

Federal Depository Library Conference & Fall Depository Library Council Meeting

October 20 – 22, 2008

DOUBLETREE HOTEL CRYSTAL CITY – 300 Army-Navy Drive, Arlington, VA 22202

MONDAY OCT. 20

8:00 Registration
8:00 – 8:30 Coffee with Council
8:30 – 9:00 New Attendees Session

- Kathy Brazee, Librarian, Education and Outreach, GPO, Facilitator
- Richard G. Davis, Director, Library Services & Content Management, Acting Superintendent of Documents, GPO
- Tim Byrne, Chair, Depository Library Council, and Technical Reports Specialist, Information International Associates, Inc., DOE/Office of Scientific and Technical Information

An overview of the U.S. Government Printing Office and Depository Library Council and a preview of the Council Meeting for new attendees.

8:30 - 9:15 Assessing User Preferences for Government Information

- Jennie Burroughs, Government Documents Librarian, University of Montana

Government information librarians have an abundance of ideas for potential programs, services, and initiatives. Gathering data on user research habits and preferences helps us determine which services will have the greatest impact on and benefit for our patrons. Local and trend data are also useful for creating powerful arguments for administrative support. This session will offer guidance on conducting local user surveys on a shoe-string budget. A summary of such a survey conducted in 2006 will describe some recent trends in government information use and demonstrate how such data may be used in library decision making.

8:30 - 9:15 Guidelines & Uses of Exchange Lists

- Claudene Sproles, Government Documents Reference Librarian, University of Louisville
- Sandee McAninch, Regional Depository Librarian, Univ. of Kentucky

Exchange lists are a necessary and important part of being a depository. The first part of the program will discuss the rationale and rules for creating the lists, and the effort your regional takes to check and process the material. The second part looks at a long-term project the University of Louisville undertook to strengthen their overall collection through the use of state and national exchange lists.

LOCATION

*Crystal Ballroom Foyer
Crystal Ballroom C
Washington Ballroom*

Wilson/Harrison

Jackson

Monday Oct. 20

- 9:00 – 10:00 New to FDLP GovDocs Land? New Documents Staff Open Forum Washington Ballroom
- Ann Marie Sanders, Head, Government Documents, Library of Michigan
 - Cass Hartnett, U.S. Documents Librarian, University of Washington Libraries
 - Kathy Brazee, Outreach Librarian, Education and Outreach, GPO
 - Ashley Dahlen, Outreach Librarian, Education and Outreach, GPO
- Experienced depository librarians and GPO staff will cover basic policies and procedures that should be in place in all Federal depository libraries and address your questions in this lively open forum session.*
- 9:15 – 10:00 Calling in Academic Reinforcements: The Continuing Need for Government Documents Expertise in an Online Environment Wilson/Harrison
- Chantana Charoenpanitkul, Associate Professor/GovDocs Librarian, Shippensburg University
 - Theresa McDevitt, Government Information/Reference Librarian, Indiana University of Pennsylvania
 - Awilda Reyes, Government Documents and Maps Librarian, West Chester University of Pennsylvania
- Academic librarians have long recognized that collaboration with faculty at all levels leads to successful outcomes. GovDocs Librarians from PASSHE universities reflect on how their expertise can reinforce the instruction and learning process.*
- 9:15 – 10:00 Collaboration Colorado Style: Needs and Offers on the Fast Track Jackson
- Christopher C. Brown, Government Documents Librarian, University of Denver
 - Jennie Gerke, Government Publications Library, University of Colorado at Boulder
- Colorado depository libraries share deep and rich collections. But with two regionals and strong selectives, library directors have been calling on depositories to reduce collection redundancy and impact on building space. This presentation defines the problem with specifics in linear feet, discusses the collection and commitment criteria agreed upon within the 10 libraries, and demonstrates the collaborative wiki used to coordinate needs and offers.*
- 10:00 Break
- 10:30– 12:00 Plenary Session: Council/GPO Welcome and Kick-Off Crystal Ballroom A-B
- Tim Byrne, Chair, Depository Library Council
 - Robert C. Tapella, Public Printer, GPO
 - Richard G. Davis, Director, Library Services & Content Management, Acting Superintendent of Documents, GPO
- Council meeting and Conference kick-off, with welcome from Council and GPO, highlights of developments at GPO and LSCM, and announcement of the 2008 Federal Depository Library of the Year.*
- 12:00 Lunch Break On Your Own (Regionals/Selectives)

