

Jonathan McNeill
9533 Miranda Drive
Raleigh, NC 27613
Adm_Gecko@bigfoot.com

In my opinion DeCSS cannot possibly be used to infringe copyrights because NOBODY is going to put a 5 Gigabyte movie on the internet, I wouldn't even save one on my hard drive. DVD's take up too much space and have the ability to take up to 17 Gigs! Please stop this unfair treatment of people who simply want to be able to use their LEGALLY BOUGHT DVD's on their computers.

On a side note, while I have your attention. Please stop the abuse of Bleem! They make a program that allows you to play Playstation Games on your computer, but it cannot play off the hard drive, and even if it could download the files on the internet, they are also WAY TO BIG! I bought Playstation games that I otherwise would not have bought, because I do not want to buy a Playstation. Thanks for your attention.