OPERATIONS OF THE IEEE PUBLICATION SERVICES AND PRODUCTS BOARD

INTRODUCTION

IEEE Incorporation

IEEE is incorporated under the New York State Not-for-Profit Corporation Law. The text of that law changes from time to time; the IEEE Executive Director should be consulted prior to taking any action that relates to that law.

Governance

IEEE Bylaw I-300. Paragraphs 1 and 2

Governance. The policies, procedures, rules and regulations by which the IEEE and its Organizational Units are governed are embodied in the following documents. The IEEE Certificate of Incorporation legally establishes the IEEE. The IEEE Constitution, which can be approved and amended only by the voting members of the IEEE, contains IEEE's fundamental objectives and organization. Implementation of the constitutional provisions by specific Organizational Units and their policies is contained in these IEEE Bylaws, which are approved and amended by the IEEE Board of Directors. The IEEE Policies contains more detailed statements of specific policies, objectives and procedures which may be approved only by the IEEE Board of Directors.

The precedence of these documents should be remembered by all those engaged in IEEE management duties. The IEEE Bylaws shall not be in conflict with the New York Not-For-Profit Corporation Law, the IEEE Certificate of Incorporation, or the IEEE Constitution. The IEEE Policies must conform to the provisions of all these documents. Accordingly, additional documents governing Organizational Units such as operations manuals, policy statements and Organizational Unit bylaws shall conform to and not conflict with the provisions of the IEEE governing documents cited above.

The IEEE Bylaws and Policies applying to the Publication Services and Products are proposed and amended by the IEEE Publication Services and Products Board (PSPB), with final approval by the IEEE Board of Directors.

PSPB Operations Manual

IEEE Bylaw I-304.9

Major Board Operating Procedures. Each Major Board shall adopt operating procedures that are responsive to the needs of such Major Board for the purpose of governing its operations and administration. These operating procedures shall be maintained in an Operations Manual and shall conform to and not conflict with the IEEE governance documents described in Bylaw I-300. The Operations Manuals or any amendments to its procedures shall not be adopted until such Operations Manuals or any amendments have been submitted to and reviewed by the IEEE Governance Committee. The minimum required information to be contained in the Major Board Operations Manuals shall be specified in the IEEE Policies.

The PSPB Operations Manual follows the mandate of IEEE Bylaw I-304.9 and is arranged in eight sections, each covering a different facet of PSPB. The Manual contains only those items that directly affect the operations of PSPB and the decisions of PSPB on matters delegated to it by the IEEE Board of Directors, including guidelines for publication services and products of IEEE and its Organizational Units. These guidelines amplify the requirements of IEEE Policies.

Approval of and Changes to the PSPB Operations Manual

The first edition of this document was authored by a PSPB focus group chaired by Pete Morley with Ken Dawson, Murray Eden, and Josephine Germano as members and approved by PSPB on 16 November 2001. The version approved by PSPB on 23 June 2006 and by the IEEE Board of Directors on 11 August 2006 represented a major revision from previous editions. This current version includes approved amendments through 20 June 2008. The PSPB document working group responsible for the editorial changes was chaired by Pete Morley with Ken Dawson, John Baillieul, Josephine Germano, Bill Hagen, and Ken Moore as members. The PSPB Operations Manual is intended to be continuously updated. Modifications to this document shall be approved by PSPB in accordance with Section 5.2.2 of this manual and IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

2.6 Volunteer Responsibilities and the IEEE Code of Ethics

IEEE Policy 7.8 – IEEE Code of Ethics

We, the members of the IEEE, in recognition of the importance of our technologies in affecting the quality of life throughout the world, and in accepting a personal obligation to our profession, its members and the communities we serve, do hereby commit ourselves to the highest ethical and professional conduct and agree:

- 1. to accept responsibility in making decisions consistent with the safety, health, and welfare of the public, and to disclose promptly factors that might endanger the public or the environment;
- 2. to avoid real or perceived conflicts of interest whenever possible, and to disclose them to affected parties when they do exist;
- 3. to be honest and realistic in stating claims or estimates based on available data;
- 4. to reject bribery in all its forms;
- 5. to improve the understanding of technology; its appropriate application, and potential consequences;
- 6. to maintain and improve our technical competence and to undertake technological tasks for others only if qualified by training or experience, or after full disclosure of pertinent limitations;
- 7. to seek, accept, and offer honest criticism of technical work, to acknowledge and correct errors, and to credit properly the contributions of others;
- 8. to treat fairly all persons regardless of such factors as race, religion, gender, disability, age, or national origin;
- 9. to avoid injuring others, their property, reputation, or employment by false or malicious action;
- 10. to assist colleagues and co-workers in their professional development and to support them in following this code of ethics.

Volunteers carry out a very wide range of duties and responsibilities on behalf of IEEE. In special cases formal orientation is provided for new Volunteers, but all Volunteers, particularly leaders, are required to acquaint themselves appropriately with IEEE Policies, Procedures, and Practices. For example, newly elected members of the Board of Directors receive specific guidance on their fiduciary responsibilities. Each year, in the membership renewal pack, all members affirm their intention to adhere to the IEEE Code of Ethics. This Code also applies to nonmembers who are serving the IEEE in some capacity. The Code comprises 10 articles that aim to address in concise terms ethical issues encountered in professional engineering activity. Beyond this, there is also an obligation for Volunteers to abide by the spirit of the Code, especially in respect of Articles 2, 7, 8, 9, and 10. One aspect of adherence to the Code is to treat others with respect. For instance, editors and reviewers should avoid the use of ad hominem and deprecating comments in their review and judgment statements for communications with authors.

2.6.1 Conduct as an Officer or a Member of an IEEE Board or Committee

Volunteers are expected to contribute to IEEE activities in a co-operative and constructive manner, to ensure that the best possible use is made of the time available, given that Volunteers are usually able to offer IEEE their time and effort very sparingly. Meetings should be strongly focused on the business laid out in the agreed agenda, and not be impeded by irrelevant interventions. The Chair has the prime responsibility for the conduct of the meeting, but the co-operation of all members present are also important factors in ensuring that the business is conducted in a fair and harmonious manner.

2.6.2 Conflict of Interest

IEEE Policy 9.9 – Conflict Of Interest

- A. Definition. A conflict of interest is defined as any situation in which a member’s decisions or votes could substantially and directly affect the member’s professional, personal, financial or business interests.
- B. Responsibility. It is the responsibility of all IEEE members in any elected, appointed, or other decision-making position of an IEEE activity to consider each item of business where they have a vote or decision-making authority to determine if a real or perceived conflict of interest may exist. Any such recognized conflict shall be disclosed in writing immediately to the person in charge of the activity (or the next higher authority if the member is in charge) who, after consultation with other individuals in the activity, shall advise the member of the proper course of action and cause a notation of the action to be entered in the activity’s record. A copy of the disclosure statement shall be reviewed by the Audit Committee.
- C. Conflict of Interest Disclosure Statement. IEEE members or non-members in an elected or appointed position and volunteers, editors and others involved in making procurement decisions or other activities that could represent a potential conflict of interest as determined by the IEEE Audit Committee shall submit annually a completed Conflict of Interest Disclosure Statement to the Director, Operations Audit, at the Operations Center. Forms shall be on file within 30 days of assuming his/her position or, in the case of elected positions, within 30 days of acceptance of the nomination, or as otherwise determined by the IEEE Audit Committee. The IEEE staff shall notify every individual requested to file a Conflict of Interest of the applicable deadline. Failure to submit a form shall result in automatic removal from service on the committee, board or election slate, as the case may be. It shall be the responsibility of the Board or Committee Chair or, in the case of nominations, the Chair of the appropriate nominations committee to inform such individuals that they have been removed from service or an election slate, as the case may be, for failure to complete the form and to notify the IEEE Audit Committee of such action. The IEEE Audit Committee shall notify the IEEE Board of Directors of all individuals removed from service or an election slate, as the case may be, at the next regularly scheduled Board meeting. Staff who have authority to make or incur financial expenditures or who have other responsibilities that could represent a potential conflict of interest as determined by the Audit Committee shall submit a Conflict of Interest Disclosure Statement by 1 February of each year.

A common misunderstanding about “conflict of interest” is that it only applies where an individual attempts to obtain some monetary advantage by virtue of being an office holder. A broader view of the concept applies to any situation where some kind of advantage or privilege is being sought through the exercise of authority granted to an office holder. The guiding principle for Volunteers is to follow IEEE Policies, Procedures, and Practices, and be seen by their peers to be acting ethically in their decision-making.

2.6.3 Acceptance of Position Obligations

Election or appointment of a Volunteer to a position, such as a Board or Committee chair or member, Editor, Reviewer, etc., implies that there is an expectation that that person will be willing and able to undertake assigned duties and, if appropriate, to attend the meetings of the Board or Committee. Accepting a Board or Committee position also requires that the Volunteer is adequately prepared for the meetings, that agenda papers are read beforehand, and any items from the previous meeting requiring action are properly followed up. If a person is unable to perform these or other assigned duties, the expected result is a resignation from the position.

2.6.4 Transfer of Position

An orderly and regular turnover of Board or Committee membership, including that of the officers or editors, should be a routine feature of IEEE volunteerism. It ensures a healthy flow of new blood and invigorates all IEEE Organizational Units. Sections of this document define the terms of office for PSPB

Volunteers and the procedures for their election or appointment. It is the responsibility of the PSPB Chair and the PSPB Operating Committee to ensure that these practices are followed. It is a duty of all PSPB Officers, PSPB Committee Chairs, and IEEE editors, to transfer all documents and other resources necessary for their successors to carry out their work effectively.

2.6.5 Legal Aspects

In the event that a legal issue arises, close adherence to the IEEE Code of Ethics, as well as IEEE Bylaws, Policies, Procedures, and Practices, provides a measure of protection to both IEEE and to individual members.

The IEEE Code of Ethics cannot, and does not, attempt to define in a comprehensive manner how IEEE Volunteers should conduct themselves in their service on behalf of the IEEE, but it provides a sound basis on which high ethical standards can be established. to the PSPB's appointments and elections.

5.5.2 Committee Consultation with IEEE Staff

It is expected that the PSPB N&A Committee will consult with the Staff Executive - Publications, as well as the Staff Editors of IEEE SPECTRUM, PROCEEDINGS OF THE IEEE, IEEE PRESS, and THE INSTITUTE, in regard to member and Editor-in-Chief recommendations.

5.5.3 Minimum Number of Nominees

The PSPB N&A Committee shall normally submit at least two nominees for each position recommendation.

5.5.4 Criteria for Each Nominee

Willingness to serve shall be a mandatory selection criterion for any nominee. The PSPB N&A Committee shall also consider the following non-prioritized criteria for each nominee:

- A. Publication experience or interest.
- B. Active volunteer and/or contributor experience.
- C. Skills or interest areas.
- D. Geographic, technical, gender, and age diversity.
- E. For Members-at-Large, a balance of IEEE entity/customer balance.

5.5.5 Solicitation of Prospective Nominees

The PSPB N&A Committee shall solicit from PSPB members, and appropriate PSPB customers, the names of suitable persons to be considered, particularly for Member-at-Large and Vice-President nominees.

5.5.6 Nomination Coordination with other Organizational Units

The PSPB N&A Committee and the TAB N&A Committee shall jointly prepare the slate of recommended nominees for Chair, TAB/PSPB Products and Services Committee.

5.5.7 Nomination and Election Process for PSPB Positions

- A. NOMINATION PROCESS FOR PSPB POSITIONS
  - 1. Recommendations by the PSPB N&A Committee for PSPB Members-at-Large and Vice President – Publication Services and Products, as well as the joint TAB/PSPB recommendation for Chair, TAB/PSPB Products and Services Committee, shall be presented to PSPB at the second PSPB meeting of the year. All other nominees for PSPB positions shall be presented at the last PSPB meeting of the year.
  - 2. The PSPB N&A Committee shall distribute the names and credentials of recommended nominees for each slate to PSPB members at least 20 days prior to the scheduled PSPB Meeting at which the nomination shall be considered.
  - 3. Nominations by petition for PSPB positions may be made on signed requests by at least five voting members of PSPB. Nominations by petition for the Chair, TAB/PSPB Products and Services Committee must be signed by at least 20% of the voting members of PSPB and TAB. Biographies and position statements for nominees by petition shall accompany each nomination. Petitions for PSPB positions shall be received by the PSPB Chair no later than 10 days prior to the scheduled PSPB meeting. Petitions for the Chair, TAB/PSPB Products and Services Committee, shall be received at least 10 days prior to the scheduled PSPB or TAB meeting, whichever occurs first. These petitions can be received by either the PSPB or TAB Chair, and both chairs shall jointly share the receipt and verification of such nominations. The PSPB Chair shall distribute the name, nominated position, and credentials of each verified candidate to PSPB members no later than seven days prior to the scheduled PSPB meeting.

