

Thomas Kent

This exemptions shall apply to:
Digital audio and video.

Summary:

An exemption should be given for any work that I have purchased. If I own it, I should be able to play it back on any device that I wish to.

Detailed Description

I have purchased music and television from Apple's iTunes store. Since I own it I should be able to play it back on my iRiver digital media player. I can not currently do this because of the digital restriction management that is in place on these files.