GEOGRAPHIC CODES

General Purpose: Geographic codes are primarily used to provide a three-digit numerical identification for various countries and geographic entries.

Responsible Office: M/B/PB/RPA - Table 11(A)

Composition of Code: The code is structured as follows:

XX

| └─ Identifies specific geographic entries, countries, territories, and organizational or program entries within a region; e.g., 09 =
 Germany, Federal Republic

| Identifies geographic region in which the country is located
e.g., 1 = Europe

AID GEOGRAPHIC CODE BOOK

1. General

The AID Geographic Code Book is distributed to all Missions, U.S. Government and international agencies, and U.S. credit institutions doing business with the Agency. It is used primarily to (a) provide a simple three-digit code for use on documents identifying various countries and (b) to enable AID to use automatic data processing (ADP) for financial and program information.

2. Responsibility for Master Control of the Codes

The Resource Planning Analysis Division (M/B/PB/RPA) is responsible for master control of the code list used in AID.

All inquiries, suggestions, requests for amendments, or requests to use code numbers to refer to any countries or areas in any manner other than that shown in the AID Geographic Code Book, must be cleared in advance with M/B/PB/RPA.

INTRODUCTION

The AID Geographic Code Book is issued for Administrative purposes in preparing AID documents which provide information for AID's automated and manual systems. The Code Book is used by Agency employees and employees of private institutions who do business with the Agency. The geographical areas, country names, and group designations contained for AID Administrative purposes only and any political associations or affiliations are not intended or implied. Codes contained in Part I are to be used for current projects and codes in Part II may be used for ongoing and closed projects already assigned Geographic Codes.

The Code Book is divided into three sections as follows:

PART I - Numerical List of Current AID Geographic Codes

Based on information obtained from the Department of State Geographer and further adapted for AID needs, this list contains the most current codes and area and country names. It is to be used to code documents related to new projects and documents dealing with current areas and countries. Superseded codes have been left in place without preference to their equivalent noun name. The latter can be found in PART II.

PART II - Numerical List of Superseded and Inactive AID Geographic Codes Areas and Countries

The previous revision of the Code Book had left superseded codes in place with a reference to a footnote or to another code. As a result, the Code Book had become extremely difficult to read, so superseded codes have been moved to a separate section. This does not mean that these codes have been discontinued. Documentation relating to closed projects and possible projects in the implementation stage may have been assigned these codes and their use may be continued. It is emphasized that superseded codes are still a part of the Agency List of AID Geographic Codes and are to be used when applicable.

PART III - Alphabetical List

This section lists all areas, countries, or territories alphabetically regardless of their code number, association, or location and provides a cross-reference to the two numerical listings.

Some area or country names may omit descriptive words such as "Territory, Union, and Republic" which may be a part of the official name but are not required for clarity.

Inquiries regarding the Code Book, including recommendation for improvements, corrections, requests for additional copies, and requests to be placed on the distribution list for changes, are to be addressed to:

Bureau for Program and Policy Coordination

GEOGRAPHIC (ADMINISTRATIVE) CODES - B AND
STANDARD GEOGRAPHIC CODES - FIPS 10--C

General Purpose: Geographic codes are primarily used to provide a three-digit numerical identification for various countries and geographic entries.

Geographic (administrative) codes are used to identify projects which are administered by AID/W Bureaus and Offices.

Responsible Office: PPC/PB/RPA - Table 11(B) and DM/IM - Table 11(c)

Composition of Code: The code is structured as follows:

X	XX
	Identifies specific geographic entries, countries, territories, and organizational or program entries within a region; e.g., 09 = Germany, Federal Republic
	Identifies the geographic region in which the country is located; e.g., 1 = Europe

ATTACHMENT A 11(B)

GEOGRAPHIC (ADMINISTRATIVE) CODES

The first three digits of the project number are the geographic code numbers contained in Parts I and II, Appendix D of Handbook 18, and identify the country participating in a project. There are, however, additional three-digit codes which have been developed to identify projects which are administered by central AID/W Bureaus or Offices.

PART I. AID/W BUREAU/OFFICE CODES (Geographic Code Equivalent)

The Country Program Data Bank requires validation checks of the first three digits of the project number against the codes contained in the geographic codes listing in Appendix D, Handbook 18, except for projects from G, FHA, PR, POL, and M Bureau. In order to permit complete validation of all project numbers the geographic code listing has been expanded to include the central AID/W Bureau/Office numbers and titles as defined below:

Active codes available for current budgetary processes;

- 930 - Bureau for Program and Policy Coordination
- 940 - Bureau for Private Enterprise
- 936 - Bureau for Science and Technology (formerly DSB)
- 938 - Bureau for Food for Peace and Voluntary Assistance (formerly PDC)

Regional activity is aggregated under codes;

- 180 - East European Regional
- 298 - Near East Regional
- 498 - Asia Regional
- 598 - Bureau for Latin America and the Caribbean
- 698 - Bureau for Africa

Inactive and obsolete codes used only for historical purposes;

- 298 - Bureau for Asia/Near East
- 498 - Bureau for Asia/Near East
- 904 - Office for Food for Peace (merged into FHA)
- 906 - Women in Development (merged into POL)
- 907 - Office of Labor Affairs (merged into PDC)
- 908 - Office of Public Safety (disbanded)
- 912 - Office of Housing (merged into PRE)
- 913 - Office of American Schools and Hospitals Abroad (merged into FHA)
- 923 - Office of International Narcotics Control (transferred to State)
- 925 - Office of Engineering (merged into interregional bureaus)
- 926 - Office of International Training (merged into G)
- 931 - Bureau of Technical Assistance (merged into DSB)
- 932 - Bureau for Population and Humanitarian Assistance (merged into DSB)
- 933 - Bureau for Intra-governmental and International Affairs (merged into POL)

PART II. REGIONAL AGGREGATION CODES

The Economic and Social Data Bank requires, for statistical aggregation purposes, additional codes for regional groupings. The use of the following codes is restricted to this purpose.

100 - Europe Aggregation
200 - Near East
300 - South Asia
400 - East Asia
500 - Latin America Aggregation
600 - Africa Aggregation