4. Position statements from candidates shall not exceed a maximum word-length requirement of 200 words. The following will be used to determine the number of words:
  - Precede IEEE by an article and count both as one word;
  - Count an acronym as one word;
  - Count a discrete alphanumeric as one word – for example, 21st in 21st Century counts as one word;
  - Titles and other properly hyphenated words shall be counted as one word.
5. Nominations from the floor to add candidates to a slate shall not be accepted during the scheduled PSPB meeting.

B. ELECTION PROCESS DURING PSPB MEETINGS

1. Each candidate for the Chair of the TAB/PSPB Products and Services Committee, PSPB Member-at-Large, and Vice President – Publication Services and Products may speak for up to five minutes prior to voting by PSPB voting members. An advocate may speak for up to five minutes in support of the nomination of a candidate who is unable to participate. A period of up to five minutes is allowed in order for each candidate or advocate to answer questions. Presentations by each candidate or advocate shall be done individually with others candidates or advocates absent from the room. Following the last candidate or advocate presentation, PSPB voting members may discuss all candidates in executive session with no candidates present.
2. Tellers shall be selected as follows. For the Chair, TAB/PSPB Products and Services Committee, the tellers shall be The Staff Executive – Publications and the Managing Director – Technical Activities, or their designees. For all other PSPB elections, the PSPB Chair shall appoint two or three non-voting PSPB members as tellers.
3. Voting shall be conducted by secret ballot.
  - a. For the Chair, TAB/PSPB Products and Services Committee, the election by PSPB and TAB shall use Single Transferable Voting (STV). The tellers shall collect and confidentially maintain completed ballots from each meeting. Following the final board voting, the tellers shall tally the completed ballots and determine the successful candidate. The Staff Executive – Publications, or that person's designee, shall announce the election results to PSPB without divulging tallies.
  - b. For all other PSPB positions, a simple majority vote of those PSPB members voting is required to declare a candidate successful. When there are three or more candidates for a position, the election shall utilize Single Transferable Voting (STV). The Tellers shall collect and tally the completed ballots, then report election outcomes without divulging tallies to the Chair of the PSPB N&A Committee. The N&A Chair will announce the outcome of votes to PSPB.

5.5.8 N&A Recommendations to Incoming Vice President

The PSPB N&A Committee shall provide an appointment-recommendations report to the incoming Vice President – Publication Services and Products before that person takes office.

5.6 PSPB Publishing Conduct Committee

5.6.1 Confidentiality

Due to the sensitive nature of complaints concerning editorial conduct, all Committee correspondence, discussions, and deliberations shall be kept confidential.

5.6.2 Assigned Activities

- A. Activities handled by the PSPB Publishing Conduct Committee are restricted to assignments made by the PSPB Chair.
- B. Activities involving misconduct are restricted to non-staff individuals involved in the editorial processes of creating intellectual property. IEEE staff members are bound by publication conduct concerns, but the Executive Director or that person's designee handles their matters.

SECTION 6 - PSPB FINANCIAL MATTERS

6.1 PSPB Annual Budgeting Process

The IEEE Publications department and PSPB shall adhere to the IEEE annual budgeting procedures and guidelines documented in the IEEE Finance Operations Manual (FOM).

6.1.1 Budget Cycle

The IEEE annual budget development process and timelines are established annually by the IEEE Finance Committee and disseminated to IEEE staff. Budget reviews are conducted throughout the year and the overall budget is reviewed at the June and September IEEE Finance Committee meetings. The Budget is then presented for approval to the IEEE Board of Directors at its last scheduled meeting for the year (normally in November).

6.2 Administration of PSPB Finances

The IEEE Publications department shall be responsible for the overall management of IEEE Publications department and PSPB finances, which include the coordination of the annual budget cycle, management of actuals against budget, and preparation of year-end forecasts versus budget. In addition, the IEEE Publications department supports the PSPB Treasurer and the activities of the PSPB Finance Committee.

6.3 Publication Administration Charge

Publication sponsoring Organizational Units shall pay their appropriate share of the Publications Administration Charge. These charges are to recover the costs of providing services including, but not limited to: providing mailing lists, postal permits, microfiche, copyrighting of materials, permissions requests, PSPB support, library services, and archiving.

Revisions to Section 6.3 – Publication Administration Charge, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

6.4 Page Rates

The IEEE Publications department is responsible for establishing and enforcing numerous service rates annually. They include, but are not limited to:

- Transactions/Journals/Letters
- Magazines
- IEEE Media
- Newsletters
- Publications produced outside the IEEE
- Manuscript Central
- Indexing
- Publications Administration (see Section 6.3)
- Voluntary-page and overlength-paper charges (see Sections 6.5.1 and 6.5.2, respectively)
- IEEE Xplore
- Conference Publishing.

All rates are developed annually in conjunction with the IEEE annual budget development process and reviewed by the PSPB Operating Committee and PSPB during their first two meetings in the calendar year. More detailed information, including specific rates and service descriptions, is provided in the IEEE

6.5 Page Paper Charges*6.5.1 Voluntary Page Charges

IEEE technical journals and magazines are authorized to adopt voluntary (standard) page charges under the following policies and conditions:

- A. The adoption of voluntary page charges by a publication is at the option of the publication and its sponsoring Organizational Unit.
- B. The payment of page charges is entirely voluntary. It is not to be a factor in the consideration or processing of a paper or a prerequisite for publication. Papers shall not be subjected to any additional publication delay because voluntary page-charge payment is not promised.
- C. The voluntary page-charge rate shall be set by the management of the publication subject to approval by the Major Board to which the Organizational Unit sponsoring the publication reports. The rate may vary for publications of a given type.
- D. Conference Records, Digests and author-typed or reprinted papers do not qualify for voluntary page charges.
- E. Voluntary (standard) page charges are different in philosophy and intent from the (mandatory) overlenth paper charges described in Section 6.5.2.

6.5.2 Overlength-Paper Charges

The overlenth-paper charge is a mechanism for accommodating the maximum number of authors' papers within a given publication by requiring authors to pay a charge for each page that exceeds a specified limit. All IEEE technical publications, including Conference Records and Digests, are eligible to adopt overlenth paper charges, subject to the following policies and conditions:

- A. The adoption of an overlenth-paper charge by a publication is at the option of the publication and the Board to which the Organizational Unit responsible for the publication reports.
- B. The limit on the length of papers must be reasonable for most authors to meet and appropriate to the publication. The length limit may vary from one publication to another.
- C. Authors are to be given an opportunity to meet the length limit before being charged for excess pages.
- D. A mechanism must be provided for waiving the overlenth-paper charge in special circumstances. The mechanism and the circumstances under which it is to be applied are to be determined by the management of the publication.
- E. The overlenth-paper charge per page may differ for publications of the same type.
- F. Publications with voluntary page charges may also adopt an overlenth-paper charge, in which the voluntary page charge would apply to the pages up to the length limit and the overlenth-paper charge would apply to the pages exceeding the limit.

6.5.3 Charges for Withdrawal or Modification of Manuscripts

If the author(s) of a manuscript request(s) modification or withdrawal subsequent to acceptance for publication and distribution, and if compliance with such a request involves significant costs, the IEEE may levy appropriate charges. All such cases shall be brought to the attention of the Staff Executive - Publications, who, in consultation with the PSPB Chair, shall adjudicate such cases and make decisions and agreements binding on IEEE.

6.5.4 Other Charges

The sponsoring Organizational Unit of an IEEE publication is authorized to charge authors, at cost, extra expenses incurred when meeting acceptable author specified requirements not regularly supplied to authors. Authors shall be informed of the amount of such charges and be asked for a response prior to a specified date in which they state their acceptance or non-acceptance of the extra charges. If no response is received by the specified date, or if the authors refuse the charges, the article shall either appear using the publication's normal standards or be withdrawn.

Revisions to Section 6.5 – Page Paper Charges, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

6.6 IEEE PRESS Business and Financial Arrangements

6.6.1 Funding

The costs and financial risk for books and other products are borne predominately by John Wiley & Sons, a commercial publishing partner.

6.6.2 Book Pricing

A list price is set for each book by John Wiley & Sons, in consultation with the IEEE PRESS. An IEEE member price is based on a discount from the list price.

Revisions to Section 6.6 – IEEE PRESS Business and Financial Arrangements, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

SECTION 7 - PSPB AWARDS

RESERVED FOR FUTURE AWARD OPERATIONAL PROCEDURES

SECTION 8 - PSPB PROCEDURAL AND OPERATIONAL DECISIONS

8.1 Publication Policies

IEEE Policy 6.1– Authority For IEEE Publication Products and Services

IEEE publications exist by Board of Directors directive or as Publication Services and Products Board initiatives with Board of Directors approval.

The Board of Directors shall specify those publications to be received by every IEEE member. Such publications are the direct responsibility of the Publication Services and Products Board. Policies and procedures applying to these publications shall be specified in the Publications Services and Products Board Operations Manual.

All published products and services, in any form that originates from an IEEE organizational unit or bear the IEEE Master Brand, are ultimately the responsibility of the IEEE Publication Services and Products Board. These published products and services shall conform to the policies and procedures that shall be specified in the IEEE Publications Services and Products Board Operations Manual.

The major organizational units may introduce new publications following the approval policies and procedures which shall be specified in the Publications Services and Products Board Operations Manual.

Organizational units may specify additional policies and procedures which shall conform to and do not conflict with these policies.

8.1.1 General

All persons involved with any aspect of IEEE publications should be cognizant of the general policies that govern all IEEE publications and, particularly, to those that relate to their areas of responsibility.

- A. The IEEE is a transnational organization. Special care should therefore be taken in using the word “national” in connection with IEEE activities. For example references to a national Headquarters, a national President, or a national Society President, are all potentially inappropriate.
- B. Statements and opinions given in work published by the IEEE are the expression of the authors. Responsibility for the content of published papers rests upon the authors, not the IEEE.
- C. No letter or article received unsigned shall be published. It is acceptable for letters or articles to carry the notation “Name withheld on request.”
- D. No letter or article shall be published if it contains any pejorative ad-hominem remarks or any other material deemed inappropriate or offensive.
- E. Material of a nontechnical nature should conform with Section 8.1.3, Presentation of Nontechnical Material.
- F. Material involving the support or nonsupport of candidates for public office is not permitted.
- G. Unduly commercial material should also be avoided. For example “company profiles” and/or “industrial biographies” merit careful attention.
- H. The language used in all IEEE Journals, Transactions, and Letters, as well as the Proceedings of any IEEE conference designated as an international conference, shall be English. English style guidelines are specified in the IEEE Editorial Style Manual. The IEEE Editorial Style Manual contains references that should be consulted for guidance on spelling, grammar and usage.

All other IEEE publications should normally be produced in English, and the IEEE Editorial Style Manual shall be consulted for guidance on spelling, grammar, and usage. However, if Editors or Conference Organizers choose to accept submissions in languages other than English, abstracts for those submissions shall be provided in English using the recommended style guidelines specified by the IEEE Editorial Style Manual.

Revisions to Section 8.1.1 – General, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.1.2 IEEE Organizational Unit Publications

IEEE Policy 6.6 – IEEE Organizational Unit Publications

Any IEEE Organizational Unit may issue a local publication. The publication’s objective shall be consonant with the objectives of the IEEE.

Organizational Units shall inform the IEEE Publications Services and Products Board of such publication and provide copies as published to the appropriate member of the IEEE staff as designated by the Executive Director.

Any IEEE Organizational Unit may issue a local publication, and shall inform the IEEE Publication Services and Products Board accordingly, and shall provide copies to the Secretary of the Publication Services and Products Board, as published. Advertising is permitted (see Section 8.1.8). The objective of the publication shall be consonant with the objectives of the IEEE.

8.1.3 Presentation of Nontechnical Material

The discussion of technical matters will continue to be the primary function of the forum provided by the IEEE. However, today, with engineering developments having a profound impact on society and social conditions shaping the course of technical developments, it is essential that discussions of the social as well as the purely technical aspects of electrical and electronics engineering work be included. To enable the presentation of nontechnical material in a manner appropriate to the needs of the membership, and recognizing that the IEEE membership is widely divergent politically, the following guidelines are to be implemented by the PSPB and followed by editors and meeting organizers:

- A. The subject matter should be relevant to the field of electrical and electronics engineering and the field’s impact on society. If the relevance or appropriateness is not self-evident from the author’s presentation, it should be made clear by the addition of a suitable introductory statement. The discussion of pertinent interrelated social, economic and technical aspects may lead to political conclusions on the part of the author. Since political conclusions ordinarily have particular relevance to a specific national environment, such limitations of the author’s or speaker’s conclusions should be made clear if they are not self-evident.
- B. Reasonable efforts should be made to provide for adequate and timely presentations of differing viewpoints. This may be accomplished either by planned simultaneous presentations or by presentation of one side of an issue, clearly identified as such, with provision for prompt, subsequent presentation of representative audience discussion and rebuttal.
- C. It should be made evident to the audience that the opinions expressed are those of the author, and no endorsement by the IEEE, its officials or its members is implied.

