

AFI Asset-Building Web Site

The Assets for Independence Asset-Building Web site provides information about the AFI Program, funding opportunities, and resources for grantees and others interested in asset building. Check the page regularly for new information on effective practices from the field, updates on policies, and details on special events. The Web site includes links to all AFI program information and services, and to many other resources for project implementation.

The address is <http://www.acf.hhs.gov/assetbuilding/>.
