

Emergency Supplemental Obligations

Emergency supplemental appropriations passed by Congress since fiscal year 2001 have provided significant funding for transit system improvements. This includes projects or funding in response to the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks, Hurricane Katrina disaster relief, and other significant purposes.

In FY 2005, about $729.6 million were obligated as Emergency Supplemental grants. Of this total, about $719 million (98.5 %) was obligated for the New York Recovery Response, about $9.5 million (1.3%) for Emergency Ferry and the rest for Transit Security.