Revisions to Section 8.1.3 – Presentation of Nontechnical Material, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.1.4 IEEE Copyright Policy and Procedures

IEEE Policy 6.3.1 - IEEE COPYRIGHT POLICIES

A. General Policies. In order to maximize the value of IEEE publications to authors, users and the IEEE, the following IEEE copyright policies shall be applied throughout the IEEE:

- 1) IEEE shall serve and protect the interests of its authors and their employers.

- 2) All technical, educational and professional publications of the IEEE, except newsletters, but including Society and Technical Council Newsletters, are required to be copyrighted by the IEEE.
- 3) Copyright shall be held by the IEEE and not any of its Organizational Units.
- 4) The Intellectual Property Rights Office is responsible for the administration of all IEEE copyright matters under these policies and the procedures which shall be specified in the PSPB Operations Manual. This includes obtaining the copyright registration, handling reprint and republication requests, maintaining copyright records, and administering fees when appropriate. The Intellectual Property Rights Office may, at its discretion, delegate some or all of its copyright implementation responsibilities to other IEEE departments if they have significant publishing activity, subject to procedures approved by a member of the IEEE staff, as designated by the Executive Director.
- 5) Third-Party Rights to Reuse IEEE-Copyrighted Material. Licenses and permissions to use IEEE copyrighted material (abstracts, full text, etc.) for commercial or other non-IEEE related purposes may be granted under terms approved by the IEEE Publication Services and Products Board.
- 6) Fees for the reuse of IEEE material are appropriate for contributing to the cost of original publication, especially where the reuse involves the republication of material, or any commercial uses.
- 7) Prior to publication by the IEEE, all authors or their employers shall transfer to the IEEE in writing any copyright they hold for their individual papers. Such transfer shall be a necessary requirement for publication, except for material in the public domain or which is reprinted with permission from a copyrighted publication.
- 8) In return for the transfer of authors' rights, the IEEE shall grant authors and their employers' permission to make copies and otherwise reuse the material under terms approved by the Board of Directors which shall be specified in the PSPB Operations Manual.
- 9) After IEEE accepts the work for publication and the copyright has been transferred, changes or revisions to the work shall not be made without further review and approval.
- 10) For jointly sponsored conferences, which might require special copyright arrangements, those arrangements shall be made in accordance with the procedures which shall be specified in the PSPB Operations Manual.
- 11) Copyrighting Electronic Information shall follow the electronic information dissemination procedures, which shall be specified in the PSPB Operations Manual.
- 12) The PSPB or its authorized designee shall consider the allowance of any exceptions to these Copyright policies.

Procedures in regard to IEEE copyright policies are specified in this section, including A. General Principles of the policies and procedures, B. Ownership and Rights of IEEE copyrighted material, and Implementation of IEEE policy.

A. GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF IEEE COPYRIGHT POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

1. Enhancing the accessibility, distribution and use of information is a major objective of the IEEE publication program, limited only by the requirements of viability and professional propriety.
2. To meet this objective and control the use of its good name, the IEEE is obligated to secure copyright ownership of the material it publishes.
3. In exercising its rights under copyright, the IEEE recognizes that it is acting in part to serve and protect the interests of its authors and their employers.
4. Fees for the reuse of IEEE material are appropriate for contributing to the cost of original publication, especially where the reuse involves a license to copy, or allows resale, or is of a magnitude that would tend to reduce subscription or other sales income.
5. Copyright policies shall be consistently applied throughout IEEE.

B. OWNERSHIP AND RIGHTS OF IEEE COPYRIGHTED MATERIAL

1. Copyright is held by IEEE itself and not any of its Organizational Units.
2. All technical, educational and professional publications of the IEEE, except newsletters, but including Society and Technical Council Newsletters and e-Newsletters, are required to be copyrighted by the IEEE.

3. Prior to publication by the IEEE, all authors or their employers shall transfer to the IEEE in writing any copyright they hold for their individual papers. Such transfer shall be a necessary requirement for publication, except for material in the public domain or which is reprinted from a copyrighted publication.
4. In return for the transfer of authors' rights, the IEEE shall grant authors and their employer's permission to make copies and otherwise reuse the material under terms approved by the Board of Directors.
5. In the case of jointly sponsored conferences, IEEE recognizes the right of another qualified sponsor to hold the copyright and administer all copyright matters on behalf of the IEEE and its author, provided, however, that such right shall be the subject of a written agreement between IEEE and the qualified sponsor. A conference is not considered a sponsor and may not hold a copyright to IEEE material, except in the case of a conference which is incorporated and maintains its own permanent administrative office.
6. Licenses and permissions to copy or republish IEEE material may be granted under terms approved by PSPB.

C. IMPLEMENTATION OF IEEE COPYRIGHT POLICY

1. The Editor or conference publication committee chair shall be responsible for obtaining the written transfer of author rights and for forwarding appropriate confirmations to the Intellectual Property Rights Office. A form for effecting the interchange of rights with the author per Sections 8.1.4.B.3 and 8.1.4.B.4 form shall be supplied by PSPB or its authorized representative. The wording used on the form shall be approved by PSPB or its authorized representative.
2. For journals and conference publications, an appropriate copyright notice shall appear on the first page of each technical contribution to simplify and facilitate reuse of individual articles.
3. Should the need for isolated exceptions to any of the above policies and procedures arise, PSPB or its authorized representative is authorized to deal with them on a case-by-case basis.

8.1.5 Guidelines for Use of IEEE Logo and "IEEE"

IEEE Policy 6.3.2 - Guidelines for Use of IEEE Logo and "IEEE"

The following are guidelines on the use of the IEEE logo, i.e., the diamond-shaped emblem which is registered with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office as the trademark of the IEEE, and on the use of "IEEE," the recognized following are guidelines on the use of the IEEE logo, i.e., the diamond-shaped emblem which is registered with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office as the trademark of the IEEE, and on the use of "IEEE," the recognized abbreviation of The Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, Inc.

- A. The IEEE logo should be used on IEEE's wholly owned publications and also on meeting notices, programs and other promotional literature and products. On any of these, the logo should be displayed prominently at least once accompanied by the registration mark, i.e., the R in a circle (®) shown at the lower right of the emblem. On publications, it is recommended that the logo appear on the front cover and title page, if any.
- B. When used with a logo of an Organizational Unit within IEEE, the IEEE logo should be at least the same size as the other logo, preferably larger or in a more prominent position. In publications produced in cooperation with groups outside the IEEE all logos should be the same size. (It may be acceptable to use logos in different sizes to reflect unequal participation.)
- C. In every use, the integrity of the logo must be preserved. For example:
  - (1) Only the complete, official logo in either solid or outline form may be used. (Hand drawn or deformed versions are not permitted.)
  - (2) Neither the whole nor recognizable parts may be incorporated into another logo whether designed by an IEEE Organizational Unit or not.
  - (3) The logo may be printed in any color with another color as background, but should not be - printed in several colors.

- (4) The logo should not be obscured by any other design, lettering, etc.
  - (5) The logo should not be used frivolously.
- D. The logo shall be used only in connection with official business of the IEEE.

(See also Section 8.1.6 – Titling Protocols for IEEE Publications.)

8.1.6 Titling Protocols for IEEE Publications

To maintain excellence in publishing practices and to minimize the possibility of legal problems, IEEE volunteers and staff must assure, to the extent possible, that IEEE publication titles are not knowingly selected, formatted or used in a way which might promote confusion with any other publication title or compromise the integrity of an IEEE title.

Proposals for new journals and magazines must include a statement that the proposers themselves are aware of the literature in the field and either perceive no potential title problems or have clearly identified (for further advice or examination) any points of potential conflict. For magazines, the proposal must also include evidence that a legal title search has been performed through the Intellectual Property Rights Office and shows no title conflicts. The expense of the legal title search shall be borne by the sponsoring Organizational Unit.

The design and formatting of new (or changed) magazine titles, as used on covers and in promotional or advertising material, will be subject to review by appropriate Publications staff at the earliest possible opportunity prior to public use.

This requirement must be observed by all periodicals and is of particular importance to magazines. The spirit of the requirement is also applicable to other classes of IEEE publications.

The IEEE Intellectual Property Rights Office shall take all appropriate measures, including registering qualifying magazine titles through the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, to protect its titles from infringement by others. The expense of title registration will be borne by the sponsoring Organizational Unit.

(See also IEEE Policy 6.3.2 – Guidelines on the Use of the IEEE Logo and “IEEE”. This policy is also stated under Section 8.1.5 for convenience.)

(See also Section 8.4.7 for information on Conference Proceedings titles.)

Revisions to Section 8.1.6 – Titling Protocols for IEEE Publications, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.1.7 Multiple Publication of Original Technical Material in IEEE Periodicals

IEEE Policy 6.4 - Multiple Publication of Original Technical Material in IEEE Periodicals

IEEE’s technical publications shall include original material which appears only once in the archival literature. Unusual circumstances may allow for exceptions to this policy. The appropriate procedures to be followed shall be specified in the PSPB Operations Manual.

The publication of a conference paper or papers in an IEEE periodical is permitted at the discretion of the Editor provided that all the papers have undergone the standard peer review for the specific periodical in question.

Exceptions to IEEE Policy 6.4 shall be restricted to the following.

A. REPUBLICATION OF INDIVIDUAL PAPERS

The occasional republication of an individual paper from another IEEE (or non-IEEE) publication is permitted at the discretion of the Editor, provided:

1. Such republication will significantly benefit the readers of the second publication.
2. The author's permission is sought and obtained by the Editor.
3. Permission is also cleared through the IEEE Intellectual Property Rights Office or, in the case of a non-IEEE publication, the other publisher's Permissions Department.
4. The republished paper is printed with an appropriate copyright/credit line indicating the original source.

B. SPECIAL DISSEMINATION VIA "BONUS" ISSUE

Collaboration between two or more IEEE or Society periodicals in jointly sponsoring a special issue on an interdisciplinary subject of mutual interest is permissible provided that the papers appear in only one periodical, hereafter identified as the Bonus Periodical.

In such cases, the issue of the Bonus Periodical would be overprinted with the additional copies provided as a bonus to the member and nonmember subscribers of the collaborating publication(s).

Although no formal approval is required, the Editors involved must jointly notify the Vice President - Publication Services and Products (via the PSPB Secretary of their intent to produce a Bonus Issue at least six months prior to the proposed publication date. The notification must clearly specify the agreed upon arrangements for distribution and cost-sharing.

C. JOINT PUBLICATION OF A WHOLE ISSUE

Joint publication of an entire issue (or of a substantial section of an issue) is not encouraged, and requires the approval of a Multiple Publication Proposal by PSPB and the Board to which the sponsoring IEEE Organizational Unit reports. Approval must be obtained prior to the beginning of the annual IEEE budgeting cycle of the year preceding the anticipated publication date.

The Multiple Publication Proposal must include:

1. Statistics about overlapping members and subscribers;
2. A statement relative to the novelty of the topic; and
3. A joint agreement signed by the Editor of each of the periodicals indicating which will be the "primary" and which the "secondary" or reprint publication.

D. JOINT PUBLICATION OF SPECIAL ISSUES WITH NON-IEEE PUBLICATIONS

Joint publication of special issues between an IEEE periodical and a non-IEEE periodical is not encouraged and should be considered only in the spirit of the above requirements. The "Bonus" issue approach is recommended over the traditional joint issue. However, if a joint issue is finally agreed to be desirable, the IEEE Editor is required to follow the procedures of Section 8.1.7C for approval of IEEE involvement. The IEEE Editor should strive to arrange that the IEEE publication be the "primary" publication. In this case additional information should be supplied concerning which publisher is responsible for editorial handling, composition, printing, mailing/other distribution; which will hold copyright and handle reprint/republication permissions; how expenses and income are to be handled, etc. Early consultation with Publications, Products, and Services is highly recommended.

E. PUBLICATION OF IEEE CONFERENCE PAPERS IN IEEE PERIODICALS

The publication of a conference paper or papers in an IEEE periodical is permitted at the discretion of the Editor provided that all the papers have undergone the standard peer review for the specific periodical in question.

(See also Section 8.2.4.F. “Guidelines for Editorial Reuse of Previously Published Material, and Adjudicating Inappropriate Reuse of Previous Work or the Failure to Inform Editors of Previous Publications or Multiple Submissions.”)

