Hello. My name is Mary Jo Myers. As the wife of a former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, I have witnessed the selflessness and integrity of our men and women in uniform and their families for four decades. Their sense of pride and purpose inspires us all.

As Americans, it is part of our heritage and the strength of our country to serve something greater than self.

Nothing compares with the fulfillment that comes from seeing how great an impact your time can have on another person's life. I feel this when I volunteer. From orphanages in Afghanistan to schools in Virginia, I've seen firsthand that there are opportunities to volunteer at home and abroad.
