Annex 1 to Council Resolution 07-14

Commission for Environmental Cooperation
Reporting on the State of the North American Environment

Summary Work PlanConcept

The purpose of this activity is to:

1. identify key environmental themes with relevance at the North American scale;
2. inform and stimulate the Council's deliberations on cooperative activities;
3. provide a North American view of environmental issues and themes rather than comparing the performance of Parties or specific jurisdictions;
4. provide insight into continental conditions and issues, not merely summarize existing national reports;
5. track environmental issues and themes over time on a continental scale to allow decision makers to assess trends;
6. complement international processes in which the Parties participate; and
7. inform the development of the CEC's 2010–2015 strategic plan.

The CEC Secretariat will work with a Party-designated advisory group to complete this activity. This advisory group has recommended an acceleration of the work plan for this activity, requiring supplemental funding for 2007 tasks.

Supplemental costs in 2007 are estimated to be approximately C$80,000 to research and write briefing papers that would describe approximately 15 major North American environmental themes. These briefing papers would be completed by the end of 2007 to allow time for editing, expert and party review, and clearance before presentation to the Council in 2008.

The information synthesized as a consequence of this activity will inform the development of the CEC's cooperative work plan and the Commission's 2010–2015 strategic plan.
