Joint Force Quarterly is published by the National Defense University Press for the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. JFQ is the Chairman’s flagship joint military and security studies journal designed to inform members of the U.S. Armed Forces, allies, and other partners on joint and integrated operations; national security policy and strategy; efforts to combat terrorism; homeland security; and developments in training and joint professional military education to transform America’s military and security apparatus to better meet tomorrow’s challenges while protecting freedom today.

NDU Press produces JFQ four times a year. The goal of NDU Press is to provide defense and interagency decisionmakers, allies, and the attentive public with attractive, balanced, and thoroughly researched professional publications.

NDU Press is the National Defense University’s cross-component, professional, military, and academic publishing house. It publishes books, policy briefs, occasional papers, monographs, and special reports on national security strategy, defense policy, national military strategy, regional security affairs, and global strategic problems. NDU Press is part of the Institute for National Strategic Studies, a policy research and strategic gaming organization.

This is the authoritative, official U.S. Department of Defense edition of JFQ. Any copyrighted portions of this journal may not be reproduced or extracted without permission of the copyright proprietors. Joint Force Quarterly should be acknowledged whenever material is quoted from or based on its content.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Joint Force Quarterly welcomes submission of scholarly, independent research from members of the Armed Forces, security policymakers and shapers, defense analysts, academic specialists, and civilians from the United States and abroad. A PROFESSIONAL MILITARY
AND SECURITY JOURNAL

Delightful are the prospects that will open the view of United America—her sons well prepared to defend their own happiness, and ready to relieve the misery of others.

—John Dickinson, 1788

Their blood and their toil, their endurance and patriotism, have made us, and all who come after us forever their debtors.

—President Theodore Roosevelt, 1903

If we are strong, our character will speak for itself. If we are weak, words will be of no help.

—President John F. Kennedy, 1963

In a free society it is impossible to protect against every possible threat. And so the only way to defend our citizens where we live is to go after the terrorists where they live.

—President George W. Bush, 2005
