MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

MISSION AND OVERVIEW

The mission of the Library of Congress Cooperative Acquisitions Program is to support advanced research and study about all aspects of the less-developed areas of the world, through the acquisition and distribution of primary research materials published in more than 82 developing nations. These materials are not otherwise reliably available in the United States. Because of over forty years of participation in this program, the research libraries of the nation's most prestigious universities have developed unequalled collections which support advanced research about the developing world. In fiscal year 2005, the Library supplied more than 474,500 individual bibliographic pieces to more than 94 U.S. institutions of higher learning and academic institutions abroad.

HISTORY

In 1958, Congress approved Public Law 83-480, Section 104n, which amended the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act of 1954 (popularly known as Public Law 480) and authorized the Librarian of Congress to use foreign currencies that accrued to the government in connection with the sales of agricultural commodities to finance "the acquisition of books, periodicals, and other materials...of cultural or educational significance...and the deposit thereof in libraries and research centers in the United States specializing in the areas to which they relate."

This amendment led to the formation of the Library's overseas offices and Cooperative Acquisitions Program. The overseas offices were created due to the ineffectiveness of conventional international commercial methods in acquiring books and other research materials from less-developed countries. Because of the lack of established publishing industries or international vendors, poor book distribution systems, and the political and economic instability of the nations of the developing world, a local presence is the only effective way to acquire the needed primary source materials.

In 1962, the Library opened the New Delhi Office, and by 1964 had opened offices in Karachi, Pakistan; Dacca, Pakistan (now Bangladesh); Cairo, Egypt; Tel Aviv, Israel; and Jakarta, Indonesia. In 1965, Congress expanded the Library's overseas offices through Public Law 89-329, the Higher Education Act of 1965, Title II-C, known as the National Program for Acquisitions and Cataloging (NPAC).

Between 1962 and 1986, twenty-three overseas offices were funded for operations; all but six were closed when no longer needed. Since 1987, the Library has operated six overseas offices: New Delhi, India; Cairo, Egypt; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Jakarta, Indonesia; Nairobi, Kenya; and Islamabad, Pakistan.

These six overseas offices are responsible for acquiring materials for the Library of Congress collections and, on a cost recovery basis, for the participants in the Cooperative Acquisitions Program. The offices are under the administrative control of the Library's African/Asian Acquisitions and Overseas Operations Division.

OVERVIEW OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Fiscal year 2005 is the eighth year of operation for the Cooperative Acquisitions Program Revolving Fund (CAPRF). Section 207 of the Legislative Branch Appropriations for fiscal year 1998 (P.L. 105-55) established CAPRF from the existing balances in the gift fund program, and mandated that the Library submit annual audited financial statements for the revolving fund. CAPRF is authorized to acquire foreign publications and research materials on behalf of participating institutions on a cost recovery basis. In accordance with Federal accounting standards, the Library has prepared Balance Sheets, Statements of Net Costs, Statements of Changes in Net Position, Statements of Budgetary Resources, and Statements of Financing for CAPRF.

Balance Sheets

The purpose of the balance sheets are to provide financial statement users with information about CAPRF's assets, liabilities, and net position as of September 30, 2005 and 2004. CAPRF's net position consists of the funds approved in Public Law 105-55 to initially capitalize the fund and the net results of operations through September 30, 2005 and 2004.

Assets			Liabilities and Net Position
	2005	2004		2005	2004
Intragovernmental	$3,665,445	$ 3,768,111	Intragovernmental Liabilities	$ 77,300	$ 322,104
Other	36,393	99,935	Other Liabilities	3,074,893	2,984,157
			Net Position	549,645	561,785
Total Assets	$3,701,838	$3,868,046	Total Liabilities and Net Position	$3,701,838	$3,868,046

CAPRF's assets total $3.7 million and $3.9 million in fiscal years 2005 and 2004, with the Fund Balance with the Department of the Treasury as the major item. CAPRF's liabilities total $3.2 million and $3.3 million for fiscal years 2005 and 2004, consisting of accounts payable ($0.5 and $0.4 million for fiscal years 2005 and 2004) and the advances received from the program participants ($2.4 million and $2.6 million for fiscal years 2005 and 2004 that would be refunded to participants upon program termination, and $0.3 million and $0.4 million for fiscal years 2005 and 2004 that would not be refunded upon program termination).

