

US Census MAF/TIGER Accuracy Improvement Project (MTAIP)

<http://www.census.gov/geo/www/tiger/index.html>

Program Highlights

Data Product

Street centerline files with road names and address ranges for geocoding

Advantages

- Realigned files accurate enough to use as FEMA base map
- Smaller, often easier to work with than orthophotos
- Vector based maps can be easier to read
- Beginning in the Fall of 2007, TIGER spatial data will be available in shapefile format

Disadvantages

- Program extends from 2004 to 2008. Entire country not yet available.
- Some communities may prefer orthophotos
- TIGER/Line files may still contain features that have not been realigned to more accurate source data

Program Overview

The US Census Bureau is realigning the street features in a portion of the nation's counties or statistically equivalent entities each year until all counties are completed in 2008.

Data Details and Availability

The U.S. Census Bureau has continued to release realigned TIGER/Line files twice a year. The 2006 Second Edition TIGER/Line files are the second of two versions of the TIGER/Line files that contain updated 2006 geographic boundaries.

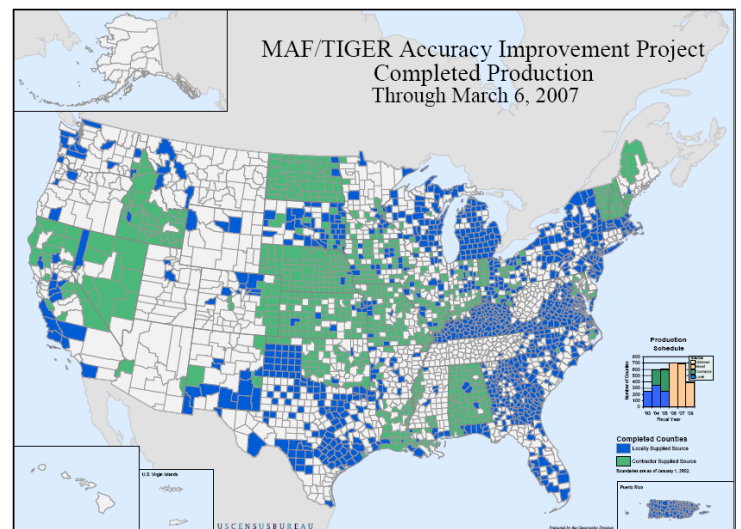

The 2006 Second Edition TIGER/Line files cover 1,949 counties and county equivalents. A listing of these counties can be found below.

Data Applicability to Flood Mapping Program

Realigned files accurate enough to use as FEMA base map.

Data Ordering

Data is available directly from the US Census website. Currently, the 2004 TIGER/Line Files are available online in ASCII format and are free to download.

In addition, you can purchase the files on CD-ROM or DVD from the Customer Services Center at (301) 763-INFO (4636).

2006 First and Second Edition TIGER/Line Files

The Census Bureau has realigned street features in the counties or statistically equivalent entities listed below as part of the MAF/TIGER Accuracy Improvement Project (MTAIP) using sources with a horizontal spatial accuracy of circular error 95 (CE95) at 7.6 meters or better. Information about the source and the horizontal positional accuracy of that source appears in the county-based metadata included as part of each compressed 2006 Second Edition TIGER/Line file. The 2006 Second Edition TIGER/Line Technical Documentation has further information on the use of Record Type M to determine the spatial accuracy for any individual line segment.
