

10.0 Conclusions

The benefits in terms of lives saved and injuries prevented are expected to exceed the costs imposed on society by this rule. Even assuming collision rates falling at the most we actually expect is possible the safety benefits alone, exceed the most costly realistic scenario for community safety enhancements.