ASAM Mission

Increase access to and improve the quality of addictions treatment.

Educate physicians, medical and osteopathic students, and the public.

Promote research and prevention.

Establish addiction medicine as a specialty recognized by the American Board of Medical Specialties.

ASAM advocates for parity in:

1. Training, credentialing and privileging
2. Access to treatment
3. Payment for treatment

In the News

President Signs Mental Health and Addiction Parity Bill. On Friday, October 3, 2008, President Bush signed the Paul Wellstone and Pete Domenici Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act of 2008 into law. Earlier in the week, both the US House and the US Senate approved this legislation as part of a larger financial rescue package. In summary, this “parity” bill would require group health plans that currently offer coverage for drug and alcohol addiction and mental illness to provide the same level of coverage as is offered for medical and surgical benefits. For a summary of this bill, visit Thomas.gov, a legislative search engine provided by the Library of Congress.

California Governor Repeals UPPL Law. Introduced by CA Assembly Member Paul Krekorian in February of 2007, AB 1461 prohibits insurers from including alcohol and drug exclusions in health insurance policies. Governor Schwarzenegger vetoed this bill twice before finally signing it on Tuesday, September 30, 2008.

Special Notes

New to Grassroots Advocacy? If you've never lobbied Congress or otherwise advocated for a cause, it can seem like an intimidating endeavor. ASAM's government relations department is here to help you for your first time or your fiftieth. Did you know ASAM hosts an advocacy website [\[ASAM Advocacy Website\]](#)? On it, you'll find:

- information about ASAM advocacy events
- updates on current federal and state legislation of interest
- an advocacy toolkit complete with: an advocacy tutorial, instructions on how to contact Congress and what to say, a glossary of advocacy terms (what does "mark-up mean, what happens when a bill is "hot-lined", etc), and relevant support materials and reports.
- the latest edition of ASAM's Advocacy e-newsletter
- ASAM public policy statements

What Are Your Addiction Policy Issues?

ASAM's leadership needs your feedback to help determine ASAM's legislative policy priorities. Please send your responses to advocacy@asam.org and indicate what federal (and/or state) healthcare policies are priorities for you.

*In your email, please provide as much detail about the policy and the problems/solutions associated with it, as possible. Thank you!
