

Hides and Skins

Hides and skins exported from the United States to Thailand must be accompanied by an export document with the following certification statements:

The products originate from animals which:

1. have shown no signs of anthrax during ante-mortem and post-mortem inspections;
2. come from establishments which are not placed under quarantine on account of anthrax control