8.1.8 Advertising in IEEE Publications

A. GENERAL

Technical advertising is an important means of disseminating scientific information concerning electrical and electronics engineering and related fields. It does this by presenting for the engineering profession descriptions concerning the availability and capabilities of new or improved equipment, components, instruments and services. The presence of such advertising in a technical publication thus adds significantly to its usefulness and general attractiveness. The acceptance of advertising by journals of the IEEE and its predecessor societies and the use of the resulting income to support publication services and thereby further the dissemination of scientific information has a long tradition dating back more than half a century.

It is, therefore, entirely fitting that the IEEE should permit the inclusion of technical advertising in those of its publications where it is appropriate, as specified further below, subject to the following requirements and procedures.

The intent of these requirements is to ensure that the benefits afforded by such advertising are achieved within the bounds of good taste and in a manner consonant with IEEE’s scientific and educational objectives. It is a further intent to establish a mechanism for maintaining and monitoring the balance among the sometimes conflicting elements of a vigorous advertising program. As a matter of policy, advertisers should not be approached to buy advertising in an IEEE-wide publication from a feeling of responsibility to support the IEEE.

For the purposes of this policy statement, “advertising” is defined as display advertising and not institutional listings, which are regarded by the IEEE as acknowledgments of contributions supporting a particular publication activity rather than descriptions of products or services.

All IEEE Publications are subject to the following general requirements. (See also IEEE Policy Statement 13.3, Elections and Electioneering.)

1. The advertising should serve the reader of the publication. It should contain substantive technical content or be of informational usefulness to the reader.
2. The advertising shall be appropriate to the publication and to the IEEE. The appearance and usefulness of the publication should not be impaired.
3. Advertising considerations shall not be used as a criterion by the Editor or his/her staff in judging the merits of technical and editorial material for publication.
4. In the case of Transactions, Journals and Letters publications, the pagination shall permit separation of advertising copy from bound volumes.
5. Authorization for a class of IEEE Publications to carry advertising shall not be granted if, in the judgment of the PSPB with the concurrence of the Board of Directors, the result would cause an overall reduction of publication services to the IEEE membership.
6. When the sale of advertising requires the services of paid professional advertising sales people, it will be handled through the Institute staff for all publications having more than Regional distribution. Advertising may be sold through volunteer members if the advertising sales of other IEEE publications are not affected. Volunteer sales efforts should be fully coordinated with the IEEE staff.

B. REGION/SECTION PUBLICATIONS

1. Advertising is permitted in Section publications on the basis that it provides a worthwhile service to readers in a particular geographical area and to advertisers, and that the publication's distribution and method of selling advertising is sufficiently localized so as not normally to interfere with the advertising programs of other IEEE publications having more than Section distribution. However, Section publications containing advertising may be distributed to the members of more than one Section only with the approval of the other Sections involved and the IEEE Executive Committee.

2. An advertiser is free to buy advertising separately in two or more Section publications. However, two or more Section publications may sell advertising to the same advertiser at combination rates only with the prior approval of the PSPB Chair.

C. TRANSACTIONS JOURNALS AND LETTERS

Paid advertising in these periodicals is limited to advertising which must be positioned only on the inside front cover or the inside or outside back covers, or at the back of the issue. All paid advertising is subject to the general IEEE advertising requirements stated in Section 8.1.9A.

D. MAGAZINES

Advertising is permitted in Magazines subject to the general IEEE requirements stated in Section 8.4.2.

E. NEWSLETTERS

Advertising is permitted in newsletters, including free ads, when approved by the sponsoring Organizational Unit's governing body. Such advertising is subject to the general IEEE-advertising requirements stated in Section 8.4.2.

F. IEEE SPECTRUM, THE INSTITUTE AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE IEEE

1. All advertising arrangements will be handled by IEEE staff.
2. The advertising rates shall be set as part of the budget development process of each publication.
3. The net income from advertising will revert to the general treasury of IEEE.
4. PSPB is assigned the responsibility of monitoring the suitability of the advertising and its adherence to the above requirements.

G. CONFERENCE PUBLICATIONS

Conference publications, such as programs, digests and Conference Records, may carry advertising.

H. INTERSOCIETY CONFERENCES

These procedures are guidelines for IEEE representatives to intersociety conference committees.

1. No advertising should be placed in a conference publication unless authorized by the conference management. If the conference management wishes to have advertising in a conference publication, the request may be made a part of the conference budget approval procedures.
2. To enable the IEEE to act as a clearinghouse for advertising information and to provide guidance to other conferences, it is desired that the following information be included with the request:
  - a. The number of copies to be printed and to whom they will be distributed.
  - b. Advertising rates to be charged.
  - c. The method of soliciting advertising.
  - d. In the event that there will be exhibits as a part of the conference, an assurance that there will be no tie-in between advertising rates and rental charges for exhibit booths.
3. All advertising arrangements will be handled by the conference management or its

- designated agent.
- 4. The advertising rates will be set by the conference management.
- 5. The net income from advertising will revert to the treasury of the conference.
- 6. The conference management is assigned the primary responsibility of monitoring the suitability of the advertising and its adherence to the above requirements.

I. WORLD WIDE WEB

Advertising is permitted on any IEEE Webpage with the permission of the Webpage owner. The PSPB shall be responsible for monitoring the suitability of the advertisements. Advertising is subject to the general IEEE policy on advertising, which is specified in this section, and shall conform to the procedures, approved by the IEEE Executive Committee, which are specified in Section 8.4.2 (Advertising Procedure).

J. OTHER PUBLICATIONS

IEEE publications not specifically mentioned in the foregoing may carry advertising only with the consent of PSPB.

(See also Section 8.4.2 - Advertising Procedures.)

Revisions to Section 8.1.8 – Advertising in IEEE Publications, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.1.9 Electronic Information Dissemination

A. COPYRIGHT NOTICE

The following copyright notice must be displayed on the initial screen displaying IEEE-copyrighted material electronically

“© 20xx IEEE. Personal use of this material is permitted. Permission from IEEE must be obtained for all other uses, including reprinting/republishing this material for advertising or promotional purposes, creating new collective works for resale or redistribution to servers or lists, or reuse of any copyrighted component of this work in other works.”

B. ELECTRONIC PREPRINTS

Upon submitting an article to the IEEE for review and possible publication, the author must add the following notice to the first screen of any of his/her previously posted electronic preprint versions of the paper:

“This work has been submitted to the IEEE for possible publication. Copyright may be transferred without notice, after which this version may no longer be accessible.”

When IEEE accepts the work for publication, the author must add the IEEE copyright notice shown in Section 8.1.10A to any previously posted electronic versions of the particular paper submitted and provide IEEE with the electronic address (URL, ftp address, etc.) of the primary electronic posting.

When IEEE publishes the work, the author must replace the previous electronic version of the accepted paper with either (1) the full citation to the IEEE work or (2) the IEEE-published version, including the IEEE copyright notice and full citation. Prior or revised versions of the paper must not be represented as the published version.

C. COLLECTED WORKS

IEEE-copyrighted collected works, such as Transactions, Journals, Magazines, and conference proceedings (full text and/or abstracts) and collections of published papers (including collections distributed from a single server or created through a collection of pointers that refer to versions posted by IEEE authors), may not be posted for electronic distribution without prior written permission from IEEE. Such permission will be contingent upon the placement of prominently displayed copyright and reuse notices. Another condition in granting permission will be that the posted collected work includes a monitoring mechanism for authorizing access to the material and for the reporting of usage data. Finally, it is recommended that IEEE Organizational Units wishing to place IEEE-copyrighted conference proceedings on the Web/Internet also refer to the “TAB Book Broker Policy Statement on Conference Proceedings Disseminated Electronically”. The Policy Statement can be obtained by sending an e-mail request to tab.proceedings@ieee.org (Technical Activities Department, Conference-Proceedings Products).

D. PERSONAL SERVERS

Authors and/or their companies shall have the right to post their IEEE-copyrighted material on their own servers without permission, provided that the server displays a prominent notice alerting readers to their obligations with respect to copyrighted material and that the posted work includes the IEEE copyright notice as shown in Section 8.1.9.A. An example of an acceptable notice is:

“This material is presented to ensure timely dissemination of scholarly and technical work. Copyright and all rights therein are retained by authors or by other copyright holders. All persons copying this information are expected to adhere to the terms and constraints invoked by each author’s copyright. In most cases, these works may not be reposted without the explicit permission of the copyright holder.”

E. CLASSROOM USE

Instructors are free to post their own IEEE-copyrighted papers on their institution’s servers, provided that appropriate copyright, credit, and reuse notices appear prominently with the posted material. Other electronic distribution of IEEE-copyrighted works on university servers may be done only with prior written permission from IEEE.

F. FINALITY OF WORK

After IEEE accepts the work for publication and the copyright has been transferred, IEEE will not allow changes or revisions to the work without further review and approval.

G. LINKING TO IEEE

The IEEE and many affiliated societies provide publication and society information via Internet servers. Links to society servers are encouraged and prior consent is not required.

H. THIRD-PARTY RIGHTS TO REUSE IEEE-COPYRIGHTED MATERIAL

Licenses and permissions to use electronic versions of IEEE-copyrighted material (abstracts, full text, etc.) for commercial or other non-IEEE-related purposes may be granted under terms approved by PSPB.

8.2 Publication Guidelines

The IEEE supports the highest standards of intellectual discourse in its publications. All members of the publication process -- authors, editors and reviewers -- should be treated with fairness and balance, and adhere to the principles in this Section. These principles represent a minimum set of requirements. Individual publications may have additional requirements.

Revisions to the above paragraph require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

Except where statements are limited to a specific publication type, this Section applies to all IEEE publications, such as Journals, Transactions, Magazines, Letters, Conference Proceedings, Newsletters, and so forth. The person responsible for the IEEE publication, as determined by the body of the sponsoring IEEE Organizational Unit, is termed “the Editor.”

8.2.1 Publication Principles

A. AUTHORSHIP

Authorship and co-authorship should be based on a substantial intellectual contribution. It is assumed that all authors have had a significant role in the creation of a manuscript that bears their names. Therefore, the list of authors on an article serves multiple purposes; it indicates who is responsible for the work and to whom questions regarding the work should be addressed. Moreover, the credit implied by authorship is often used as a measure of the contributors’ productivity when they are evaluated for employment, promotions, grants, and prizes.

1. The IEEE affirms that authorship credit must be reserved for individuals who have met each of the following conditions:
  - a. Made a significant intellectual contribution to the theoretical development, system or experimental design, prototype development, and/or the analysis and interpretation of data associated with the work contained in the manuscript;
  - b. Contributed to drafting the article or reviewing and/or revising it for intellectual content; and
  - c. Approved the final version of the manuscript as accepted for publication, including references.

Inclusion of deceased persons is deemed appropriate, as authors should be so included with a footnote reporting their death.
2. In papers with multiple authorship, the order of the authors shall be at the discretion of the authors.
3. Once the list and order of authors has been established, the list and order of authors should not be altered without permission of all living authors.
4. Any part of an article essential to its main conclusions must be the responsibility of at least one author.
5. In the case of papers with multiple authors, a “corresponding” author must be designated as having responsibility for overseeing the publication process and ensuring the integrity of the final document. The corresponding author accepts the responsibility for:
  - a. Including as co-authors all persons appropriate and none inappropriate;
  - b. Obtaining from all co-authors their assent to be designated as such, as well as their approval of the final version of the manuscript as accepted for publication; and
  - c. Keeping all co-authors apprised of the current status of a manuscript submitted for publication, including furnishing all co-authors with copies of the reviewers’ comments and a copy of the published version, as appropriate.
6. Co-authors have responsibility for work submitted under their names. They should remain knowledgeable in so far as possible regarding the contents and status of the manuscript, including the nature of any revisions.
7. If a manuscript is revised and resubmitted to the same journal, co-authors should be asked by the corresponding author to reaffirm their assent to be listed as co-authors and to approve the revised version. In addition, if the manuscript is rejected or withdrawn from a journal and then submitted to a different IEEE journal, the co-authors should be asked again by the corresponding author to affirm their assent to authorship even if no substantive changes have been made.
8. Co-authors have the right to withdraw their names from a manuscript at any time before acceptance of the manuscript by the editor. However, an author’s or co-author’s name should not be removed from a manuscript without his or her permission. The responsible editor shall be notified of any change in authorship.