Statements of Net Costs

The purpose of the Statements of Net Costs are to provide financial statement users with information about the program costs ($2.6 million and $2.4 million) and earned revenues ($2.6 million and $2.2 million) for CAPRF for the fiscal years ended September 30, 2005 and 2004. In other words, the statements present the net costs of the program: net costs of under $0.1 million for fiscal year 2005 and net costs of $0.1 million for fiscal year 2004. As cited in Public Law 105-55, CAPRF recovers its full costs over a reasonable period of time.

Statements of Changes in Net Position

The purpose of the Statements of Changes in Net Position are to provide financial statement users with information about CAPRF's financing sources and the components of the changes in net position. The CAPRF net position decreased by the net program costs (under $0.1 million), which included imputed costs that is equally offset with an imputed financing source.

Statements of Budgetary Resources

The Statements of Budgetary Resources and the related disclosures provide information about how budgetary resources were made available as well as their status at the end of the period. The Budgetary Resources section of the statements presents the total budgetary resources available to the CAPRF. The Status of Budgetary Resources section of the statements presents information about the status of budgetary resources at the end of the period. Finally, the Outlays section presents the total outlays of CAPRF and reconciles obligations incurred to total outlays.

CAPRF's budgetary resources were $5.7 million and $5.7 million for fiscal years 2005 and 2004, of which $2.9 million and $2.7 million was the unused balance from the previous fiscal year and $2.3 million and $2.5 million was obtained from the participants in fiscal years 2005 and 2004. In fiscal year 2005, outlays were $0.2 million. In fiscal year 2004, negative outlays of $0.2 million occurred because incoming amounts from participants exceeding outlays of funds for the program activities.

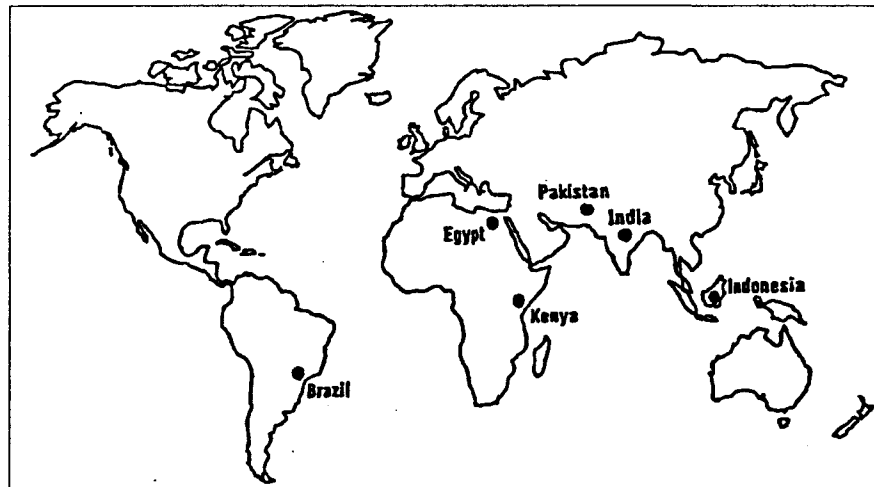

Statements of Financing

The Statements of Financing are presented to explain how budgetary resources obligated during the fiscal year (presented on the Statements of Budgetary Resources) relate to the net costs of operations of the CAPRF (presented on the Statements of Net Costs). The CAPRF had $0.3 million and $0.2 million difference between its net obligations ($0.3 million and ($63) thousand for fiscal years 2005 and 2004) and its net cost (under $0.1 million in fiscal 2005 and under $0.1 million in fiscal 2004) due to the change in unfilled participant orders ($0.2 million and $0.2 million in fiscal years 2005 and 2004), and imputed financing (under $0.1 million for both years).

LIMITATIONS OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

CAPRF's financial statements are the culmination of a systematic accounting process. The statements have been prepared to report the financial position and results of operations of the CAPRF, pursuant to the hierarchy of accounting principles and standards set forth in Note 1 to the financial statements. While the statements have been prepared from the books and records of the Library of Congress, the statements are in addition to the financial reports used to monitor and control budgetary resources which are prepared from the same books and records. The statements should be read with the realization that they are for a component of the U.S. Government, a sovereign entity. One implication of this is that obligations and subsequent liabilities cannot be incurred without legislation that provides authority to do so.