Monday Oct. 20

- 1:30 - 3:00 Plenary Session: Future of the FDLP Crystal Ballroom A-B
- Cynthia Etkin, Senior Program Planning Specialist, Office of the Superintendent of Documents, GPO
 - Denise Stephens, Vice Provost for Information Services/CIO, University of Kansas
 - Gwen Sinclair, Head of Government Documents & Maps, University of Hawaii at Manoa Library
 - Sally Holterhoff, Associate Professor and Government Information/Reference Librarian, Valparaiso University Law Library
- Discussion of the future of the FDLP and how we get there through strategic planning. A continuation of the session from last Spring's Council meeting.*
- 3:00 Break – Honoring 2008 Federal Depository Library of the Year Crystal Ballroom C
- 3:30 – 5:00 Council Session: FDLP Desktop: Method Behind the Madness Crystal Ballroom A-B
- Karen Sieger, Manager, Web Content Management, GPO
- Learn how the FDLP Desktop is evolving in tandem with Web technologies and standards. This session will demonstrate lessons learned from the beta Desktop and unveil 1) a final redesign of the FDLP Desktop and 2) the beta release of the FDLP Community site. The FDLP Desktop discussion will focus on the dissemination of Program-related content, while the FDLP Community discussion will focus on dismantling geographic boundaries through the use of social networking tools. Come prepared with questions, suggestions and feedback.*
- 3:30-5:00 Cooking with Content - Creating Successful OPAL Presentations Washington Ballroom
- Diane Hutchins, Program Manager - Preservation and Access Services, Washington State Library
- What does it take to make an OPAL presentation a success? Find out at "Cooking with Content – Creating Successful OPAL Presentations," brought to you by Diane Hutchins, the author of the "Conservation Kitchen" series. Diane will show you, in simple, easy steps, how to combine PowerPoint, a digital camera, and a sense of humor, to make your online presentations visually appealing and intellectually stimulating. With a little passion and imagination, you, too, can be "Cooking with Content!"*
- 3:30-4:15 Assessing Integrated Federal Information Collections Wilson/Harrison
- Bethany Latham, Electronic Resources/Documents Librarian, Jacksonville State University
 - John-Bauer Graham, Dean of Library Services, Jacksonville State University
- Federal Depository Libraries present unique challenges for collection development. It is vital to assess library collections so that the information gained can be used in future planning processes to assure appropriate allocation of resources and selection of materials that meet user needs. Federal information collections differ from conventional subject collections in a variety of ways, and these differences produce numerous challenges when attempting to assess Federal depository collections. This presentation will discuss, step-by-step, how to assess an integrated Federal depository collection, a topic that has sparse coverage in the literature of Federal information librarianship.*

Monday Oct. 20

3:30-4:15	Gone Today, Here Tomorrow: Archiving and Preserving Born Digital Government Documents	Jackson
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• James Jacobs, International Documents Librarian, Stanford University• Molly Bragg, Partner Specialist, Web Archiving Services, Internet Archive In 2007, Stanford University Library, which has been a federal depository library since 1895, began collecting born digital documents using Archive-It, the web archiving service from Internet Archive (www.archive-it.org). In this presentation James Jacobs will discuss his group's objectives and procedures for selecting and archiving digital content and share examples of the unique content preserved. Molly Bragg will present an overview of web archiving projects and tools used and developed by Internet Archive. These tools are used by libraries around the world to preserve government documents and other born digital content.
4:15-5:00	Getting Our Docs in a Row: The CONSORT Colleges Consolidate Four Collections	Wilson/Harrison
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Ellen Conrad, Cataloging Supervisor, Denison University• Mark Gooch, The College of Wooster• Mary Prophet, Denison University• Andrea Peakovic, Kenyon College Library The CONSORT Colleges of Ohio are working to consolidate four depository collections into one. Each library will hold a unique portion of the collection, divided by SuDocs number. This panel presentation covers what is being done; why; what is included; details and procedures. The discussion includes the initial steps, planning stages, and a preliminary project report. The panel will also share their experiences, successes and problems, and answer questions.
4:15-5:00	What Was Lost, Now Is Found: Using Digital Repositories to Rebuild What Hurricane Rita Destroyed	Jackson
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Rebecca Blakeley, Government Documents Librarian & Department Head, McNeese State University This presentation focuses on the discovery, collection, and dissemination of rare or historical government documents in a digital format using free online repositories such as Internet Archive, Google Books, Project Gutenberg, or the Registry of U.S. Government Publication Digitization Projects in the context of replenishing a depository affected by a natural disaster. Negative and positive aspects of these tools will be examined, as well as a discussion on how depositories can promote and disseminate digital government documents to patrons and the community at large.
5:00	Adjourn
5:00 – 6:00	Council Working Session	Crystal Ballroom A-B
	Attendees are welcome to observe council discussions
6:00	Adjourn
6:30-9:00	GODORT	Wilson/Harrison