Revisions to the Section 8.2.1.A - Authorship, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

B. RESPONSIBILITIES OF MANUSCRIPT AUTHORS

1. Peer review is essential to discourse. Authors are encouraged to have the first formal publication of their results be a peer-reviewed paper.
2. Financial support of the work being reported and of the authors should be clearly acknowledged in the manuscript, as well as any potential conflict of interest.
3. Methods and materials should be described in sufficient detail to permit evaluation and replication.
4. All data should be presented upon request by the editor, to facilitate the review process.
5. When submitting a manuscript, authors shall disclose whether or not the manuscript has been published previously or if it is still under active consideration by another publication. In addition, if an author submits a manuscript to a non-IEEE publication while that manuscript is under review by IEEE, the author shall immediately notify IEEE about the additional submission.
6. Authors have an obligation to correct errors promptly.
7. IEEE defines plagiarism as the use of someone else's prior ideas, processes, results, or words without explicitly acknowledging the original author and source. Plagiarism in any form is unacceptable and is considered a serious breach of professional conduct, with potentially severe ethical and legal consequences. Section 8.2.4.D provides detailed guidelines for a) handling allegations of plagiarism, b) applying appropriate corrective actions when findings of plagiarism have been reached, and c) referencing previously published material.
8. Fabrication and falsification are unacceptable.
9. Except as indicated in IEEE Policy 6.4 (Multiple Publication of Original Technical Material in IEEE Periodicals), authors should only submit original work that has neither appeared elsewhere for publication, nor which is under review for another publication. If authors have used their own previously published work(s) as a basis for a new submission, they are required to cite the previous work(s) and very briefly indicate how the new submission offers substantive novel contributions beyond those of the previously published work(s). Section 8.2.4.F provides guidelines for handling instances of inappropriate multiple submission and prior publication.
10. Authors should not discuss any aspect of a manuscript under evaluation with reviewers of the submitted manuscript.
11. Only those articles of a researcher's publication record that are directly relevant to the subject matter of the paper under consideration should be included in the bibliography. Furthermore, an article shall be appropriately labeled as "submitted" when still in the review process or "in press" when it has been accepted for publication but has not yet appeared in print.
12. The IEEE assumes that the material submitted to its publications is properly available for general dissemination to the readership of those publications. It is the responsibility of the authors, not the IEEE, to determine whether disclosure of their material requires the prior consent of other parties and, if so, to obtain it. If authors make use of charts, photographs, or other graphical or textual material from previously published material, the authors are responsible for obtaining written permission to use the material in the manuscript.

Revisions to the Section 8.2.1.B - Responsibilities of Manuscript Authors, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

C. REVIEWERS OF MANUSCRIPTS

1. Reviewers should be chosen for their high qualifications and objectivity regarding a particular manuscript.
2. Reviews should be prompt and thorough.
3. Anonymity of reviewers of a given manuscript shall be preserved to the extent possible, unless the reviewer and editor agree to disclosure.
4. Information contained in a manuscript under review is confidential and shall not be shared with others, nor shall reviewers use non-public information contained in a manuscript to advance their own research or financial interests.

D. EDITORS OF IEEE JOURNALS, TRANSACTIONS, LETTERS, AND MAGAZINES

1. The sole responsibility for acceptance or rejection of a manuscript rests with the editor.
2. Editors should generally grant the request of an author who asks, when submitting a manuscript, that particular individual(s) be excluded from the review of that manuscript.
3. Editors shall establish a review process that minimizes bias.
4. Editors shall subject all manuscripts of a given type to equivalent and unprejudiced reviews. Decisions about acceptance for publication should occur in a reasonable time frame, and (except for issues devoted to special topics) manuscripts should, to the editor's best ability, be published in the chronological order of acceptance.
5. Editors should provide to the authors a written rationale for editorial decisions regarding a manuscript submitted for publication. This is especially important if the manuscript is being rejected.
6. Unpublished manuscripts must be treated as confidential documents by all individuals involved in the editorial process.
7. Editors shall correct errors in a manuscript if the errors are detected or reported before publication, or publish corrections if they are detected afterward.
8. Papers submitted by an editor or associate editor shall be handled by another member of the editorial board.

8.2.2 The Review Process

A. PERIODICALS

The review process shall ensure that all authors have equal opportunity for publication of their papers. Acceptance and scheduling of publication of papers in these periodicals shall not be impeded by added criteria and procedures beyond those contained in the IEEE review requirements contained in this Section 8.2.2.A.

1. Responsibilities of Editors. The policies contained in this Section 8.2.2.A shall apply to the Editors of all regular technical periodical IEEE publications, except IEEE SPECTRUM and Society newsletters. At no time should a manuscript be accepted or published in an archival journal without prior review of the complete manuscript by two or more independent referees conversant with the pertinent subject area.

It is the responsibility of the office of Editor of each publication to see to it that the corresponding author receives a prompt written acknowledgment of the receipt of his or her manuscript. This acknowledgment should include the date when the corresponding author can expect to receive the decision of the Editor on the suitability of the submission for publication, which will be no longer than 90 days from the date of receipt of the manuscript by the Editor.

It is also the responsibility of the Editor to advise the corresponding author of the relevant IEEE policy concerning material submitted for publication, especially the contents of Section 8.2.1.A (Authorship) and 8.2.1.B (Responsibilities of Authors).

2. Handling of Manuscripts Authored by Publications Volunteers. Editorial responsibility and authority for any manuscript authored by an editor and submitted to the editor's publication should be delegated to some other qualified person. Editorial consideration of the manuscript in any way or form by the author-editor would constitute a conflict of interest and is therefore improper. All editors and referees shall immediately disqualify themselves from review of papers in which there exists a conflict of interest.

Editors and other volunteers involved in IEEE periodicals shall not abuse access privileges to obtain confidential information, particularly about the review results of their own papers. Intentional unauthorized access to confidential information about an IEEE publication shall be considered an act of misconduct, and suspected misuse of access shall be reported to the volunteer leader of the sponsoring Organizational Unit and to the PSPB Chair. The PSPB Chair shall be the IEEE Officer with cognizance of the case process, will oversee any investigation, and will be responsible for adjudication.

Organizational Units shall establish procedures for their periodicals so that no one can acquire unauthorized access to privileged information and submit these procedures to the IEEE Intellectual Property Rights Offices for filing. Documentation of these procedures shall include a statement about how manuscripts by editors and other publication volunteers are handled.

3. Prescreening of Manuscripts by Editors. Editors may prescreen manuscripts immediately after they are submitted and before they are transmitted to referees for evaluation. The purpose of such prescreening is to verify that the manuscript adheres to minimum criteria set forth by IEEE, as well as by the Organizational Unit responsible for the specific publication. Typical prescreening measures include the following:

- The subject and contents of the paper meet the scope of the periodical or a specific issue.
- The author(s) have followed the IEEE guidelines for style.
- The author(s) have not obviously violated IEEE Policies.
- The manuscript is comprehensible (in other words, not so poorly written that it is unreadable).
- The manuscript meets a minimum criterion for technical substance established for the periodical.

A manuscript is considered in review if it passes the prescreening process and is forwarded to referees. An "administrative reject" refers to a manuscript that does not meet the prescreening measures and is, therefore, returned to the author(s) with explanation.

4. Review of Manuscripts by Referees. For all scientific papers and communications published in regular IEEE publications, the Editor shall select at least two referees who are competent and have experience in the area of the subject matter of the paper. Editors of a specific periodical cannot act as formal referees for papers being considered for publication in their area of responsibility of that periodical. It shall be clearly stated by the Editor when the Editor submits the paper to the referee that the recipient is a formal reviewer and that his or her comments and opinions, with those of other formal reviewers, will form the basis upon which the Editor will decide whether or not to publish the paper, and with what changes. Submission of manuscripts to referees for "informal review" is to be avoided. The Editor shall state that the referee is expected to return comments and opinions within a specified time, not longer than 90 days or else request that the manuscript be returned immediately for submission to another referee. The use of a standard review form for each periodical is recommended. The Editor's office shall maintain all records pertinent to submitted papers for a period of two years from the date of final disposition.

IEEE requires that referees treat the contents of papers under review as confidential information not to be disclosed to others before publication. It is expected that no one with access to a paper under review will make any inappropriate use of the special knowledge that access provides. Contents of abstracts submitted to conference program committees should be regarded as confidential as well, and handled in the same manner.

The Editor examines the comments of the referees and exercises his or her own best judgment, in the light of the referees' recommendations, on whether or not to publish. Reviewers' comments and marked manuscripts are normally returned to the author in any case. It is essential that the Editor assure that the anonymity of the referees is protected during this process. The Editor's decision is always based on all the reviews received, but mixed reviews present the need for the exercise of editorial judgment. Thus, the final decision for acceptance or rejection lies with the Editor.

Everything within this review process must be done openly, except that the referees are protected from personal interactions with the authors by withholding their names. The Editor in any event, should be guided in technical matters by the reviewers' comments. The Editor must not arbitrarily withhold the referees' comments from the corresponding author, or vice-versa, unless the Editor deems them clearly to be irrelevant, incorrect, or otherwise inappropriate. In particular, Editors should not arbitrarily ignore referees' suggestions for modifications of the paper without sufficient technical cause to do so. If a paper is returned for revision, it is important to make clear to the corresponding author whether on the one hand the paper will be accepted if the indicated changes are made or, on the other hand, the paper will be resubmitted to the referee for further review.

The Editor's decision is always based on all the reviews received, but mixed reviews present the need for the exercise of editorial judgment. Thus, the final decision for acceptance or rejection lies with the Editor.

Authors may request that their paper's review not be handled by specific editors and that their paper not be reviewed by specific individuals. All reasonable requests of this nature shall be complied with.

Periodicals which are published in cooperation with non-IEEE organizations must have a review policy that ensures the quality of the papers. The policies of the non-IEEE organizations should be generally consistent with the IEEE requirements contained in this Section 8.2.2.A.

B. CONFERENCE PUBLICATIONS

Submissions to IEEE conferences shall undergo a review process by independent referees who are knowledgeable in the pertinent subject area. The manner of implementation of the process shall be defined by the appropriate governing body (e.g., Society, Region, Section, etc.) of the IEEE major sponsor organization.

Conferences that are held in cooperation with non-IEEE organizations are encouraged to have a review process that is consistent with the policy stated in the paragraph above.

Participants in the review process (i.e., referees and any one else who is authorized to handle conference submissions) shall treat the contents of conference submissions under review as confidential information not to be disclosed to others before publication. No one with access to a submission shall make any inappropriate use of the special knowledge which that access provides.

Revisions to Section 8.2.2 – The Review Process, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.2.3 Appeal of Editorial Decisions

The editorial IEEE Policy of an IEEE publication shall be determined by the Organizational Unit which sponsors or controls the publication, within the framework and policies set by PSPB and the IEEE Board of Directors. Implementation of these policies shall be the responsibility of the Editor-in-Chief of the publication. Disputes which arise over review or acceptance of material submitted for publication are expected to be resolved by the Editorial Board of the publication. The Editor-in-Chief shall be, in general, the final authority on matters of content and appropriateness of material in the publication.

In the event of a challenge to review or publishing actions which cannot be resolved at the sponsoring-Organizational Unit level, the Vice President - Publication Services and Products shall be the IEEE Officer with cognizance of the appeals process. An appeal of an editorial decision must be submitted within 60 days of final notification of the decision to the Staff Executive - Publications who will acknowledge receipt of appeal and inform the Vice President - Publication Services and Products within 30 days. The Vice President - Publication Services and Products shall, within 30 days of receipt of a written appeal, determine whether the dispute merits a formal arbitration process. For arbitration, the Vice President - Publication Services and Products shall appoint an individual who shall, in consultation with all the parties to the dispute and with the assistance of knowledgeable members of the professional community, assess the merits of the dispute and recommend a resolution. The recommendation shall be presented to the Vice President - Publication Services and Products for review within 120 days of the receipt of the complaint. The decision, which shall be binding on the IEEE Organizational Unit that is party to the dispute, shall be made within 15 days of the receipt of the recommendation by the Vice President - Publication Services and Products, and shall be reported to PSPB. The decision of the Vice President - Publication Services and Products shall be final and not subject to further appeal.

Revisions to Section 8.2.3 – Appeal of Editorial Decisions, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.2.4 Allegations of Misconduct

A flowchart is available as Figure 8.2.4 to assist readers through the IEEE process for allegations of publishing misconduct.

A. HANDLING COMPLAINTS

1. During the handling of a complaint, the contents of the complaint, identity of the persons involved and the scope of the inquiry shall remain confidential to the extent practicable, consistent with the need for information and expeditious review.
2. In handling a case of alleged plagiarism, the editor should request the following basic information from the complainant on:
  - a. The original article:
    - (1) Title of article
    - (2) Full list of author names
    - (3) Publication title in which original appeared
  - b. The use of someone else's unpublished ideas:
    - (1) Title of idea
    - (2) Full list of creators
    - (3) Verifiable date of creation
  - c. The alleged plagiarized paper:
    - (1) Title of article
    - (2) Full list of author names
    - (3) Publication title in which the paper appeared
  - d. Copies of both articles or, if appropriate, documentation of an idea and the subsequent article, preferably with highlighted text showing all instances of inappropriate reuse
  - e. Full name and address of complainant.
3. If a complaint is received concerning the accuracy or completeness of a paper published in an IEEE publication, the person responsible for that publication (e.g., editor, Organizational-Unit officer, etc.) shall investigate the complaint. If it is ascertained that Figure 8.2.4. Flowchart illustrating the IEEE process for allegations of publication misconduct.

