(Judge Lamberth)

DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION OF MARCH 5, 2003 ORDER DIRECTING PAYMENT TO SPECIAL MASTER-MONITOR
JOSEPH S. KIEFFER, III, AND MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT

Defendants respectfully move for reconsideration of this Court's March 5, 2003 Order directing the Department of the Interior ("Interior") to pay Special Master-Monitor Joseph S. Kieffer, III, the sum of $39,000. Reconsideration of the Order is appropriate in light of "an intervening change in controlling law." Cobell v. Norton, 226 F. Supp. 2d 175, 177 (D.D.C. 2002).<sup>1</sup>

On February 20, 2003, the President signed into law a joint resolution making consolidated appropriations for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2003 ("Consolidated Appropriations Resolution"). Consolidated Appropriations Resolution, 2003, Pub. L. No. 108-7, 117 Stat. 11 (Feb. 20, 2003). Section 132 of the resolution provides:

None of the funds in this or any other Act for the Department of the Interior or the Department of Justice can be used to compensate the Special Master and the Special Master-Monitor, and all variations thereto, appointed by the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in the Cobell v. Norton litigation at an annual rate that exceeds 200 percent of the highest Senior Executive Service rate of pay for the Washington-Baltimore locality pay area.

Id. at § 132.

The highest Senior Executive Service rate of pay for the Washington-Baltimore locality pay area for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2003 is $142,500. See 2003 Locality Rates Of Pay For Members Of The Senior Executive Service (Exhibit 1). Thus, the statute prohibits Interior from compensating the Special Master-Monitor at a rate that exceeds 200 percent of $142,500, or $285,000 per year.

The Consolidated Appropriations Resolution was not in effect at the beginning of this fiscal year, and Congress did not specify how this annual compensation rate is to be implemented in the middle of the fiscal year. Defendants submit that the most reasonable interpretation of Section 132 is that it sets a new “annual rate” of compensation for the Special Master-Monitor, and requires the maximum annual compensation of $285,000 to be prorated for the period from the effective date of the statute, February 20, 2003, through September 30, 2003. The prorated compensation amount is the maximum amount the Special Master-Monitor may be paid for the remainder of the fiscal year.<sup>2</sup>

The Court’s March 5, 2003 Order requires Interior to pay for work performed during February 2003, both before and after the Consolidated Appropriations Resolution became law on

<sup>2</sup> Another possible reading of Section 132 is that it caps the Special Master-Monitor’s compensation in fiscal year 2003 at $285,000, and that amounts paid to the Special Master-Monitor during the period of the continuing resolutions count toward this cap. “[T]o the extent possible, obligations incurred or expenditures made under the continuing resolution are to be charged against the funds provided by the regular appropriation act.” Matter of: Treasury Withdrawal of Appropriation Warrants for Programs Operating Under Continuing Resolution, 62 Comp. Gen. 9, 11 (1982).

February 20, 2003. If the statute is interpreted to apply only to payments for work performed after its enactment, the Special Master-Monitor must be compensated at the new statutory rate for work performed from February 20 through the end of the fiscal year, but may be compensated at his prevailing market rate for the period from February 1 through February 19, 2003.<sup>3</sup>

Section 5504(b) of Title 5 provides the formula to be used “to convert an annual rate of basic pay to a basic hourly, daily, weekly, or biweekly rate:”

- (1) To derive an hourly rate, divide the annual rate by 2,087.
- (2) To derive a daily rate, multiply the hourly rate by the number of daily hours of service required.
- (3) To derive a weekly or biweekly rate, multiply the hourly rate by 40 or 80, as the case may be.

5 U.S.C. § 5504(b). “Rates are computed to the nearest cent, counting one-half and over as a whole cent.” Id. Applying this formula to the $285,000 maximum annual rate yields a maximum hourly rate of $136.56. As the compensation rate for members of the Senior Executive Service does not permit payment for overtime, the maximum daily rate is $1,092.48, or eight hours at $136.56 per hour. The maximum weekly rate is $5,462.40; the maximum biweekly rate is $10,924.80.

The Special Master-Monitor’s compensation request for the period from February 20, 2003, to February 28, 2003, is as follows:

<sup>3</sup> Because the new law restricts payments made rather than expenditures incurred, it may be better interpreted to require that the Special Master-Monitor be compensated at the new statutory rate for work performed during the entire month of February.

Date	Hours	Amount (at $250 per hour)
Thursday, February 20	11.00	$2750.00
Friday, February 21	7.25	$1812.50
Saturday, February 22	1.25	$312.50
Monday, February 24	9.25	$2312.50
Tuesday, February 25	11.75	$2937.50
Wednesday, February 26	11.00	$2500.00 <sup>4</sup>
Thursday, February 27	10.00	$2500.00
Friday, February 28	6.50	$1625.00
TOTAL	68.00	$16750.00

See Invoice of Joseph S. Kieffer, III (Feb. 28, 2003). Because there are nine days in the period February 20 through February 28, the maximum amount the statute permits Interior to pay the Special Master-Monitor for this period is $7,023.09, or 9/14ths of the biweekly maximum amount of $10,924.80.<sup>5</sup> The total amount that Interior has been ordered to pay for the period February 20, 2003, through February 28, 2003, is $16,750, or $9,726.91 more than the $7,023.09 that the Consolidated Appropriations Resolution seems to permit.

Because the Court's March 5, 2003 Order appears incompatible with the Consolidated Appropriations Resolution, Defendants respectfully request that the Court reconsider its March 5, 2003 Order in light of the intervening change in controlling law. Defendants request that the

<sup>4</sup> The Special Master-Monitor's invoice contains a line item billing 2.5 hours for "[l]egal research" on February 26, 2003, but seeking compensation of only $375 (or $150 per hour) for those 2.5 hours.

<sup>5</sup> Alternative methods of calculating the maximum compensation amount for this period include applying the maximum hourly, daily, or weekly rates.

Court amend its Order to require Interior to pay no more than $29,273.09<sup>6</sup> to the Special Master-Monitor for the work described in his Invoice #6, dated February 28, 2003.

<sup>6</sup> The Court's March 5, 2003 Order directs Interior to pay the Special Master-Monitor $39,000. If this amount is reduced by $9,726.91 in accordance with the statute, the amount due would be $29,273.09.