COOPERATIVE ACQUISITIONS PROGRAM REVOLVING FUND

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Fiscal Year Ended September 30, 2005 and 2004

Note 1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity

The Cooperative Acquisitions Program Revolving Fund (CAPRF) was authorized by Public Law 105-55 on October 7, 1997. The Library of Congress (the Library) operates CAPRF on a cost recovery basis to acquire foreign publications and research materials for participating institutions. The operations of CAPRF are managed by the African/Asian Acquisitions and Overseas Operations Division (AfA/OVOP). Fees charged to the participants are set and approved by the Library to recover the full direct and indirect costs of the program incurred by the Library over a reasonable period of time.

The institutions that participate in the program constitute more than 94 academic libraries. The program is managed by six overseas field offices: Jakarta (Indonesia), Nairobi (Kenya), Cairo (Egypt), Rio de Janeiro (Brazil), New Delhi (India), and Islamabad (Pakistan).

B. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements and schedules report the financial position, operations, changes in net position, and the budgetary resources of CAPRF for fiscal years 2005 and 2004. These statements and schedules include amounts of all funds designated by law and managed for the purpose of CAPRF. The statements were prepared from the Library's financial management system in accordance with the form and content for entity financial statements specified by the Library's financial management regulations and directives and the accounting policies summarized in this note.

As a legislative branch agency, the Library is not required to follow the executive agency accounting principles established by the Comptroller General under 31 U.S.C. 3511 or standards developed by the Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board (FASAB). However, the Library maintains its fund balances with the Department of the Treasury and submits information required to incorporate its financial and budget data into the overall federal government structure. For purposes of financial management and reporting, the Library has issued a regulation (LCR 1510) which adopts the federal standards for financial reporting and internal controls in a manner consistent with a legislative agency.

C. Basis of Accounting

Transactions are recorded on the accrual basis and are within budgetary limitations established to facilitate compliance with legal constraints and controls over use of federal funds. Under the accrual method, revenues are recognized when earned and expenses are recognized when incurred, without regard to receipt or payment of cash.

The Library's financial statements conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America as promulgated by the FASAB. The American Institute of Certified Public Accountants recognizes FASAB Standards as generally accepted accounting principles for federal reporting entities.

The statements were also prepared based on guidance published in the Office of Management and Budget Bulletin 01-09, Form and Content of Agency Financial Statements. The Library is not required to adopt this bulletin, and accordingly has elected to use the disclosures management deems necessary for the fair presentation of financial statement information.

D. Financing

CAPRF is credited with advances and amounts received as payment for purchases under the program and for services and supplies furnished to program participants. For accounting and reporting purposes, AfA/OVOP management has segmented the Cooperative Acquisitions Program into six field offices.

E. Use of Estimates in Preparing Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements, in conformity with Federal accounting standards, requires management to make estimates and assumptions. These estimates affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Note 2. Fund Balance with Treasury

The amount shown as Fund Balance with Treasury represents CAPRF's obligated and unobligated balances, which are as follows:

	2005	2004
Obligated	$938,589	$ 855,483
Unobligated	2,700,428	2,912,628
Fund Balance with Treasury	$3,639,017	$3,768,111

Note 3. Accounts Receivable, Net

Intragovernmental accounts receivable represent amounts due from the appropriated fund for amounts originally charged against CAPRF. Net and gross amounts are equal because no bad debt expense is expected.

Note 4. Cash and Other Monetary Assets

Cash represents CAPRF cash on hand that was not deposited with the United States Treasury as of September 30, 2005 and 2004.

Note 5. Inventory and Related Property

CAPRF inventories are primarily comprised of postage that will be consumed in future operations.

Note 6. Accounts Payable

The Intragovernmental accounts payable amount primarily represents accrued payments due to the appropriated fund for fiscal years 2005 and 2004. The non-governmental accounts payable amount represents accrued operating expenses of the program, such as payments to vendors for materials and services and accrued funded employee benefits.

Note 7. Advances from Others

This unearned revenue account represents current liabilities for funds collected in advance from the program participants. These collections are for direct expenses, such as the cost of materials acquired on the participants' behalf. These funds are available for obligation upon receipt of the advance. The advances are accompanied by an order profile from the participating institution. If a program participant cancels an order, these amounts are either applied to subsequent orders or are refunded.

Note 8. Other Liabilities

Other liabilities consist of funds collected in advance from the program participants and unearned for indirect expenses (overhead) associated with the administration of the program. The unearned funds are available for obligation upon receipt of the advance. If a program participant cancels an order, these amounts are immediately recognized as revenue and are not refunded.

