Availability of the Final Environmental Impact Statement for the Missouri River Master Water Control Manual Review and Update

AGENCY: Department of the Army, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, DoD. ACTION: Notice of availability.

SUMMARY: In accordance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and implementing regulations, a Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) has been prepared to evaluate the environmental impacts of a Preferred Alternative (PA) Water Control Plan for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (Corps) operation of the Missouri River Mainstem Reservoir System (Mainstem Reservoir System). The Missouri River Master Water Control Manual (Master Manual) specifies the operating criteria for the operation of six Corps dams and reservoirs on the mainstem of the Missouri River. The original Master Manual was published in December 1960. Revisions were published in revised Master Manuals in 1975 and 1979. The existing Master Manual establishes guidelines for operation of the Mainstem Reservoir System for the multiple project purposes of flood control, hydropower, water supply, water quality, irrigation, navigation, recreation, and fish and wildlife. Each year an Annual Operating Plan is developed using the Water Control Plan outlined in the Master Manual as a guide. During the periods 1987–1993 and 2000-present, the Missouri River basin experienced moderate to severe droughts. There were numerous lawsuits concerning the Corps' operation of the reservoirs during both droughts. In November 1989, the Corps initiated a Review and Update of the Master Manual and published a Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) in 1994. In response to public comments and requests for additional studies received during the comment period following publication of the DEIS, the
