2008 - 2012 Farm Bill, Food for Peace Act, Title II

U.S. agricultural commodities are to be used to:

- (1) Address famine and food crises, and respond to emergency food needs, arising from man-made and natural disasters;
- (2) Combat malnutrition, especially in children and mothers;
- (3) Carry out activities that attempt to alleviate the causes of hunger, mortality and morbidity;
- (4) Promote economic and community development;
- (5) Promote food security and support sound environmental practices;
- (6) Carry out feeding programs; and
- (7) Promote economic and nutritional security by increasing educational, training, and other productive activities.

Food Security

FFP focus: Reduce food insecurity in vulnerable populations

USAID Policy Determination (1992): "...all people at all times have both physical and economic access to sufficient food to meet their dietary needs for a productive and healthy life."

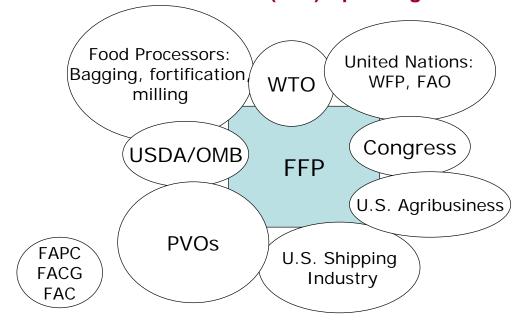

Food availability: Sufficient quantities of food from household production, other domestic output, commercial imports or food assistance

Food access: Adequate resources to obtain appropriate foods for a nutritious diet, which depends on income available to the households and the price of food

Food utilization: A diet providing sufficient calories and essential nutrients, potable water and adequate sanitation, as well as household knowledge of food storage and processing techniques, basic principles of nutrition, and proper child care and illness management
