

*In retrofit applications, recirculated flue gas is used to balance heat transfer to convective zones