TUESDAY OCT. 21

8:00	Coffee with Council	Crystal Ballroom C
8:30	Council Session: FDsys – A Technical Discussion	Crystal Ballroom A-B
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Deng Wu, Senior Systems Architect, GPO• Johnny Gee, FDsys Repository Architect, GPO• Paul Nelson, FDsys Search and Data Architect, GPO GPO's Federal Digital System (FDsys) is a content management system that will enable GPO to manage Government information in digital form. FDsys will provide access to authenticated Government information and preserve that information for the future. GPO will hold two sessions on FDsys – the first session will cover the technical aspects of the system, presented by the FDsys system architects. The presentation will include an end-to-end view of the system, concentrating on content management and access.
8:30	GPO Track: Federal Depository Library Handbook	Washington Ballroom
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Janet Scheitle, Manager, Office of Library Program Planning This session focuses on the highlights of the Federal Depository Library Handbook by emphasizing some of the content found in the Handbook. It also explains that the Handbook supersedes the Federal Depository Library Manual and the Instructions to Depository Libraries. The method for updating and maintaining the handbook will also be presented. This is an excellent session for new depository librarians and for those seeking a refresher or an understanding of the new Handbook.
8:30	Documents SWAT Team: A Model for Intensive Downsizing	Wilson/Harrison
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• McKinley Sielaff, Government Documents Librarian, Colorado College• Christopher C. Brown, Government Documents Librarian, University of Denver• Jennie Gerke, Government Publications Library, University of Colorado at Boulder• Margaret M. (Peggy) Jobe, Associate Prof. and Faculty Director, Government Publications Library, University of Colorado at Boulder A selective depository needed to downsize its collection very quickly to take advantage of an unexpected windfall for construction. A SWAT (Special Weeding and Tactics) Team composed of five librarians, three from the regional, and two from selective depositories, spent a week going through the materials making decisions about disposition of the collection. Four members of the team will discuss how they approached the project, lessons learned, and what they might do differently if a similar "opportunity" presents itself in the future.
8:30	Agency Update: U.S. Copyright Office	Jackson
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• David Fernandez-Barral, Lead Information Specialist, U.S. Copyright Office Learn about the responsibilities of the U.S. Copyright Office, copyright basics, including registration, and what copyright resources are available.
10:00	Break

