Summary:

Disc name: Red Dwarf - Series I

I would like an exemption for copy protected DVD's because the British TV Show, "Red Dwarf -- Series I" DVD will not play on my region #1 DVD player. I'm sure this is not an original story, but I can be one more name to add to the list. There is a British TV show called Red Dwarf. It is a Sci-fi/comedy show that has achieved a fair "cult following" in the US, but not enough of a following to make it marketable to US mainstream media viewers. In 2002, the first season was released on DVD -- in Britain only. The show's official website (reddwarf.com) will allow one to purchase the "region-2" DVD. I am being unfairly restricted from viewing this DVD (which is available, just not, apparently, to US citizens).
