

Name: Daniel Maas

Class of works: I am writing in support of Class #3 (Unskippable DVD Advertising): Audiovisual works released on DVD that contain access control measures that interfere with the ability to control private performance, including the ability to skip promotional materials.

Summary:

Disc name: Best of Beavis and Butthead (MTV, distributed by Time Life)

Each DVD in this set plays a long (1-2 minute) introductory piece, which includes advertising for Time Life and MTV and is not skippable with a licensed DVD player. I find this very annoying -- not so much the advertising itself as the illegality of making a player that skips it.