Tuesday Oct. 21

- 10:30 Council Session: Introduction to FDsys Crystal Ballroom A-B
- Selene Dalecky, FDsys Program Manager, GPO
 - Blake Edwards, Program Planner, GPO
 - Lisa LaPlant, Lead Program Planner, GPO
- GPO's Federal Digital System (FDsys) is a content management system that will enable GPO to manage Government information in digital form. FDsys will provide access to authenticated Government information and preserve that information for the future. GPO will hold two sessions on FDsys – the second session will consist of an overview of the system, updates on development, and a demonstration of simple and advanced searches in the system.*
- 10:30 GPO Track: Library Technical Information Services Update Washington Ballroom
- Laurie Beyer Hall, Director, Library Technical Information Services, LSCM, GPO
- Brief updates on activities, current projects and initiatives of Library Technical Information Services (LTIS), including pre-1976 Shelflist conversion, WebTech Notes, automated metadata extraction, and CGP enhancements.*
- 10:30 What FDLP Librarians Should Know About the National Library of Medicine's Products and Services Wilson/Harrison
- Steve Beleu, Regional Depository Librarian, Oklahoma Department of Libraries
 - Chella Vaidyanathan, GIS, Government Information, and History Librarian, University of Miami
 - Barbara Miller, Professor and Documents Librarian, Documents Department, Oklahoma State University
 - Jo Anne Beezley, Government Documents Librarian, Pittsburg State University
 - Renee Bougard, Outreach Librarian, National Library of Medicine
- There are many databases available from the National Library of Medicine (NLM) that FDLP librarians can use in their libraries to answer basic health and simple medical questions. We will demonstrate these databases to you, including MedlinePlus, DailyMed, Dietary Supplements Labels Database, and others, including PubMed Central's recent initiative that provides free access to 80,000+ medical articles per year. You will also learn about other products and services of the National Library of Medicine, and how beneficial it is to become a member of the National Network of Libraries of Medicine.*
- 10:30 Agency Update: How GSA's Office of Citizen Services Helps You Inform the Public Jackson
- Teresa Navarro Nasif, Director, Federal Citizen Information Center, Office of Citizen Services, GSA
- The Office of Citizen Services answers questions from the public about the government and about everyday consumer issues. It gives answers by web, telephone, email, print publications, and also by using cutting-edge social media such as web chat and blogs. Home to such well-known information sources as USA.gov, the official portal of the U.S. government, and the famous publication distribution facility in Pueblo, Colorado, OCS had 211 million citizen interactions in FY 2008. Come learn how OCS information can help you serve the public. We'll present the most popular topics that Americans ask* us about, and show the latest TV public service ads for USA.gov.

Agenda – 2008 Federal Depository Library Conference and Fall Depository Library Council Meeting

Tuesday Oct. 21

- 11:15 GPO Track: askGPO Washington Ballroom
- Cynthia Etkin, Senior Program Planning Specialist, Office of the Superintendent of Documents, GPO
askGPO was recently upgraded to a new version of the help service application. Come learn the effects of the upgrade and how to use the new version more effectively. The new version also offers an opportunity for interface changes, for which GPO would like your thoughts.
- 11:15 Agency Update: U.S. Geological Survey Jackson
- Richard Huffine, National Library Coordinator, U.S. Geological Survey
This session will provide an overview of the information products of the USGS.
- 12:00 Lunch Break On Your Own – (By Library Type)
- 1:30 Council Session: Refocusing Collections & Services – Working in an Electronic Setting Crystal Ballroom A-B
- Ashley Dahlen, Outreach Librarian, Education and Outreach, GPO
 - Katrina Stierholz, Director of Library and Research Information, Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, Council Liaison
Various logistical, financial and staffing challenges face libraries that are refocusing their collections and services to provide more electronic coverage. GPO has been providing guidance to libraries undergoing the transition, and at this session will seek insights from Council and the audience regarding the diverse situations libraries are operating in. A variety of authentic scenarios will be presented for everyone's input.
- 1:30 LSCM Operational Open Forum Washington Ballroom
- Questions and discussion with GPO staff.*
- 1:30 Farmers, Soldiers & Sailors in Government Publications for Family History & Historical Research Wilson/Harrison
- Connie Reik, Coordinator of Government Publications, Tufts University
An illustrated introduction or refresher of some of the great historical publications that family historians/genealogists and historians can use in their research. Genealogists are not looking just for names and dates anymore, they are looking for historical background and detailed information about how their ancestors lived. Along with historians they can be the greatest users of our historical collections of both the 19th and 20th centuries. Academic document librarians need to invite family historians into their libraries to use their material, as genealogists tend to shy away from the "ivory towers." A bibliography with lots of examples they can use will be provided.
- 1:30 – 2:15 Agency Update: Bureau of Labor Statistics Jackson
- Tracy Jack, Chief, Division of Information Services, Office of Publications and Special Studies, Bureau of Labor Statistics
In July 2008, the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) launched an improved website, "redesigned with you in mind." Join us and learn how to navigate the new, dynamic site while encountering the upgraded search engine, calendar of news releases and various audio files. In addition to tailoring resource pages by visitor category, BLS has added tutorials available in multiple media formats to help those users more easily locate data. Finally, explore the Guide to Geographic Data, and discover how to determine what types of data are available from BLS at every level of geographic detail, from international to local areas.

