I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, NASD included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. NASD has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

(A) Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

On August 20, 2002, Governor George E. Pataki signed into law an act that requires fingerprint-based background checks of self-regulatory organization ("SRO") employees who are regularly employed in New York State.⁴ The New York law also requires an SRO to fingerprint independent contractors that provide services to the SRO if those individuals have "access to records * * * or other material or secure buildings or secure property, which place the security of [the SRO] at risk."⁵ The New York law requires NASD to implement and maintain a fingerprinting program for employees and certain independent contractors in New York State.

Access to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's ("FBI") database of fingerprint-based criminal records is permitted only when authorized by law. Numerous Federal and State laws authorize employers to conduct fingerprint-based background checks that make use of the FBI's database.⁶ Notably, section 17(f)(2) of the Act⁷ and SEC Rule 17f-2⁸ require employees of broker-dealers, transfer agents, and clearing agencies to be fingerprinted and authorize SROs to maintain facilities for processing and storing fingerprint cards and criminal record information received from the FBI database with respect to such cards. Although section 17(f)(2) does explicitly direct the Attorney General of the United States (i.e., the FBI) to provide SROs designated by the Commission with access to criminal history record information, it does not, however, require SROs to fingerprint their own employees. NASD believes, therefore, that a proposed rule change for a fingerprinting program for NASD employees and independent contractors located in New York State is a necessary component of NASD's compliance with New York State law, and of any plan by NASD, as dictated by its assessment of business need, to implement a program for fingerprint-based background checks of its employees and independent contractors in other jurisdictions as permitted by law.

As reflected in the text of the proposed rule change, the program applies to: (1) Prospective and current NASD employees in New York State, as well as prospective and current temporary employees and independent contractors in New York State who have or are anticipated to have access to NASD facilities in New York State or NASD records or systems for a specified number of days as determined by NASD from time to time, and (2) as NASD deems necessary according to business need, to prospective and/or current employees in other jurisdictions, as well as prospective and current temporary employees and independent contractors who have or are anticipated to have access to NASD facilities or records in other jurisdictions.

NASD evaluates information received from the FBI concerning an individual in accordance with the terms of NASD's written fingerprint policy, which reflects the application of employment laws governing the use of information concerning criminal convictions in employment decisions. In accordance with such laws, a felony or serious misdemeanor conviction will be a factor in considering whether to hire a prospective employee, take adverse employment action with respect to a current employee, or deny prospective or current independent contractors or temporary employees access to NASD's facilities or records.

2. Statutory Basis

NASD believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with section 15A(b)(6) of the Act⁹, which requires, among other things, that NASD's rules must be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, promote just and equitable principles of trade, and, in general, protect investors and the public interest. NASD believes the proposed rule change will provide a basis for NASD's compliance with New York State law, which requires fingerprint-based background checks of SRO employees who are regularly employed in New York State as well as of independent contractors that provide services to the SRO if those individuals have "access to records * * * or other material or secure buildings or secure property, which place the security of [the SRO] at risk", and further permit NASD to implement a fingerprinting program in other jurisdictions, as business need may dictate.

(B) Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

NASD does not believe that the proposed rule change will result in any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

(C) Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

Written comments were neither solicited nor received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action.

The proposed rule change has been filed by the NASD pursuant to section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act¹⁰ and subparagraph (f)(3) of Rule 19b-4 thereunder.¹¹ Because the foregoing proposed rule change is concerned solely with the administration of the NASD, it has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act¹² and Rule 19b-4(f)(3)¹³ thereunder.

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such proposed rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.
