

Think it's harmless to drive stoned?

An estimated 38,000 high school seniors in the U.S. reported in 2001 that they had crashed while driving under the influence of marijuana.

Research shows that smoking weed affects a driver's concentration, perception, coordination, and reaction time. How's that for harmless?

Get the facts at www.freevibe.com