Tuesday Oct. 21

- 2:15 – 3:00 Agency Update: DOE/OSTI Products, Federated Search Engines, Format Options and More Jackson
- Walter L. Warnick, Director, Office of Scientific and Technical Information, Department of Energy
- The Department of Energy's (DOE's) Office of Scientific and Technical Information (OSTI) produces a number of databases and federated search engines in support of the DOE mission. Those unfamiliar with OSTI's products will be introduced to the Science Accelerator, a federated search engine able to simultaneously search ten OSTI products with a single search query. Individual products covered will include the Information Bridge, Energy Citations Database, E-print Network, EnergyFiles, and DOEpatents. Instructions will be given on how to obtain MARC records for the full-text titles in the Information Bridge. OSTI's contributions to Science.gov and WorldWideScience.org will also be covered.*
- 3:00 Break
- 3:30 Council Session: Juggling the Issues: Balancing Access, Resources, and Security Concerns in FDLs Crystal Ballroom A-B
- Robin Haun-Mohamed, Director, Collection Management and Preservation, GPO
 - David Cismowski, Regional Depository Librarian, California State Library
 - Suzanne Sears, Head, Government Documents Department, University of North Texas Willis Library
- Join council in a discussion of some of the most important issues depository libraries have to deal with, especially in light of the libraries' commitment to provide public access while at the same time providing sufficient security and resources to meet the needs of both their primary users and the public.*
- 3:30 GPO Track: Marketing Your Depository is "Easy as FDL" Washington Ballroom
- Kelly Seifert, Lead Planning Specialist, LSCM
- Learn about new tools available from GPO designed to help depositories market their invaluable services. Marketing tips and strategies will be discussed, and attendees will sample new promotional items.*
- 3:30 2008 dot Gov Harvest – Preserving Access Wilson/Harrison
- Cathy Nelson Hartman, Assistant Dean of Libraries, University of North Texas
 - Mark Phillips, Head, Digital Projects Unit, University of North Texas
- The University of North Texas, in collaboration with the Library of Congress, the California Digital Library, the Government Printing Office, and the Internet Archive, will capture the "dot gov" domain in an end of presidential term harvest. This presentation will demonstrate the URL Nomination Tool developed at UNT to allow documents librarians to nominate URLs for the harvest, and will discuss the issues and problems faced by the group of partners with capturing the Web sites and making the resulting information available for no-fee public access.*

Tuesday Oct. 21

3:30	Agency Update: The National Agricultural Library – Advancing Access to Global Information for Agriculture	Jackson
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Alvetta Pindell, Head, Information Research Services Branch• Susan Wilzer, Digi-Products Information Specialist• Yvette A. Haire, Chair, Web Management Team & Coordinator, Food Safety Information Center The National Agricultural Library (NAL) is the world's largest and most accessible research library focused on agriculture. It specializes in the collection of information on agriculture and subjects supporting agricultural research. Many of the Library's services and information resources are available to customers worldwide via the NAL Web site (http://www.nal.usda.gov). Staff from NAL will share information on NAL operations and new projects, how to use one of their primary products, AGRICOLA, and give an overview of the digital/web presence.
5:00	Adjourn
5:00 – 6:00	Council Working Session	Crystal Ballroom A-B
	Attendees are welcome to observe council discussions.
7:00-9:00	Regional Meeting	Washington Ballroom

