

Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway

The Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway is a navigable link between the lower Tennessee Valley and the Gulf of Mexico. Stretching 234 miles through northeast Mississippi and west Alabama, the "Chain of Lakes" Waterway system has ten lakes, ten locks, and a series of dams.

The Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway has thousands of acres of land and water managed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and local state agencies for fisheries, wildlife, forestry, and recreation.

Developed parks and facilities include beaches, campgrounds, nature trails, picnic areas, playgrounds, visitor centers, and launch ramps.

You are invited to visit and enjoy all of the Corps of Engineers facilities on the Tennessee-Tombigbee. We ask only that you obey posted regulations and help us take care of the facilities so that others may enjoy them as well.

Town Creek Campground

Town Creek Campground is located on Columbus Lake of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway. Its modern facilities offer all the “comforts of home”, while its setting on the banks of the old Tombigbee River is nostalgic of earlier days. Town Creek runs into the old river just north of the Campground, providing a quiet getaway for fishermen and canoeists. On top of the hill overlooking the Tombigbee is Kennedy Lake, offering fishing, a sand beach, a swimming area (for campers and registered guests only), and primitive camping. The nature trail circling the lake crosses the water in a number of places by way of wooden footbridges. From the back of the lake, water cascades down a stone waterfall and into a creek that meanders through the park.

The campground is a Class-A facility. The 100 sites provide accommodations which include concrete pads, picnic tables, grills, lantern posts, fire rings, electrical and water hookups, and plenty of shade. Additional facilities include: handicapped/special access sites and facilities, primitive camping, picnic shelters, sewer connections or sewage dump station, laundry facilities, restrooms, hot showers, playground, fish cleaning station, hiking trails, and game courts.
