SELECTED REGULATIONS FROM THE CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS (CFR), SELECTED EXECUTIVE ORDERS (EO), AND SELECTED STANDARDS RELATED TO HISTORIC PRESERVATION

All regulations, executive orders, and standards are officially published in the Code of Federal Regulations, the United States Code, or the Federal Register. All three sources can be accessed via the home page for the Government Printing Office, Access GPO

<http://www.access.gpo.gov>. The site and the accompanying search engines can be challenging to use. Most of the government websites listed below are more direct and they contain the pertinent information regarding the preservation laws in question. The official government sites guarantee the official language and the most current information. Those interested in finding the most recent iterations of the documents should use Access GPO. The National Park Service posts many documents, laws, regulations, and standards at its "Links to the Past" site: www.cr.nps.gov.