WEDNESDAY OCT. 22

- 8:00 Coffee with Council Crystal Ballroom C
- 8:30 Council Plenary Session: FDLP Guidelines Crystal Ballroom A-B
- John Shuler, Associate Professor, Bibliographer for Government Information and Urban Planning, University of Illinois at Chicago
 - Victoria Trotta, Associate Dean for Information Technology and Ross-Blakley Law Library, Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, Arizona State University
- Discussion of the depository library guidelines that focuses on user needs and services within an environment of distributed digital collections.*
- 8:30 Accidental Documents Librarians: Tips and Tricks for Interim/Temporary Documents Librarians Washington Ballroom
- Kathryn Yelinek, Coordinator of Government Documents, Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania
 - Marilou Hinchcliff, Coordinator of Cataloging, Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania
 - Scott Anderson, Systems Librarian, Millersville University of Pennsylvania
 - Mark Scott, Coordinator of Government Publications, University of Pittsburgh
 - Mary Freilich, Interim Head Government Publications, University of Memphis
 - Edward Kownslar, Associate Director, Reference and Collection Development Services, Texas A&M University - Corpus Christi
- Learning about their own collections and the depository program are difficult for all new government documents librarians, but those stepping into interim/temporary positions face additional challenges. Whether they are taking on their documents tasks in addition to other responsibilities or hired specifically to shepherd the collection through a time of transition, interim/temporary documents librarians must provide all depository services while preparing the collection for its next coordinator. Data from a recent survey of interim/temporary documents librarians will be shared, and the panel will discuss ways to help make the transition a smooth one.*

Wednesday Oct. 22

- 8:30 Teaching Non-depository Librarians about Government Info: Tips & Techniques from the Gi21 Project Wilson/Harrison
- Kirsten Clark, Government Information and Regional Depository Librarian, University of Minnesota
 - Chris Brown, Government Documents Librarian, University of Denver
 - Janet Fisher, Director, Law and Research Library Division, Arizona State Library, Archives & Public Records
 - Jennie Gerke, Government Publications Library, University of Colorado at Boulder
 - McKinley Sielaff, Government Documents Librarian, Colorado College
 - Brad Vogus, Head, Government Documents/Map Library, Arizona State University
- With nearly 80 training sessions completed over two years, the Government Information in the 21st Century continuing education has trained over 700 public, academic, and school librarians in the use of online government resources. These sessions covered the gamut from conference pre-conferences to local library presentations and from computer labs to lecture settings. Come learn from the trainers what worked, what didn't, and what they wished they had known beforehand. Find out how you can use the materials created for the grant at your own institution.*
- 8:30 Celebrating 'Outside the Box': Unique, Clever Ideas for Honoring and Promoting Depository Anniversaries Jackson
- Christine Hann, Government Information Coordinator, Kalamazoo Public Library
 - Karen Cook, Assistant Professor & Government Documents Librarian, University of Louisiana Monroe
 - Andrea Craley, MS/ILS, Library Technician - Specialist IV, Government Documents, Harford Community College Library
 - Barbara Rehkop, Subject Librarian, Anthropology, Applied Statistics, Government Information, and Political Science, Washington University in St. Louis
 - Jian Anna Xiong, Government Information Librarian/Assistant Professor, Head of Government Information Unit, Southern Illinois University Carbondale
- What do temporary FDLP tattoos, Constitution Day READ posters and student essay contests have in common? Learn what several depositories did to highlight their anniversaries, beyond offering the traditional reception with cake and speakers. Get inspired to create fun, fascinating events to draw in your audience, as you celebrate your landmark depository anniversary! This panel presentation will be followed by a question/answer and information-sharing session with the audience.*
- 9:15 MIPT: Countering Terror through Knowledge Washington Ballroom
- Michele McCullar, Librarian, Memorial Institute for the Prevention of Terrorism
- As a non-profit organization funded by the Department of Homeland Security, MIPT is a one stop shop for resources on terrorism, counterterrorism, intelligence and homeland security issues. This presentation is an introduction to the institute and its extensive collection of electronic documents and other materials.*

