

California farmers grow $362 million worth of avocados each year. In fact, they lead the nation in avocado production. First find--then color green--the letters in the word A V O C A D O.

