The National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) is the primary federal entity for collecting, analyzing, and reporting data related to education in the United States and other nations. It fulfills a congressional mandate to collect, collate, analyze, and report full and complete statistics on the condition of education in the United States; conduct and publish reports and specialized analyses of the meaning and significance of such statistics; assist state and local education agencies in improving their statistical systems; and review and report on education activities in foreign countries.

NCES activities are designed to address high priority education data needs; provide consistent, reliable, complete, and accurate indicators of education status and trends; and report timely, useful, and high quality data to the U.S. Department of Education, the Congress, the states, other education policymakers, practitioners, data users, and the general public.

We strive to make our products available in a variety of formats and in language that is appropriate to a variety of audiences. You, as our customer, are the best judge of our success in communicating information effectively. If you have any comments or suggestions about this or any other NCES product or report, we would like to hear from you. Please direct your comments to :

FOREWORD

The Supplemental Tables report provides additional detail for information provided in the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System Data Quality Study. The tables are arranged in nine sections. The first section provides summary information related to all Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) components analyzed by the study. The remaining eight sections present tables that augmented the analyses of individual IPEDS components.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We would like to thank our data analysts Jose De La Tore and Elizabeth Gorman of DIR; and Yuhong Zheng and Cathy Lu of MPR for the production of the tables provided in this document. We would also like to thank Samuel Barbett of NCES for his assistance in helping us to obtain and subsequently understand the various IPEDS data files; and Mark Zidzik of the Thomson Corporation for helping us understand the structure and content of the Thomson Peterson files.

We are also grateful to all the staff within NCES who provided valuable comments on the supplemental tables for each of the IPEDS components. We especially appreciate the thoughtful review provided by Paula Knepper, who thoroughly reviewed the entire document.

NOTE: Tuition and price data are collected as a part of the Institutional Characteristics component. Revisions for all components except Tuition and Price use the IPEDS Prior Year Data Revision System. The Tuition and Price component collects data for three consecutive years, the current and two previous years. The two previous years are pre-loaded into the system for possible revision. Thus, revisions for the Tuition and Price component are done using the current year data collection system. This may partially account for the large number of institutions making changes to the price of attendance data. The other jurisdictions are American Samoa, the Federated States of Micronesia, Guam, the Marshall Islands, the Northern Marianas, Palau, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

NOTE: Information in this table conforms to Table 5 in the Staff in Postsecondary Institutions, Fall 2002, and Salaries of Full-time Instructional Faculty, 2002 – 03 E.D. Tabs report. Original values refer to values originally reported by institutions (including values imputed by NCES) using the current year web-based data collection system. Revised values refer to values reported by institutions using the Prior Year Data Revision System. The differences provided in this table are computed as the revised values minus the original values.

NOTE: Values are defined as follows:

IPEDS Original is the mean value and related statistics for all comparable institutions with nonmissing values for variables that were originally reported to IPEDS.

IPEDS Revised is the mean value and related statistics for all comparable institutions with nonmissing values for variables that were revised using the IPEDS Prior Year Data Revision System.

Peterson comparison for original data is the mean value and related statistics for all original comparable institutions with nonmissing values for variables that were reported to Peterson.

Peterson comparison for revised data is the mean value and related statistics for all revised comparable institutions with nonmissing values for variables that were reported to Peterson.

Difference IPEDS Original is the difference between the original IPEDS values and the Peterson values for comparable institutions where the values are nonmissing in both IPEDS and Peterson.

Difference IPEDS Revised is the difference between the revised IPEDS values and the Peterson values for comparable institutions where the values are non-missing in both IPEDS and Peterson.

Relative Difference Original is the percentage change from the original IPEDS value. It is computed by dividing the difference between the original IPEDS value and the Peterson value by the original IPEDS value and multiplying by 100.

Relative Difference Revised is the percent change from the revised IPEDS value. It is computed by dividing the difference between the revised IPEDS value and the Peterson value by the revised IPEDS value and multiplying by 100.

NOTE: Values are defined as follows:

IPEDS Original is the mean value and related statistics for all comparable institutions with nonmissing values for variables that were originally reported to IPEDS.

IPEDS Revised is the mean value and related statistics for all comparable institutions with nonmissing values for variables that were revised using the IPEDS Prior Year Data Revision System.

Peterson comparison for original data is the mean value and related statistics for all original comparable institutions with nonmissing values for variables that were reported to Peterson.

Peterson comparison for revised data is the mean value and related statistics for all revised comparable institutions with nonmissing values for variables that were reported to Peterson.

Difference IPEDS Original is the difference between the original IPEDS values and the Peterson values for comparable institutions where the values are nonmissing in both IPEDS and Peterson.

Difference IPEDS Revised is the difference between the revised IPEDS values and the Peterson values for comparable institutions where the values are non-missing in both IPEDS and Peterson.

Relative Difference Original is the percentage change from the original IPEDS value. It is computed by dividing the difference between the original IPEDS value and the Peterson value by the original IPEDS value and multiplying by 100.