- the complaint stems from differences in opinion, the responsible person shall dismiss the complaint and notify the complainant of the conclusion. The responsible person may also recommend that the complainant prepare and submit a rebuttal for publication.
4. If a complaint is received against an editor, associate editor, or reviewer of an IEEE publication, one of the following steps applies depending on the complaint.
    - a. If the complaint concerns the editor's judgment in the rejection of a manuscript, then the author shall be informed that the editor has final decision-making authority over such matters.
    - b. If the complaint is against an associate editor or reviewer, the editor shall evaluate the merits of the complaint, determine the appropriate course of action in accordance with established policies, and respond to the author.
    - c. If the complaint involves an allegation of bias on the part of the editor, then the author may appeal directly to the designee of the Organizational Unit responsible for the publication (such as the Vice President of Publications, the Chair of the Publications Committee, etc.). If such a position does not exist, the complaint should be made to the PSPB Chair who shall then investigate the allegation in accordance with Section 8.2.3. In this case, upon completion of the investigation, the PSPB Chair's findings shall be sent to the editor as well as the responsible person(s) for the sponsoring IEEE Organizational Unit(s).

Revisions to Section 8.2.4.A – Handling Complaints, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

B. INVESTIGATING POSSIBLE AUTHOR MISCONDUCT

1. If the editor of an IEEE publication learns that an author may have acted improperly, which may include but is not limited to misrepresenting data, plagiarizing text, or not informing the editor that an article had been published, accepted for publication, or concurrently under review by another publication, then the editor shall investigate the alleged misconduct. All inquiries shall be handled promptly and fairly. All parties relevant to the allegation shall be given the opportunity to respond.
2. The editor will notify the IEEE Staff Executive - Publications or that person's designee that an inquiry has been undertaken. The purpose of this notification is to provide information and a record. The Office of the IEEE Staff Executive - Publications will inform the PSPB Chair about the inquiry.
3. In considering the allegation, the editor shall appoint an independent ad-hoc committee of experts in the topic to confidentially investigate and make a recommendation on the allegation to the editor. In addition to the material supplied by the editor, the ad-hoc committee may seek other sources of relevant information, such as the IEEE Intellectual Property Rights Office. However, the ad-hoc committee shall not contact the institution where the work was performed unless it has explicit information that such institution has already investigated the issue.

Revisions to 8.2.4.B – Investigating Possible Author Misconduct, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

C. CORRECTIVE ACTIONS FOR AUTHOR MISCONDUCT

1. If a finding of misconduct relevant to an IEEE publication (data misrepresentation/fabrication, plagiarism, multiple submission, or prior publication, etc.) is made by an editor, then appropriate corrective and/or disciplinary actions shall be initiated.
2. For all cases involving alleged plagiarism or the multiple submission/publication of the same manuscript, the editor shall inform the PSPB Chair of the investigating committee's conclusions or recommend action(s) to the PSPB Chair in accordance with Section 8.2.4.D "Guidelines for Adjudicating Different Levels of Plagiarism" and Section 8.2.4.F

“Guidelines for Adjudicating Prior Publication, Multiple Submission, and Reuse of Previous Publications.”

3. Except for cases involving allegations of plagiarism or multiple submission/publication (see Sections 8.2.4.D and 8.2.4.F below for more specific information), the PSPB Chair shall notify the individual(s) named in the editor’s recommendation that an action is being reviewed. The PSPB Chair shall offer the named individual(s) the opportunity to respond within 30 days to the recommended action, and the Chair may choose to request additional information from the editor and/or the named individual(s).
4. No sooner than 30 days and no later than 90 days after notifying the individual(s) named in the editor’s recommendation, the PSPB Chair will issue a final determination of corrective action(s) to be taken. The decision of the PSPB Chair is final and not subject to further appeal within the process and guidelines specified by Section 8.2.4.

Revisions to Section 8.2.4.C – Corrective Actions, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

D. GUIDELINES FOR ADJUDICATING DIFFERENT LEVELS OF PLAGIARISM.

The following guidelines require or recommend appropriate corrective actions to be taken by editors of IEEE publications for each of five defined levels (or degrees) of plagiarism. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, (a) uncredited copying of someone else’s work, (b) using someone else’s material without clear delineation or citation, and (c) uncited reuse of an author’s previously published work that also involves other authors. Guidelines for referencing of other peoples’ work are covered in Section 8.2.9. It should be noted that plagiarism is a type of copyright infringement, and as such may also subject the author(s) to legal liability. These Guidelines apply to all manuscripts at any point in the publication process, from initial submission to final publication.

The following corrective actions must be taken, absent special circumstances that provide good cause for varying some or all of the specified measures. Such special circumstances must be identified in writing to, and the variation approved by, the PSPB Chair.

Proposed corrective actions related to level 1 or 2 of the following shall be approved by the PSPB Chair. Furthermore, a number of the corrective actions below either require or allow notice of the offense to be placed in the IEEE electronic database and/or in the relevant publication.

1. Uncredited Verbatim Copying of a Full Paper. [The most extreme case of plagiarism is when a full paper is copied and any name of the original author list is replaced with another person.], or Uncredited Verbatim Copying of a Major Portion (more than 50%) within a Single Paper. [An instance is where a large section of the original paper is copied without quotation marks, credit notice, reference, and bibliography. This case also includes instances where different portions of a paper are copied without attribution from a number of papers by other authors, and the sum of plagiarized material is more 50%.], or Uncredited Verbatim Copying within More than a Single Paper by the Same Author(s). [This case includes instances where more than one paper by the offending author(s) has been found to contain plagiarized content, and all the percentages of plagiarized material in each of the discovered papers sum to greater than 50%.]
  - a. Corrective actions to be taken for level-1 violations involving only one paper are:
    - (1) Whenever possible, publication of a notice of violation of Publication Principles, as specified in Section 8.2.4.E, in the IEEE electronic database as part of the article’s bibliographic record
    - (2) Whenever possible, publication of a notice of violation of Publication Principles, as specified in Section 8.2.4.E, in the appropriate IEEE publication where the author(s) and the specific paper have been found to be in violation of IEEE Principles against plagiarism
    - (3) Prohibition of publication in all IEEE-copyrighted publications by the offending individual(s) for three to five years as determined by PSPB

- Chair
- (4) Rejection and return of all papers by the author(s) that are currently in review or in any IEEE publication queue (papers may be re-submitted after prohibition term has expired).
- b. Recommended corrective actions for level-1 violations involving only one paper may also include the following:
    - (1) Offending individual(s) prepare and submit an apology to the plagiarized author(s) and publication editor(s).
    - (2) Publication of the offending author's apology.
  - c. If the action recommended by Section 8.2.4.D.1.b.(1) is taken, and the offending individual(s) fail to apologize in writing, the following corrective action shall be taken:
    - (1) The duration of the prohibition of publication in all IEEE-copyrighted publications specified by Section 8.2.4.D.1.a.(3) shall be increased by one or two years as determined by PSPB Chair.
  - d. Corrective actions for level-1 uncredited verbatim copying within more than one paper by the offending author(s) shall include the following.
    - (1) For instances where all the percentages of plagiarized material in each of the discovered papers sum to greater than 50%, corrective actions shall follow the guidelines in Sections 8.2.4.1.a through 8.2.4.1.c, noting that different authors and multiple editors might be involved.
    - (2) For instances where percentages of plagiarized material in one or more of the discovered papers is greater than 50%, corrective actions shall be assigned to each offense following the guidelines in Sections 8.2.4.1.a through 8.2.4.1.c, and the PSPB Chair has the discretion of applying any combination of the assigned corrective actions that the Chair considers appropriate.
  - e. A repetitive level-1 misconduct by authors previously found guilty of level-1 offense shall result in an increase by one or two years of the duration of suspension of publication privileges specified by Section 8.2.4.D.1.a.(3) as determined by PSPB Chair. For multiple repetitive level-1 misconducts, the PSPB Chair can administer up to and including a lifetime prohibition of publication in all IEEE-copyrighted publications.
2. Uncredited Verbatim Copying of a Large Portion (greater than 20% and up to 50%) within a Paper. [An instance is where a section of the original paper is copied from another paper without quotation marks, credit notice, reference, and bibliography. This case also includes instances where different portions of a paper are copied without attribution from a number of papers by other authors, and the sum of copying results in a large portion of plagiarized material (up to 50%) in the paper.], or Uncredited Verbatim Copying within More than One Paper by the Same Author(s). [This case includes instances where the sum of plagiarized material from the different papers would constitute the equivalent of a large portion (greater than 20% and up to 50%) of the discovered paper with the fewest words.]
- a. In this case corrective actions that must be taken are:
    - (1) Whenever possible, publication of a notice of violation of Publication Principles, as specified in Section 8.2.4.E, in the IEEE electronic database as part of the article's bibliographic record
    - (2) Whenever possible, publication of a notice of violation of Publication Principles, as specified in Section 8.2.4.E, in the appropriate IEEE publication where the author(s) and the specific paper have been found to be in violation of IEEE Principles against plagiarism
    - (3) Prohibition of publication in all IEEE-copyrighted publications by the offending individual(s) for one to three years as determined by the Organizational Unit's publications officer
    - (4) Rejection and return of all papers by the author(s) that are currently in review or in any IEEE publication queue (papers may be re-submitted after prohibition term has expired).
  - b. Recommended corrective actions for uncredited verbatim copying of large

- portions of papers may also include the following:
- (1) Offending individual(s) prepare and submit an apology to the plagiarized author(s) and publication editor
  - (2) Publication of the offending author's apology.
- c. If the corrective action recommended by Section 8.2.4.D.2.b.(1) is taken, and the offending individual(s) fail to apologize in writing, the following corrective action shall be taken:
- (1) The duration of the prohibition of publication in all IEEE-copyrighted publications specified by Section 8.2.4.D.2.a.(3) shall be increased by one or two years as determined by the Organizational Unit's publications officer.
- d. Level-2 uncredited verbatim copying within more than single paper by the offending author(s) is equivalent to a level-1 offense, and corrective actions shall follow the guidelines in Sections 8.2.4.1.a through 8.2.4.1.c, noting that different authors and multiple editors might be involved.
- e. A repetitive level-2 misconduct by authors previously found guilty of level-1 or level-2 offense shall result in an increase by one or two years of the duration of suspension of publication privileges specified by Section 8.2.4.D.2.a.(3) as determined by PSPB Chair. Sequential instances of level-2 plagiarism will be determined using the same definition specified in Section 8.2.4.D.1.d.(2). For multiple repetitive level-2 misconducts, the PSPB Chair can administer up to and including a lifetime prohibition of publication in all IEEE-copyrighted publications.
3. Uncredited Verbatim Copying of Individual Elements (Paragraph(s), Sentence(s), Illustration(s), etc.) Resulting in a Significant Portion (up to 20%) within a Paper. [An instance could be where portions of original paper are used in another paper without quotation marks, credit notice, reference, and bibliography.]

    - (3) Whenever possible, publication of a notice of violation of Publication Principles, as specified in Section 8.2.4.E, in the appropriate IEEE publication where the author(s) and the specific paper have been found to be in violation of IEEE Principles against plagiarism.
  - c. The following actions may also be taken:
    - (1) Publication of a notice of violation of Publication Principles, as specified in 8.2.4.E, in the IEEE electronic database as part of the article's bibliographic record.
    - (2) Publication of the offending author's apology.

4. Uncredited Improper Paraphrasing of Pages or Paragraphs. [Instances of improper paraphrasing occur when only a few words and phrases have been changed or when the original sentence order has been rearranged; no credit notice or reference appears with the text.]
- a. In this case corrective actions that shall be taken are:

5. Credited Verbatim Copying of a Major Portion of a Paper without Clear Delineation.
 [Instances could include sections of an original paper copied from another paper; credit notice is used but absence of quotation marks or offset text does not clearly reference or identify the specific, copied material.]
- a. In this case corrective actions that shall be taken are:
    - (1) Offending individual(s) prepare and submit an apology to the original author(s) and publication editor
    - (2) Offending individual(s) prepare correction or retraction and submit this document to the editor for publication.

F. GUIDELINES FOR EDITORIAL REUSE OF PREVIOUSLY PUBLISHED MATERIAL, AND ADJUDICATING INAPPROPRIATE REUSE OF PREVIOUS WORK OR THE FAILURE TO INFORM EDITORS OF PREVIOUS PUBLICATIONS OR MULTIPLE SUBMISSIONS.

It is common in technical publishing for material to be presented at various stages of its evolution. As one example, this can take the form of publishing early ideas in a workshop, more developed work in a conference and fully developed contributions as journal or transactions papers. The IEEE recognizes the importance of this evolutionary publication process as a significant means of scientific communication and fully supports this publishing paradigm. At the same time the IEEE requires that this evolutionary process be fully referenced. The following procedures are presented in light of these principles.

