Applications for loans for physical damage as a result of this disaster may be filed until the close of business on February 9, 2004, at the address listed

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Termination of the Waiver of the Nonmanufacturer Rule

AGENCY: Small Business Administration.
ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The decision to terminate this waiver of the Nonmanufacturer Rule is based on evidence provided to the SBA that there are small businesses which manufacturer items within this class of product. Terminating this waiver will require recipients of contracts set aside for small or 8(a) businesses to provide the product of domestic small business manufacturers or processors where this class of product is required. A notice to terminate a waiver of the Nonmanufacturer Rule appeared in the Federal Register on October 29, 2003 (FR 68 209). Comments from this notice were received from small business manufacturers. Our knowledge of the existence of small business manufacturers requires us to terminate the waiver of the Nonmanufacturer for Small Arms Manufacturing, NAICS 332994, in accordance with 13 CFR 121.1204(a)(7).

EFFECTIVE DATE: December 22, 2003.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION: Edith Butler, Program Analyst, U.S. Small Business Administration, 409 3rd Street, SW., Washington DC, 20416 Tel: (202) 619-0422

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Public Law 100-656, enacted on November 15, 1988, incorporated into the Small Business Act the previously existing regulation that recipients of Federal contracts set aside for small businesses or SBA 8(a) Program procurement must provide the product of a small business manufacturer or processor, if the recipient is other than the actual manufacturer or processor. This requirement is commonly referred to as the Nonmanufacturer Rule. The SBA regulations imposing this requirement are found at 13 CFR 121.906(b) and 121.1106(b). Section 303(h) of the law provides for waiver of this requirement by SBA for any "class of products" for which there are no small business manufacturers or processors in the Federal market. To be considered available to participate in the Federal market on these classes of products, a small business manufacturer must have submitted a proposal for a contract solicitation or received a contract from the Federal government within the last 24 months. The SBA defines "class of products" based on a six digit North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) and the four digit Product and Service Code established by the Federal Procurement Data System.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background and Purpose of the Proposed New eDib Claim File System of Records

A. General Background

The Agency currently receives the application and supporting claims information via a number of means (i.e., field offices, teleclaims, and Internet application) and converts submitted information into paper-based records. SSA and the State Disability Determination Services (DDS) receive, review and transfer the paper folders between offices responsible for developing and adjudicating the claim. Claims representatives, disability examiners, quality assurance reviewers, hearing clerks, judges, etc., work through the paper file while reviewing the evidence. More paper is added at each review stage. After the Agency reaches a decision on a person's entitlement to benefits, the folder is mailed to a component responsible for storing and retrieving folders for subsequent actions. In the paper process, SSA incurs significant costs from maintaining, handling, moving, housing and reconstructing paper files. This paper bound process includes initial adjudication, the administrative appeals process and continuing eligibility to benefits.

The proposed eDib Claim File will allow the electronic collection, transfer, access and processing of disability claims information in a more efficient and less costly manner through improved hardware/software systems and automated programs such as:

- Internet applications that allow the collection of disability claims medical information from the public via the Internet;
- Electronic disability collect system (EDCS) that allows SSA field personnel to electronically collect information and transfer data to the electronic folder;
- Electronic folder infrastructure and document management architecture (DMA) that stores electronic versions of all information previously housed in the paper folder (e.g., data, images, work documents, hearing recordings, etc.) and shares those items electronically among all components in the disability process;
- Automated case processing and management system that builds upon existing products and projects within the Office of Hearings and Appeals including interface with the electronic folder; and
- Systems migration from current Disability Determination Services case processing systems to technology that is better able to handle eDib activities.

To this end, the eDib Claim File will encompass all disability cases from the initial intake process through the administrative appeals process and include the continuing disability review process. All materials from the disability folder will be created, maintained and stored electronically and case processing systems throughout SSA and the state DDSs will interface with the eDib Claim File to support the paperless process.

Because SSA will maintain and retrieve information from the proposed eDib Claim File using Social Security numbers (SSN) and/or names, the proposed eDib Claim File will constitute a "system of records" under the Privacy Act.

B. Collection and Maintenance of Data in the eDib Claim File System of Records

The eDib Claim File will include identifying information about claimants, applicants, beneficiaries and potential claimants for disability benefits and payments administered by the Social Security Administration. See the "Categories of Records" section of the
