Summary:

Disc name: Dangerous Liaisons

I am requesting an exemption for copy protection because Dangerous Liaisons would not work in my region #1 player. In the early fall of 2000 I purchased a copy of the film Dangerous Liaisons from Amazon UK. This was the first of several products I wanted to purchase from the UK branch of Amazon.com. However, when the disc arrived I found that it would not work at all in my DVD player (an Apex brand). As a result I was out the cost of the movie and shipping. Finally a friend of mine turned it into a wall clock, which is cool, but I would much prefer to be able to watch the movie for which I paid.
