

Foodborne Illness

This section covers the many hazards and opportunities for foodborne illness in our kitchens and meal service. It highlights key points for identifying and eliminating these hazards and tools and tips for keeping food safe. Safe food that is fresh and properly prepared and served entices our customers to return time and again to our school restaurant.