

The Refuge

Cat Island National Wildlife Refuge was established in 2000 primarily to conserve, restore, and manage native forested wetland habitats for migratory birds, aquatic resources, and endangered and threatened plants and animals. The 10,473 acre refuge is located along the Mississippi River about 30 miles north of Baton Rouge, Louisiana. The habitat consists of bottomland hardwood forests and cypress/tupelo swamps, which are inundated by the Mississippi River each year. The refuge is known for its numerous old growth cypress trees, many of which are over 1,000 years old.

Access to the refuge may be limited during late winter/spring due to flooding by the Mississippi River. To assist visitors, the refuge boundary is marked with white refuge boundary signs and yellow boundary paint. Markings are located at both eye level and up to 15 feet high. It is the responsibility of the visitor to recognize these markings and to avoid trespassing onto private property adjacent to the refuge.

General Regulations

Individuals utilizing the refuge are subject to inspections of permits, licenses, hunting equipment, bag limits, boats, vehicles, and their contents by refuge officers. To ensure your safety and enjoyment while visiting Cat Island, please take the time to become familiar with the refuge regulations.

Hunting and fishing regulations are designed to protect the sportsman as well as wildlife populations. The regulations below supplement the general regulations which govern hunting and fishing on national wildlife refuges as set forth in Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations. Hunting and fishing will be in accordance with applicable state regulations subject to the following regulations.

The refuge is open to public access during daylight hours only except during hunting season, when you may enter 2 hours before sunrise and must leave by 2 hours after sunset.

CAUTION HUNTERS, BLACK BEAR ADVISORY!
 In a cooperative effort between the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, and the Black Bear Conservation Committee, Louisiana black bear sows and cubs have been released on Red River WMA and Lake Ophelia NWR in an attempt to reestablish these threatened bears within their historical range.

This area is not far from Cat Island NWR and bears could easily be on the Refuge. Report all bear sightings to the Refuge Office. Hunters must positively identify their target before pulling the trigger or releasing an arrow! Black bears and feral hogs are sometimes hard to distinguish in heavy cover. Black bears are a protected species in Louisiana.