Wednesday Oct. 22

- 9:15 Bilingual English-Spanish Training Module for Federal Documents Wilson/Harrison
- Jane Canfield, Federal Documents Coordinator, Pontificia Universidad Catolica
- This is a power-point presentation designed for basic training in the use of government documents. It includes information on what federal depositories do, how we do it, basic government documents and online access to government information. The information should be useful for any depository serving a diverse and non-English speaking population.*
- 10:00 Break
- 10:30 Council Session: Authentication on GPO Access: A Closer Look Crystal Ballroom A-B
- Lisa Russell, Content Manager, Planning & Development, Content Management, U.S. GPO
 - Ted Priebe, Director, Library Planning and Development
- This session will provide an overview of GPO's current Authentication process, discuss assumptions, and pose questions on the path forward.*
- 10:30-11:15 Encouraging an Informed Citizenry, II: More Information on Locating and Using CRS Reports Washington Ballroom
- Starr Hoffman, Librarian for Digital Collections, University of North Texas Libraries
- This program presents an overview of the historical difficulty of obtaining Congressional Research Service (CRS) reports and their significant value to the public. It focuses on current efforts being made to digitize, collect, and provide permanent public access to the reports, and on how documents librarians can find and promote use of these valuable resources. The program ends with information on how to encourage your Congressperson to provide reports to their depositories. This is a follow-up to a presentation made at the Fall 2007 depository conference, and shows new navigational features for online CRS collections.*
- 10:30 Federal Regulatory Information and Where to Find It Wilson/Harrison
- Cass Hartnett, U.S. Documents Librarian, University of Washington Libraries
 - Eileen G. Deegan, 2008 Chair, Government Information Division, Special Libraries Association; , Program Analyst, Office of Information Resources, International Information Programs, U.S. Dept. of State
 - David M. Pritzker, Senior Attorney, GSA, Regulatory Information Service Center
- Intimidated by the thought of regulations? Come enjoy a lively introduction to the RegInfo.gov website and other tools for finding regulatory materials. David Pritzker, co-developer of the "Reg Map," will give a brief overview of the Federal regulatory process and public sources of regulatory information. Participants will leave with a clearer sense of regulations in the era of e-rulemaking. Note: this session endorsed by the leadership of ALA GODORT and SLA DGI.*

Wednesday Oct. 22

- 10:30 Documents Data Miner 2: Looking to the Future Jackson
- Nan Myers, Director for Public Services, Wichita State University
This presentation will 1) demonstrate the best features of DDM2; 2) discuss how to use DDM2 in the Annual Selection Update Cycle and for collection management; 3) detail new development goals for DDM2; and 4) focus on statistics, such as shipping list data and the story it tells. Discussion with attendees will cover related practical topics, such as: "what does your collection profile mean if everything is online?" or "what field are the OCLC numbers in now?"
- 11:15 Database "Jewels" from Monthly Electronic Titles Washington Ballroom
- Jo Anne Beezley, Government Documents Librarian, Pittsburg State University
 - Maureen Morgan, Serials and Documents Librarian, Berry College
This session will highlight some of the many interesting databases found in New Electronic Titles. Some examples are OSHA/EPA Occupational Chemical database, MedlinePlus and USDA Plants.
- 11:15 Teaching and Publicizing Government Information via LibGuides & Blackboard: How Can We “Jazz it Up?” Wilson/Harrison
- Chella Vaidyanathan, GIS, Government Information, and History Librarian, University of Miami
Various options such as Flickr, blogs, wikis, LibGuides, Blackboard, YouTube, etc. are available to teach and publicize government information services. In this presentation, I will demonstrate how to teach and promote government information via LibGuides and Blackboard systems. It is easy to create user-friendly course and subject guides using these two systems. With the availability of web 2.0 technologies, we can integrate video clips, RSS Feeds, and images to make our guides interesting. Now is the time to “jazz it up” and reveal the hidden treasures to our user community.
- 11:15 Take Me Out to the Ball Game: Using Government Information to Get Inside Baseball Jackson
- Catherine Jervey, Director, Market Planning, Legislative, Public Policy, and Historical Services, LexisNexis Academic & Library Solutions
This year marks the 100th anniversary of the song "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," the unofficial anthem of baseball fans. During those hundred years, and even before, information on many aspects of the American pastime appeared in government information sources. Exploring a variety of resources, this session will present information that provides insight into the evolution of the sport, an understanding of key issues surrounding it, and a look at some players who have participated in it and places where it's been played. It will underscore the value of federal information resources for research on this subject.
- 12:00 Lunch Break On Your Own
- 1:30 Council Session: Recommendations Crystal Ballroom A-B
- 3:00 Adjourn