1. Editorial Reuse of Previously Published Material. The Editor of a publication may choose to re-publish existing material for a variety of reasons including promoting wider distribution and serving readers by aggregating special material in a single publication. This practice is recognized and accepted by the IEEE. When such a re-publication occurs, the papers must be annotated as being republished, and their original publication venue cited. As necessary, appropriate permission shall be obtained.
2. Author Obligations to Cite Previous Work. If author(s), within the evolutionary publishing paradigm, have used their own previously published or submitted material as a basis for a new submission, Section 8.2.1.B.9 requires that the author(s) cite the previous work(s) and very clearly indicate how the new submission differs from the previously published work(s). Guidelines for referencing of author’s previous work are covered in Section 8.2.9. Authors who do not properly cite their previous work and who are found not to be in compliance with the requirements of Section 8.2.1.B.9 are also subject to corrective actions.

- a. In these cases corrective actions that shall be taken are:
  - (1) Offending individual(s) will be reminded that the practice is considered inappropriate scholarly practice, referred to Sections 8.2.1.B.9 and 8.2.9, and notified that repeated offenses could result in correction actions as specified in Section 8.2.4.F.3.b.
- b. In cases of a second offense, corrective actions that shall be taken are:
  - (1) A formal warning to offending individuals stating that, if additional offenses are discovered, action 2c shall occur
- c. An additional offense following action 2b shall result in suspension of publication privileges in all IEEE Publications for one year and rejection and return of all papers by the author(s) that are currently in review or in any IEEE publication's queue (papers may be re-submitted after suspension term has expired).

Proposed corrective actions related to level-2c violations of Section 8.2.4.F.2 shall be approved by the PSPB Chair.

3. Author Obligations to Inform Editors of Previous Work. As described in Section 8.2.1.B.9, authors should only submit original work that has neither appeared elsewhere for publication, nor which is under review for another refereed publication. Multiple submission is defined as a given manuscript being concurrently under active consideration by two or more publications. It is at the discretion of each IEEE Organization Unit whether or not to allow multiple submission. Authors shall inform editors of multiple submissions of manuscripts. Authors in violation of these multiple-submission guidelines are subject to corrective actions.
  - a. At the time of manuscript submission, or during the review of a manuscript, the editor was not informed that the manuscript had been published.
    - (1) In this case, corrective actions that shall be taken are:
      - (i) A formal warning to offending individual(s)
    - (2) In this case, corrective actions that may also be taken are:
      - (i) Offending individual(s) prepare and submit an apology to the publication editor
      - (ii) Publication of the offending author's apology.
    - (3) Discovery of a second offense shall result in:
      - (i) Another formal warning to offending individuals stating that, if additional offenses are discovered, action a(4) shall occur
      - (ii) Suspension of publication in the IEEE publication where the offense took place by the offending individual(s) for one year of the publication or, if appropriate, the next volume of the conference proceedings.
    - (4) An additional offense following action a(3) of Section 8.2.4.F.3 shall result in suspension of publication privileges in all IEEE Publications from three to five years as determined by the PSPB Chair and rejection and return of all papers by the author(s) that are currently in review or in any IEEE publication's queue (papers may be re-submitted after suspension term has expired).
  - b. Lack of disclosure to the editor by the author(s) that the manuscript is under active consideration by another publication. Individual publications can choose to either accept or reject outright concurrent consideration of manuscripts. Authors should be made aware of the publication's policy on this matter.
    - (1) In case authors fail to inform the editor of other consideration of the paper, corrective actions that shall be taken are:
      - (i) Offending individual(s) will be reminded that the practice is considered inappropriate scholarly practice, referred to Sections 8.2.1.B.9 and 8.2.7, and notified that repeated offenses could result in correction actions as specified in 8.2.4.F.2.b.
    - (2) Discovery of a second offense shall result in:
      - (i) Another formal warning to offending individuals stating that, if additional offenses are discovered, action a(3) of Section 8.2.4.F.3 shall occur

- (3) An additional offense following action b(2) of Section 8.2.4.F.3 shall result in suspension of publication privileges in all IEEE Publications for one year and rejection and return of all papers by the author(s) that are currently in review or in any IEEE publication's queue (papers may be re-submitted after suspension term has expired).

Proposed corrective actions related to level a(4) or b(3) of Section 8.2.4.F.3 shall be approved by the PSPB Chair.

(See also Section 8.1.7 – Multiple Publication of Original Technical Material in IEEE Periodicals and Section 8.2.1.B – Responsibilities of Manuscript Authors.)

G. RELATIONSHIP TO THE IEEE CODE OF ETHICS

Violations of Section 8.2.4 may also constitute violations of the IEEE Code of Ethics. Beyond the application of adjudication guidelines of Section 8.2.4.D, the complainant, if an IEEE member, may bring the case to the IEEE Ethics and Member Conduct Committee upon the completion of all appropriate investigations and actions through the respective Organizational Unit and PSPB.

8.2.5 Transactions, Journals and Letters

- A. Periodicals with TRANSACTIONS, JOURNAL or LETTERS in the title are the primary means for publication of technical papers concerning original work in IEEE fields of interest. These periodicals may also contain reviews and tutorial papers concerning such work. The primary purpose of these periodicals is to disclose, and provide a permanent archival record of original technical work that advances the state of the art or provides novel insights. Papers in these periodicals should be of lasting value to the profession as judged by the authors' peers through a formal review process.
- B. All papers that appear in TRANSACTIONS, JOURNAL or LETTER periodicals must list the author(s) and affiliation(s) and must undergo peer review according to the process set forth in Section 8.2.2. Papers are to be selected strictly on the basis of merit and appropriateness.
- C. Editorials, instructions, copyright forms, lists of referees, announcements of special issues and other material concerning the publication may be included in these periodicals.
- D. The following standards apply to all TRANSACTIONS, JOURNAL, and LETTER periodicals.
1. All of these periodicals shall have a uniform format and style and should be fully and uniformly edited, including quality graphics and text.
  2. The front cover shall have a header containing the full name of the periodical, as well as the ISSN, volume and issue numbers.
  3. Flexibility in the use of the area underneath the front cover header is allowed, such as placement of the table of contents or the use of appropriate photographs or graphical designs.
  4. A cover spine, when used, shall contain the full name of the periodical, as well as volume and issue numbers.
  5. Minimum Activity. These publications must be published periodically, and at a rate not less than quarterly.
  6. Volume Numbering. The volume number shall increase successively by one each calendar year.
  7. Indexing. Only the technical material will be indexed. Indexing will be left to the discretion of the indexing staff of the IEEE Publications department.
  8. For internal consistency, the title of these periodicals will normally be IEEE TRANSACTIONS ON _____, or IEEE JOURNAL OF _____, or IEEE _____ LETTERS.
  9. All papers published in IEEE Transactions, Journals, and Letters shall have printed on the first page the date that the manuscript was initially received and the date on which the manuscript was received in finalized form from the authors for publication. These two dates shall serve to define the start and end of the review process.

(See also Section 8.1.6 – Titling Protocols for IEEE Publications.)

Revisions to Section 8.2.5 – Transactions, Journals and Letters, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.2.6 Magazines

- A. IEEE Magazines are characterized by regular and continuing issues with significant technical content in addition to general news and regular columns. Magazines are made available to libraries, institutions and individuals on a subscription basis. They are so organized that material within them can be referenced.
- B. Minimum Activity. The Magazine shall be published periodically, and at a rate not less than quarterly.
- C. The technical content shall constitute a significant component of the Magazine and shall be refereed as described in Section 8.2.2 before publication.
- D. Volume Numbering. The volume number shall increase successively by one each calendar year.
- E. Stable Titles. The title of the Magazine and any later revisions shall be approved by the sponsoring IEEE Organizational Unit and PSPB. The title shall normally begin with "IEEE" and end with "Magazine." If an exception is desired, a reason for it must accompany the title application to PSPB. Title changes are to be avoided unless clearly needed.
- F. Indexing. Only the technical material will be indexed. Indexing will be left to the discretion of the indexing staff in the IEEE Publications Department, with the agreement of the Magazine editor.

(See also Section 8.1.6 – Titling Protocols for IEEE Publications.)

Revisions to Section 8.2.6 – Magazines, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.2.7 Conference Publications

Papers presented at IEEE meetings sponsored wholly or in part by any IEEE Organizational Unit may be published in IEEE Conference Records or Proceedings. Prior permission to do so shall be obtained from the sponsoring IEEE Organizational Unit who shall be responsible for ensuring that appropriate IEEE copyright (see Section 8.1.4) is obtained for each paper published and that the publication is correctly titled (see Sections 8.1.5 and 8.1.6). Conference publications may require peer review as specified by Section 8.2.2.B.

Allegations of misconduct by authors of papers in IEEE conference proceedings shall be investigated by the publication's editor, i.e., the person responsible for the conference publication, or by the Publication Officer of the IEEE Organizational Unit that sponsored the conference if the allegation is made after the publication of the conference proceedings. The procedures prescribed in Section 8.2.4 shall be used in any such allegation involving conference proceedings.

All inquiries regarding publication by an agency outside of IEEE of papers presented at any IEEE meeting shall be directed to the IEEE Intellectual Property Rights Manager, and no representative of a Section, Society, or any other IEEE Organizational Unit is authorized to grant such permission.

Revisions to Section 8.2.7 – Conference Publications, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.2.8 Newsletters

Newsletters are usually published by IEEE Organizational Units (Boards, Committees, Societies, Councils, Sections, and Chapters). Newsletters are not considered archival periodicals, although they may be archived by the Organizational Units.

Newsletters are normally distributed only to members of the Organizational Unit as a member benefit, and are intended to communicate news and information deemed of interest to the members. Typical information includes: reports on Organizational-Unit activities, messages from officers and the editor, letters from the readers, calls for papers, news from chapters, meeting notices, conference reports, awards publications of interest to the readers.

Newsletters may also contain technical articles of general interest to the members. Documents for the purpose of informing members about a conference, meeting, special event, or any other items of interest shall not be titled a Newsletter. Such publications should be titled bulletin, announcement, news release, Organizational-Unit notice, or other descriptive term preceded by the Organizational-Unit name.

A. QUALITY ASSURANCE

To assure quality, conformance with applicable postal regulations, and protection of IEEE copyrights, PSPB will periodically review each Newsletter. Each Newsletter editor will supply the first issue of each calendar year, to the IEEE Staff Executive - Publications.

B. REQUIREMENTS

The following requirements are necessary conditions for publication of IEEE Organizational Unit Newsletters:

1. Newsletter Title. The title of an Organizational Unit Newsletter shall contain the "IEEE," and the "Organizational Unit name." The word "Newsletter" is suggested as part of the title, but is not mandatory. Identification of the full name of the IEEE must be within the first two pages of the newsletter and in any required postal statement.
2. Masthead. The following information shall be included on the Newsletter front cover page masthead:
  - a. The Newsletter title
  - b. IEEE Logo Master Brand (the IEEE Logo, followed by the letters "IEEE")
  - c. Name of Organizational Unit
  - d. Volume and/or issue number
  - e. Date of issue
3. Frequency of Publication. The Newsletters can be published at any frequency, but three (3) issues or more per year are recommended. However, if a United States second-class non-profit postal permit is used, it is a requirement of the U.S. Postal Service that the newsletter be published four (4) times within the calendar year.
4. U.S. Postal Permits. All requests for United States second-class postal permits must be made through Publishing Operations of the IEEE Publications department, which holds the main permit for IEEE publications. IEEE staff will handle the processing of the application. Applications for third-class bulk rate permits may be submitted directly to any local post office.
5. Pricing and Subscription. The Newsletter shall be supplied to each Organizational-Unit member at no additional charge. Free copies of the newsletter may be given to nonmembers at conferences, meetings, etc., to encourage them to join IEEE and/or the Organizational Unit. Society and Technical Council Newsletters may be made available for sale via subscription in order to accommodate the needs of libraries and non IEEE members. Subscriptions shall be limited to Newsletters that have intellectual and technical content of value to non IEEE members. The appropriateness of a Newsletter for subscription, and the nonmember subscription price shall be determined by the Society or Technical Council and approved by the TAB Periodicals Council and PSPB

6. Advertisements. Advertising is permitted in newsletters, including IEEE ads, when approved by the governing body of the Organizational Unit and subject to the provisions of IEEE Policy.
7. Copyright. Many Newsletters regularly publish original or reprinted technical articles which require copyright protection. The following guidelines shall be followed to protect the IEEE, its authors, and other publisher rights.
  - (a) Newsletters that do not contain technical articles/papers shall have the following statement printed on the front inside cover or appropriate credits section: "IEEE Information contained in this newsletter may be copied without permission provided that copies for direct commercial advantage are not made or distributed, and the title of the publication and its date appear on each copy."
  - (b) Newsletters that provide at least one (1) technical paper or scholarly paper within an issue shall operate under the following procedures:
    - (1) Original technical material (article/paper) must be accompanied by a signed IEEE Copyright Form by the author. Copyright Forms can be obtained from the IEEE Intellectual Property Rights Office.
    - (2) Material reprinted from other publishers must be accompanied by a letter of permission granted by the original publisher (contact IEEE Copyrights and Permissions Office for a sample request letter and other assistance). Publisher's credit line or acknowledgment must appear on the first page of the reprinted article.

