

THIS IS A SWIMMING POOL.

Photo by: Sandra Kilroy/King County

THIS IS ITS FILTER.

ANY QUESTIONS?

Every year, thousands of families joyfully splash into our rivers and lakes. But unless we're careful, there may come a day when it's no longer good clean fun. How do we keep pollution from spoiling our water bodies? Keep it out of storm drains. You can help by covering and containing all materials kept outside.

Also, store a spill kit on site and use it, no matter how small the mess.

Don't let a vital recreational resource go to waste. For more information, call (206) 296-1900.

BUSINESSES  CLEAN WATER

Produced by King County Department of Natural Resources with support from:

