

SECURITY - DEVELOPMENT - TRANSITION MULTI NATIONAL FORCE - WEST

Dec. 27, 2008

Christmas visitor brings joy to Marines in Iraq

By Lance Cpl. Jacob A. Singsank

ALASAD, Iraq – Cpl. Joshua T. Rogers, 21, Sedalia, Mo., heavy equipment operator, Transportation Security Company, Combat Logistics Battalion 2, 1st Marine Logistics Group, receives a present from Santa Claus here Dec. 25. Two-hundred and fifteen Marines and Sailors each received a gift that was donated by family members and friends of the family of Capt. Tim P. Maloney, commanding officer, TS Co., CLB-2, 1st MLG.

“Being away from friends, family and home isn’t easy,” said Maloney, 30, Milton, Mass. “To brighten up their ... Click for more...”

Cpl. Joshua T. Rogers, 21, Sedalia, Mo., heavy equipment operator, Transportation Security Company, Combat Logistics Battalion 2, 1st Marine Logistics Group, receives a present from Santa Claus here Dec. 25.

STORIES FROM THE FRONT

RCT - 1 STORIES

Karmah Sons of Iraq make transition

By Lance Cpl. Achilles Tsantarliotis

Anywhere, anytime

By Cpl. Chris T. Mann

Ramadi Marines get Christmas surprise

By Lance Cpl. Jerry Murphy

I MEF STORIES

Carolers bring Christmas cheer to Al Asad

By Construction Elect. Richard Olmedo

1st MLG STORIES

Tight-knit Marine security unit regular ‘band of brothers’

By Lance Cpl. Paul Torres

RCT - 5 STORIES

Bn takes root in new area of ops

By Lance Cpl. Scott Schmidt

Marines Facilitate Regional Security Meeting

By Capt. Paul Greenberg

USO show ‘Rocks’ Al Asad

By Lance Cpl. Paul Torres