Note 9. Intra-governmental Activities

The financial activities of CAPRF interact with and depend on the services of the U.S. Air Force (for military postal service postage) and the Department of State for administrative support.

Note 10. Earned Revenues

Revenues are recognized as earned based on (1) actual expenses incurred for materials, binding, and shipping; and (2) CAPRF overhead applied according to the overhead rate applicable for each field office. CAPRF overhead rates are updated each year according to an overhead model consistent with the concept of full cost described in SFFAS No. 4, "Managerial Cost Accounting Concepts and Standards for the Federal Government." The driver for CAPRF overhead rates is the direct cost of materials.

Note 11. Library Overhead Costs Included in Program Costs and Imputed Financing Sources

Certain Library overhead costs were included in the program costs for each field office. In compiling CAPRF's fiscal years 2005 and 2004 financial statements, the Library allocated Library-wide overhead costs to the revolving fund programs using the direct method of allocating service department costs. The two types of Library-wide overhead costs are costs associated with the Office of the Chief Financial Officer, and Integrated Support Services. These overhead costs were further allocated to the six field offices of CAPRF using a rational and systematic allocation base. The total amount of overhead allocated over the six field offices was $97,098 and $73,728 for fiscal years 2005 and 2004. Of the fiscal year amount, $89,110 and $67,825 was charged to the field offices through the Library's administrative working funds for fiscal years 2005 and 2004. A corresponding imputed financing source of $7,988 and $5,903 was recognized for the unreimbursed portion of the allocated Library overhead for fiscal years 2005 and 2004. As administrative working funds rates are derived bi-annually and are based on prior year data, fluctuations between years can occur.

Note 12. Budgetary Resources Obligated for Undelivered Orders

Budgetary resources obligated for undelivered orders at September 30, 2005 and 2004, for each of the six field offices are as follows:

	2005	2004
Jakarta, Indonesia	$ 73,627	$ 183,892
Nairobi, Kenya	27,191	57,608
Cairo, Egypt	71,430	37,163

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

Independent Auditor's Report

Inspector General, Library of Congress, and Cooperative Acquisitions Program Revolving Fund

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of the Cooperative Acquisitions Program Revolving Fund (CAPRF) as of September 30, 2005 and the related statements of net costs, changes in net position, budgetary resources, and financing for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of CAPRF's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

SUMMARY

As stated in our opinion on the financial statements, we concluded that CAPRF's financial statements for the years ended September 30, 2005 are presented fairly, in all material respects, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our consideration of internal control over financial reporting disclosed no material weaknesses. However, since the Library of Congress (the Library) processes all of CAPRF's financial transactions, any Library systemic reportable conditions are applicable to the subsidiary Funds. We identified the following reportable conditions in our audit of the Library: (1) Weakness in General Support System (GSS) Controls, and (2) an Entity-wide Security Program was not fully implemented.

However, we do not consider these reportable conditions to be material weaknesses.

The results of our tests of compliance with certain provisions of laws and regulations disclosed two instances of noncompliance, described below, that are required to be reported herein under Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States:

- Noncompliance with the Congressional Accountability Act of 1995
- Noncompliance with Public Law 105-55 – Annual Report.

The results of our tests disclosed no other instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

The following sections discuss our opinion on CAPRF's financial statements, our consideration of CAPRF's internal control over financial reporting, our tests of CAPRF's compliance with certain provisions of applicable laws and regulations, and management's and our responsibilities.

OPINION ON FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of CAPRF as of September 30, 2005 and 2004, and the related statements of net costs, changes in net position, budgetary resources, and financing for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of CAPRF's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and the significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of CAPRF as of September 30, 2005 and 2004, and its net costs, changes in net position, budgetary resources, and financing for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements referred to in the first paragraph. The information in the Management's Discussion and Analysis is not a required part of CAPRF's financial statements, but is considered supplementary information required by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin No. 01-09, Form and Content of Agency Financial Statements. We have applied certain limited procedures, which consist principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of this information; however, we did not audit this information and express no opinion on it.

The accompanying supplemental information contained in the Supplemental Schedules of Program Costs and Participants by State is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

In planning and performing our audit, we considered CAPRF's internal control over financial reporting by obtaining an understanding of CAPRF's internal control, determined whether internal controls had been placed in operation, assessed control risk, and performed tests of controls in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the financial statements. We limited our internal control testing to those controls necessary to achieve the objectives described in OMB Bulletin No. 01-02, Audit Requirements for Federal Financial Systems. We did not test all internal controls relevant to operating objectives, as broadly defined by the Federal Managers' Financial Integrity Act of 1982, such as those controls relevant to ensuring efficient operations. The objective of our audit was not to provide assurance on internal control. Consequently, we do not provide an opinion on internal control.

Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be reportable conditions. Under standards issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, reportable conditions are matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the CAPRF's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions by management in the financial statements. Material weaknesses are reportable conditions in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Because of inherent limitations in internal controls, misstatements, losses, or noncompliance may nevertheless occur and not be detected. We noted certain matters discussed in the following paragraphs involving internal control and its operations that we consider to be reportable conditions. However, none of the reportable conditions is believed to be a material weakness.

CAPRF is a component of the Library's consolidated financial statements. We identified two reportable conditions in performing our audit of the Library's financial statements for the year ended September 30, 2005. The findings related to Information Technology (IT) and its role in financial transactions. The Library processes all of CAPRF's financial transactions. Therefore, the weaknesses which we identified in the Library's financial audit also affect CAPRF's internal control structure. The reportable conditions are as follows:

- We identified significant control weaknesses in the Library's GSS in prior financial audits which affected the availability, integrity, and confidentiality of all applications and data residing in the processing environment. Effective October 1, 2004, the Library implemented Momentum, a web-based financial management system (FMS). Inherent in the FMS is a workflow process in which document images are maintained and approvals occur within the system. The time and attendance system also incorporated an online approval process. Because of the impact of the GSS security weakness, we could not rely on the online approvals and other application controls in the old environment.

In order to address the significant control concerns, the Library Information Technology Services (ITS) developed the Financial Hosting Environment (FHE) to maintain only certified and accredited GSS and applications, including the financial applications to ensure that access to financial data and applications was effectively restricted. ITS completed the FHE in late June 2005. While the FHE has appropriate risk assessments, security plans, and security testing and evaluations, it was in place for only three months, and we could not rely on FHE controls.

- The Library has not implemented an Entity-wide Security Program in compliance with Library of Congress Regulation 1620 (LCR 1620). While the Library has developed a plan and strategy for an Entity-wide Security Program (dated July 2005), the program has not been implemented across the entity. As of January 2006, the Library has established a more comprehensive Entity-wide Security Program. We recommend that the Library continue its efforts to implement, enforce, and monitor compliance with LCR 1620 and related directives across all systems, specifically those outside the FHE.

COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS

The management of CAPRF is responsible for complying with laws and regulations applicable to CAPRF. As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether CAPRF's financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws and regulations, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts and certain other laws and regulations specified in OMB Bulletin 01-02. We limited our tests of compliance to these provisions and we did not test compliance with all laws and regulations applicable to CAPRF.

The results of our tests of compliance with the laws and regulations described in the preceding paragraph disclosed an instance of noncompliance, described below, with the following laws and regulations that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and OMB Bulletin No. 01-02.

- CAPRF was not in compliance with the Congressional Accountability Act (CAA) of 1995. In the CAA, Congress made its facilities and employees subject to the same safety laws that applied outside of the Legislative Branch. In 1997, other provisions of the CAA applied fire safety standards to Congressional buildings. The Office of Compliance conducted a year-long fire safety investigation that culminated in a report issued in January 2001 that identified numerous safety hazards in the three Capitol Hill Buildings utilized by CAPRF.

- CAPRF was not in compliance with Public Law 105-55 Section 207 (e). Public Law 105-55 states that not later than March 31 each year, the Librarian of Congress shall prepare and submit to Congress an audited financial statement for the revolving fund for the preceding fiscal year. The audit shall be conducted in accordance with Government Auditing Standards for financial audits issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. The Library communicated its inability to meet the statutory reporting requirement to the Senate and House Appropriation Committees on October 26, 2005. The noncompliance resulted primarily from reporting delays associated with a financial system conversion.

Providing an opinion on compliance with certain provisions of laws and regulations was not an objective of our audit and, accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Library of Congress Office of Inspector General, the management of CAPRF, and Congress, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Dear Mr. Kubistal:

Thank you for the opportunity to review and comment on your audit report of the Library of Congress's Cooperative Acquisitions Program Revolving Fund financial statements for fiscal year 2005.

We are very pleased that for the seventh consecutive year, the Cooperative Acquisitions Program Revolving Fund financial statements have received an unqualified audit opinion.

Please accept my appreciation for a professional audit report.

Sincerely,