Agenda – 2008 Federal Depository Library Conference and Fall Depository Library Council Meeting

	CRYSTAL BALLROOM A-B	WASHINGTON BALLROOM	WILSON/HARRISON	JACKSON
Monday October 15
8:30		New Attendees Orientation	Assessing User Preferences	Guidelines/Uses of Exchange Lists
9:15		(9:00) New to FDLP GovDocs	Calling Academic Reinforcements	Collaboration Colorado Style
10:30	GPO/Council Welcome & Kick-off
1:30	Future of the FDLP
3:30	FDLP Desktop	Cooking with Content -OPAL	Assessing Integrated Collections	Gone Today, Here Tomorrow
4:15			Getting Our Docs in a Row	What Was Lost, Now Is Found
5:00	Council Working Session
6:30			GODORT
Tuesday October 16
8:30	FDsys	Federal Depository Handbook	Documents SWAT Team	U.S. Copyright Office
10:30	FDsys	LTIS Update	National Library of Medicine	GSA – Federal Citizen Info Ctr.
11:15		askGPO		USGS
1:30	Refocusing Collections & Services	LSCM Operational Open Forum	Farmers, Soldiers, Sailors	U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
2:15				DOE/OSTI
3:30	Juggling the Issues	Marketing Your Depository	2008 dot gov Harvest - Access	National Agricultural Library
5:00	Council Working Session
7:00		Regional Meeting
Wednesday October 17
8:30	FDLP Guidelines	Accidental Documents Librarians	Teaching Non-Depos. Librarians	Celebrating Outside the Box
9:15		MIPT: Countering Terror	Bilingual Eng./Spanish Training
10:30	Authentication	Encouraging Informed Citizenry	Federal Regulatory Information	Documents Data Miner 2
11:15		Database Jewels/Electronic Titles	Teaching/Publicizing Govt. Info.	Take Me Out to the Ball Game
1:30	Council Recommendations
3:00	Adjourn

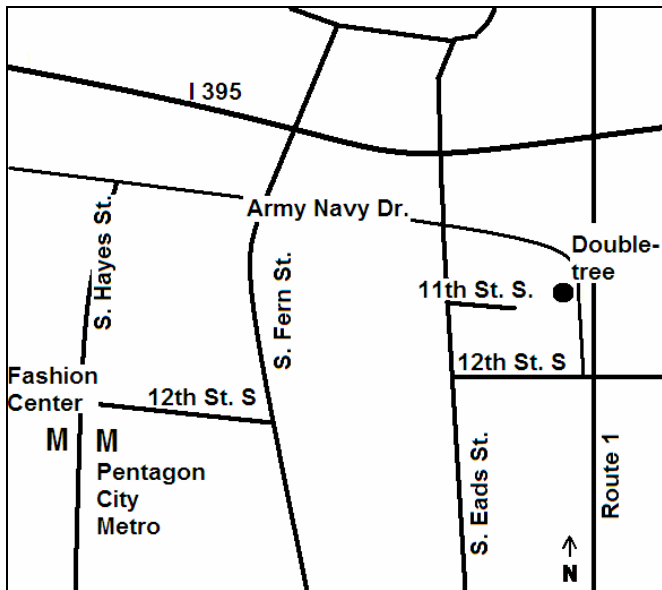

Getting to the Doubletree Hotel

By Shuttle Bus from Pentagon City Metro

The Doubletree has a free shuttle bus that runs every half hour on the half hour. When exiting the Metro, turn left at the end of the hallway and take the escalator to street level. The Doubletree bus will pick up passengers near the Metro bus stop on the west side of S. Hayes St., next to the Fashion Center at Pentagon City.

Walking

From the Pentagon City Metro exit, head north on S Hayes St. toward Army Navy Dr. Turn right at Army Navy Dr. and follow it to the Doubletree Hotel on the right. Distance is approximately a half mile, about a 10 minute walk.

Driving, Parking

See the hotel website:

http://doubletree1.hilton.com/en_US/dt/hotel/DCAAEDT-Doubletree-Hotel-Crystal-City-National-Airport-Virginia/index.do

Doubletree Hotel Meeting Rooms

