

February 7, 2006

Dear Sir,

RE:file number 1-31795

These guys are a bunch of crooks. They have assets and they plan on not sharing them with the share holders. I am a small fry investor and only owned 150 shares. But the money means a lot to me and I don't want the parent company to pocket my money as profit and stay in business. If you need to de-list TWH Also de-list the parent company PFI. That would surely shock the shit out of the Charles Huffman and the board of directors.

Does the SEC system work or are we to be held hostage to a bunch of crooks?

Larry K. Rowin