Federal Energy Regulatory Commission

[Docket No. PL03–3–006; Docket No. AD03–7–006]

Price Discovery in Natural Gas and Electric Markets Natural Gas Price Formation; Order Further Clarifying Policy Statement on Natural Gas and Electric Price Indices

July 6, 2005.

Before Commissioners: Pat Wood, III, Chairman; Nora Mead Brownell, Joseph T. Kelliher, and Suedeem G. Kelly.

1. In this order we grant two requests for clarification of our Policy Statement on Natural Gas and Electric Price Indices.¹ The Policy Statement identified minimum standards for both price index developers and data providers (market participants that report transaction data to price index developers). In the latter case the Policy Statement spelled out the steps data providers should take to assure that the prices they report accurately reflect market activity. The Policy Statement also provided an important “safe harbor” for data providers. For data providers that adopt and follow the Commission-established standards for trade data reporting, we will presume they are reporting transaction data accurately and in good faith, and we will not penalize such parties for inadvertent errors in reporting.

2. We grant the requested clarifications to emphasize the broad nature of these safe harbor provisions and to encourage companies both to adopt the appropriate procedures to take advantage of the safe harbor assurances and to contribute their transaction information to the price formation process. We also remind companies of their obligation to notify the Commission when there is a change in their reporting practices.

Background

3. The Policy Statement is one of many steps we have taken to encourage better transparency of price formation in wholesale energy markets. In November 2003, we issued orders adopting Market Behavior Rules for wholesale market participants.² These orders included a behavior rule requiring that, to the extent market participants report transactions to entities that develop and publish price indices, they must report such transactions in accordance with standards of the Policy Statement. In December 2003, we issued a clarification of certain aspects of price reporting under the Policy Statement.³ In May 2004, we received a full staff report on the status of price indices and wholesale price formation, including the results of two large-scale industry surveys, along with recommendations on the use of price indices in jurisdictional tariffs.⁴ Finally, in November 2004 we issued an order in which we applied minimum criteria to price indices used in jurisdictional tariffs and indicated our intent to continue active monitoring of developments concerning price formation in wholesale markets.⁵

4. We have received two requests for clarification of matters addressed in our prior orders. The Committee for Chief Risk Officers (CCRO) submitted a request April 25, 2005, asking for a clarification that the safe harbor provisions of the Policy Statement extend to an energy data hub and its participants. Also, National Fuel Gas Distribution Corporation (National Fuel) submitted a request February 18, 2005, asking that the safe harbor provisions be extended to data providers that, while not specifically subject to the Market Behavior Rules, nonetheless wish to provide transaction data to price index developers. On June 10, 2005, Platts filed comments in which Platts asserts
