

Charge it! with FEDLINK

It's fast, easy and secure . . . all through Pay.gov

Now you can pay for InterAgency Agreements (IAGs) and training with a federal credit card on single transactions that do not exceed $92,000. You can even use your federal credit cards to add funds, cover your serials, books and direct pay account administrative fees for books and serials.

It's fast, easy and secure... all through Pay.gov!

For more information about Pay.gov or to contact them with questions, see the "Help" section at www.pay.gov. If you have questions about your IAG payments, please call the FEDLINK Fiscal Hotline at (202) 707-4900 or email fliccffo@loc.gov. If you have any questions about your training information, please call FEDLINK Network Operations at (202) 707-4848 or fliccfno@loc.gov.

Step One: Start the Transaction Through FEDLINK

Make IAG Payments

Complete your transfer pay services transaction through FEDLINK's Online Registration System (<http://www.loc.gov/flicc/onlinedoc/online.html>), retrieve your copy of the IAG and complete it as usual. Just select "Using a Government Credit Card" in the "Payment Method" section.

If the entire amount for your IAG is equal to or less than $92,000.00 in service dollars, you can fund the entire IAG in just one transaction. FEDLINK will generate an invoice based on your signed IAG.

Add Funds to An IAG

If you established an IAG using a federal credit card, you can add funds to the same IAG later using your federal credit card, through electronic funds transfer ("IPAC") or by check. FEDLINK will also accept credit card payment to add funds to an IAG already established using either IPAC or check.

Remember: A single transaction may not exceed $92,000 in service dollars. FEDLINK transactions must cover service dollars and administration fees as one payment and cannot exceed the Pay.gov ceiling of $99,999.
