrest referrals.

Justice Assistance Grant Program.—This new program will replace the Byrne Formula Grant program and the Local Law Enforcement Block Grant program. Funding will be provided to state and local governments. The states' funding may be used for statewide initiatives, technical assistance and training, support for rural jurisdictions in the areas of law enforcement, prosecution and court programs, prevention programs, corrections programs and treatment programs. Local funding may be used for these purposes and could be combined with funding of other jurisdictions to form a regional project. The JAG Program also includes set-asides for Boys and Girls Clubs and NIJ research, which were funded previously within Local Law Enforcement Block Grants, as well as $15 million to support the activities of citizens who volunteer to help local law enforcement improve their communities' terrorism preparedness.

In 2003, funds will be targeted at juvenile gun violence and drug use, and how school violence impacts juveniles and how to prevent it. The 2003 budget reduces Part C discretionary funding by $48.513 million due to the program having been heavily earmarked in recent years, which has limited its ability to provide discretionary funds to the States for juvenile justice innovations.

Modeled on recommendations of the National Commission on Federal Electoral Reform (the Ford/Carter Commission), this initiative will help States fund technical and procedural improvements in state and local voting systems. From 2003 through 2005, $400 million in annual grants will be allocated to states based on their share of electoral votes. States would be responsible for providing a 50 percent match to set up revolving funds that would be available to local governments for improved voting technologies and administration, including voting machines, registration systems, voter education, and poll worker training. The Office of Justice Programs will have primary responsibility for administering the grants, in consultation with the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), which will provide expertise on voluntary technical standards.

This program provides payment of death benefits to eligible survivors of public safety officers who die in the line of duty, disability payments to public safety officers who are permanently disabled as a result of injury incurred in the line of duty, and educational assistance to children or spouses of officers who are killed or permanently disabled in the line of duty. Legislation provides for an annual cost of living escalator tied to the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for death benefit payments. The USA Patriot Act of 2001 (P.L. 107-56) increased the base death and disability payments to $250,000 retroactively to January 1, 2001.