Revisions to Section 8.2.6 – Newsletters, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.2.9 Referencing Guidelines

- A. A manuscript submitted for publication to IEEE should be original work submitted to a single IEEE publication. The manuscript should not have been published previously and should not be concurrently under consideration for publication elsewhere. The IEEE assumes that material submitted to its publications is properly available for general dissemination for the readership of those publications. It is the responsibility of the authors, not the IEEE, to determine if disclosure of their material requires the prior consent of other parties. If prior consent is required, then authors must obtain permission prior to manuscript submission.

At times, it may be necessary for authors to reuse portions of their own previously published work or to include another author's material.
- B. When an author uses text, charts, photographs, or other graphics from another author's material, the author shall:
  1. Clearly indicate reused material and provide a full reference to the origin (publication, person, etc.) of the material and
  2. Obtain written permission from the publisher or, if the reused material has not been published, obtain written permission from the original source.
- C. When an author reuses text, charts, photographs, or other graphics from his/her own previously published material, the author shall:
  1. Clearly indicate all reused material and provide a full reference to the original publication of the material and
  2. If the previously published or submitted material is used as a basis for a new submission, clearly indicate how the new submission differs from the previously published work(s).

8.2.10 IEEE Organizational-Unit Publications

IEEE Policy 6.6 – IEEE Organizational-Unit Publications

Any IEEE Organizational Unit may issue a local publication. The publication's objective shall be consonant with the objectives of the IEEE.

Organizational Units shall inform the IEEE Publications Services and Products Board of such publication and provide copies as published to the appropriate member of the IEEE staff as designated by the Executive Director.

8.3 IEEE-Wide Initiatives by PSPB

8.3.1 THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE IEEE

The PROCEEDINGS OF THE IEEE publishes comprehensive, in-depth review, tutorial, and survey papers written for technically knowledgeable readers who are not necessarily specialists in the subjects being treated. The papers are of long-range interest and broad significance. Coverage includes all aspects of electrical and computer engineering and science, including the managerial, historical, economic, and ethical aspects of technology.

The relevant policies of PSPB are implemented by the Editor-in-Chief and the Editorial Board of the PROCEEDINGS.

The Editor-in-Chief of the PROCEEDINGS is responsible for obtaining reviews by qualified experts of each article to be published. Special effort shall be made to select the most appropriate reviewers for each article. Reviewers may be sought through the PROCEEDINGS Editorial Board or directly by the Editor-in-Chief.

Revisions to Section 8.3,1 – THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE IEEE, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

8.3.2 IEEE SPECTRUM

IEEE SPECTRUM is a monthly publication distributed to all IEEE members.

IEEE SPECTRUM is a magazine emphasizing high quality technical articles and reports concerning electrical engineering science and technology.

A. EDITORIAL MISSION & OBJECTIVES

The primary editorial mission & objectives of IEEE SPECTRUM shall be to:

1. Explore the development and use of new and emerging technologies and their underlying science, as well as interesting current technologies;
2. Present high-quality articles about technology, prepared using objective, professional journalistic standards, and written to be meaningful to a wide audience;
3. Carry feature articles related to the professional concerns of IEEE members, such as jobs, salaries, careers, and management; and
4. Provide a forum for opinion, discussion, and leadership in these areas, even if the topics debated are controversial.

IEEE SPECTRUM shall also occasionally contain material devoted to professional and technical activities of the IEEE, where such material is appropriate to the format determined by its primary editorial mission & objectives 8.3.2.A.1 and 8.3.2.A.2. At the discretion of the editor, articles may contain statements of opinion or speculation, provided they are clearly labeled as such.

2. The IEEE SPECTRUM Advisory Board shall provide advice and counsel to PSPB and the editor related to the editorial mission and content of IEEE SPECTRUM.

C. REVIEW PROCEDURES

The Editor of IEEE SPECTRUM is responsible for obtaining review by qualified IEEE experts of each article to be published. Special effort shall be made to select the most appropriate reviewers for each article. In the case of technical articles, such reviewers may be sought through the IEEE SPECTRUM Editorial Board or through the IEEE Technical Activities organization. In the case of articles dealing with professional and IEEE activities, controversial issues can often lead to a wide range of interpretation, and a more formal reviewer-selection process is required. Therefore, in addition to the usual review mechanisms, the Editor will submit articles dealing with subjects within the area of activities of any of the Major Boards of IEEE to a representative of that Board designated by that Board's Chair. The Board representative must have the article reviewed within two working weeks. In order to facilitate this review, a hard copy of the article will be transmitted to the representative unless the reviewer chooses to conduct the review by telephone. Should the Board representative reviewing the article determine that the article presents a position not in consonance with the Board's position on the subject, or a position which conflicts with the Board's present objectives or goals, then the representative may require that the Editor make some editorial space available for the purpose of presenting the Board's position. There are a number of methods by which such material can be presented on behalf of the Board's position, and the method to be used in each instance will be determined by the Editor. However, it is desirable that such opposite views be published in the same issue, and preferably on the same page. In the event of disagreement in the handling of such material, the PSPB Chair shall arbitrate the dispute.

Revisions to Section 8.3.2 – IEEE SPECTRUM, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

Articles must be reviewed by the Board Chair or designee within two working days. In order to facilitate this review, a copy of the article will be transmitted to the reviewer, unless he or she chooses to conduct the review by telephone.

8.3.4 THE IEEE PRESS

The IEEE PRESS is operated to serve the information needs of members and the profession. It accomplishes this by publishing books and electronic media of high quality and usefulness, by co-publishing with non-IEEE Organizational Units, and by distributing products of other publishers. Authors and editors benefit from the success of books by sharing incentive royalties with book sponsors. The governing body of the Press is the Press Editorial Board, hereinafter called the Press Board. The Press Board provides advice and counsel to the PSPB and IEEE PRESS. The Press Board and the IEEE PRESS shall operate according to procedures in this Section.

Proposals from individuals, from Societies and from other IEEE Organizational Units are welcome. Publication decisions are reached by the director of IEEE PRESS and the Press Editorial Board in accordance with standard publishing practices or as directed by the Press Board.

A. BOOK SPONSORSHIP

1. Books may be sponsored by an IEEE Organizational Unit, such as a Society, Council or the EAB. To qualify as a sponsor, the Organizational Unit must meet the following conditions:

- a. A sponsor should be an existing, continuing IEEE Organizational Unit. An ad hoc body formed solely for the purpose of sponsoring a book would not normally qualify.
  - b. The operational responsibilities of the sponsor should be such as to qualify it to take responsibility for the technical organization of the book and to identify potential buyers and promote the book within the sponsor's membership, in accordance with the terms of the sponsorship agreement.
2. Sponsors shall share in the royalties according to a scheme that recognizes the extent of their contribution to the project. The royalty schedule shall be set forth from time to time by the Press Board and approved by PSPB.
  3. Books proposed by the IEEE PRESS, or by individuals to the IEEE PRESS, that fall predominantly in the field of one Organizational Unit will be referred for further consideration to that Organizational Unit as the most appropriate sponsor. Books that overlap the fields of several entities without falling predominantly into the field of any one Organizational Unit may be cosponsored by several Units. The IEEE PRESS reserves the right to sponsor books referred to such IEEE Organizational Units, when they fail to act on the books or decline to sponsor.
  4. All books issued under the IEEE PRESS imprint are subject to review and acceptance by the IEEE PRESS Board.

Revisions to Section 8.3.4 – IEEE PRESS, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

Any proposal for a new periodical shall include at least the following information:

1. Description and title of periodical, including frequency of appearance, methods of dissemination, and length of each issue.

2. Evidence that the topic of the periodical is within the Organizational Unit's field of interest and does not conflict with another IEEE periodical.
3. Evidence that there is sufficient interest in the proposed content and that the number of potential papers and size of the readership is sufficiently large to establish a viable new periodical with a long-term potential.
4. Three-year financial plan.

In addition, the periodical's sponsoring Organizational Unit shall undertake to ensure that quality standards for IEEE publications will be met.

It is recommended that the Editor and other staff be selected before proposal submission and their names be included in the proposal. Otherwise, the proposal shall include assurances that these individuals will be appointed in time to facilitate on-time production of the first issue.

D. APPROVAL PROCESS

There are two ways of gaining approval for new periodicals of an established type; traditional and expedited. If a publication is to be included in the annual member billing and promotional cycle, approval must be obtained on or before 30 June.

1. Traditional. In the traditional process, the sponsoring Organizational Unit must first gain the approval of the Major Organizational Unit to which it reports. Then the documentation specified in Section 8.4.1.C along with the Major Organizational Unit's endorsement must be received by the Staff Executive - Publications at least four weeks prior to the PSPB meeting at which the proposal is to be considered. It is recommended that a representative of the sponsoring Organizational Unit attend this meeting to present the proposal and answer questions.
2. Expedited. In order to be eligible for expedited approval, the Major Organizational Unit to whom the periodical's sponsoring unit reports must have defined a process to be followed, which incorporates at least all the items in Section 8.4.1.C, is approved by PSPB, and is on file with the Staff Executive - Publications. For each publication thus approved, the Organizational Unit shall forward for information purposes a copy of the documentation to the Staff Executive - Publications. The Staff Executive - Publications will bring to the attention of PSPB any approvals which appear to be non-compliant.

Revisions to Section 8.4.1 – Approval of New Periodicals, as contained in this manual, require the review and approval of the IEEE Board of Directors, using the process in accordance with IEEE Bylaw I-300.4(5).

- (2) No advertising shall be placed in an approved class of publication unless authorized by its sponsoring Organizational Unit.
- (3) All advertising income will be credited to and expenses borne by the sponsoring Organizational Unit.

The Publication Services and Products Board is assigned the responsibility of monitoring the suitability of the advertising and its adherence to the above requirements.

See also Section 8.1.8 - Advertising Procedures.

8.4.3 Publication of Periodicals Outside the IEEE

Publication of periodicals outside the IEEE is permitted only with the approval of PSPB and the Board to which the sponsoring Organizational Unit reports. Approval shall only be granted when the conditions below have been met. Periodicals that are published under the supervision of IEEE staff are defined as published inside the Institute. All others are considered to be published outside the Institute. Periodicals that are not published under the supervision of IEEE staff are termed as being published "Outside the IEEE."

- A. The sponsoring Organizational Unit shall submit a written proposal for such publication, with which the relevant Director concurs.
- B. There shall be a potential distinct cost or time advantage for comparable quality, or if the expected advantage is other than cost or time, that expected advantage shall be stated in the proposal.
- C. Quotations shall be obtained from at least two sources other than the IEEE for editing, composition, printing, and distributing the periodical.
- D. The sponsoring Organizational Unit shall have a functioning broad-based publishing organization, including a Publications Committee, an Editor, and Associate Editors, or equivalent.

- G. An annual review shall be made for three years after a transition to publication outside IEEE is made and thereafter at least every five years, with more frequent review at the discretion of PSPB.
- H. All contracts for outside publication shall be handled through the IEEE Publications department. (Sponsoring Organizational-Unit officers may make initial, exploratory negotiations, but the final documents are subject to review by and signature of the Staff Executive - Publications, or his or her designated agent.)
- I. The sponsoring Organizational Unit shall continue to pay its appropriate share of the fixed costs established for the IEEE Publications department for a period of three years following withdrawal from the use of the IEEE Publications-department services for the publication of Organizational-Unit periodicals. The schedule of said fixed costs per page shall be determined by the Staff Executive - Publications. It shall reflect the then current conditions in the IEEE Publications department and shall receive the approval of PSPB. Then, the sponsoring Organizational Unit shall pay its fee according to the sliding scale-as follows.
  1. In year two of the three-year recovery period, the fee is based on the number of pages currently published by the periodical times the fixed cost per page.
  2. In year two, the fee will be 2/3 of the annualized fixed costs.
  3. In year three, the fee will be 1/3 of the annualized fixed costs.

In summary, the total is equal to fixed costs for two years. Any services of the IEEE Publications department in connection with the transition to outside publication, or required to correct deficiencies in the performance of the outside publisher, will be billed separately and shall be an additional responsibility of the sponsoring Organizational Unit.