Relative Difference Revised is the percent change from the revised IPEDS value. It is computed by dividing the difference between the revised IPEDS value and the Peterson value by the revised IPEDS value and multiplying by 100.

NOTE: Information in this table conforms to Table B in the Postsecondary Institutions in the United States, Fall 2002 and Degrees and Other Awards Conferred: 2001 – 02 E.D. Tabs report. Original values refer to values originally reported by institutions using the current year web-based data collection system. Revised values refer to values reported by institutions using the Prior Year Data Revision System. The differences are computed as the revised values minus the original values. Detail may not sum to totals because of rounding.

[†] First-professional degrees are awarded after completion of the academic requirements to begin practice in the following professions: chiropractic (D.C. or D.C.M.); dentistry (D.D.S. or D.M.D.); law (L.L.B. or J.D.); medicine (M.D.); optometry (O.D.); osteopathic medicine (D.O.); pharmacy (Pharm.D.); podiatry (D.P.M., D.P., or Pod.D.); theology (M.Div., M.H.L., B.D., or Ordination); or veterinary medicine (D.V.M.).

NOTE: Information in this table conforms to Table 9 in the Postsecondary Institutions in the United States, Fall 2002 and Degrees and Other Awards Conferred: 2001 – 02 E.D. Tabs report. Original values refer to values originally reported by institutions using the current year web-based data collection system. Revised values refer to values reported by institutions using the Prior Year Data Revision System. The differences are computed as the revised values minus the original values. Detail may not sum to totals because of rounding.

NOTE: Revised data refers to values reported through the Prior Year Data Revision system that were used to reproduce Table 1a in the Enrollment in Postsecondary Institutions, Fall 2002 and Financial Statistics, Fiscal Year 2002 E.D. Tabs report. For those institutions that did not submit revisions the original values were used to reproduce the table. Differences between revised and original values are given in Table 5.17 in the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System Reliability and Validity Study final report.

NOTE: Revised data refers to values reported through the Prior Year Data Revision system that were used to reproduce Table 2 in the Enrollment in Postsecondary Institutions, Fall 2002 and Financial Statistics, Fiscal Year 2002 E.D. Tabs report. For those institutions that did not submit revisions the original values were used to reproduce the table. Differences between revised and original values are given in Table 5.18 in the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System Reliability and Validity Study final report. The other jurisdictions include American Samoa, the Federated States of Micronesia, Guam, the Marshall Islands, the Northern Marianas, Palau, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

NOTE: Revised data refers to values reported through the Prior Year Data Revision system that were used to reproduce Table 7 in the Enrollment in Postsecondary Institutions, Fall 2002 and Financial Statistics, Fiscal Year 2002 E.D. Tabs report. For those institutions that did not submit revisions the original values were used to reproduce the table. Differences between revised and original values are given in Table 5.23 in the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System Reliability and Validity Study final report.

² Students who are citizens of foreign countries attending an institution in the United States.

³ Students whose residence is unknown and who could be from the U.S., an other area, or a foreign country.

² Students who are citizens of foreign countries attending an institution in the United States.

³ Students whose residence is unknown and who could be from the U.S., an other area, or a foreign country.

¹ The difference is computed as the revised value minus the original value.

² Each average grant (or loan) value was calculated by dividing the total grants (or loans) awarded by the total number of recipients.

³ Student loans include only loans made directly to students; federal loans to parents (PLUS) and other loans made directly to parents are not included.

1 The difference is computed as the revised value minus the original value.

2 Average grant (or loan) amounts were calculated by dividing the total grants (or loans) awarded by the total number of recipients.

3 Student loans include only loans made directly to students; federal loans to parents (PLUS) and other loans made directly to parents are not included.

NOTE: Information in this table conforms to Table 24 in the Enrollment in Postsecondary Institutions, Fall 2002 and Financial Statistics, Fiscal Year 2002 E.D. Tabs report. Student financial aid data are not imputed. The numbers shown reflect only those institutions that reported the number of recipients by types of financial aid and the average amounts received.

1 The denominator for all percent columns is the total number of institutions making changes (N=45).

NOTE: The table includes all finance data that were changed by institutions for each survey part listed in column 1. Finance data that were changed by less than 5 percent of the institutions (8 institutions) are excluded from the list given in column 1. Four-year institutions represented less than 5 percent of institutions making changes. This group has been excluded from the table.

NOTE: Information in this table conforms to Table 18 in the Staff in Postsecondary Institutions, Fall 2002, and Salaries of Full-time Instructional Faculty, 2002 – 03 E.D. Tabs report. Original values refer to values originally reported by institutions using the current year web-based data collection system. Revised values refer to values reported by institutions using the Prior Year Data Revision System. The difference is computed as the revised value minus the original value.

NOTE: Information in this table conforms to Table 42 in the Enrollment in Postsecondary Institutions, Fall 2002 and Financial Statistics, Fiscal Year 2002 E.D. Tabs report. The difference is computed as the revised value minus the original value. Original values refer to values originally reported by institutions using the current year web-based data collection system. Revised values refer to values reported by institutions using the Prior Year Data Revision System.
