

“Certificate for the Export of Spray Dried Porcine Blood to Peru” Instructions

APHIS VS endorsement of the “Certificate for the Export of Spray Dried Porcine Blood to Peru” must be based on an annual inspection to ensure that the exporting facility meets the government of Peru’s requirements for the importation of this product. The statements on this certificate constitute Peru’s requirements, and they are the basis for APHIS VS inspection of the exporting facility.

This certificate should be placed on the endorsing VS Area Office letterhead stationary prior to endorsement. Please note that the government of Peru has advised that this certificate must be completed accurately, and all statements must be included. Products arriving with incomplete export certificates will be denied entry. For question #7, the exporter should check the treatment option(s) that apply to the product being exported.
