

The Money Monitor

...keeping track of how Washington wants to spend your money

December 31, 2004

End-of-year adjustment.

Year-to-date total of net five-year costs of House-passed authorizations:
$827,092,250,000.00*

*This figure does not include the authorizations contained in the Energy Policy Act (H.R. 4503), which passed the House on June 15, 2004, or in H.R. 5419 (To amend the National Telecommunications and Information Administration Organization Act to facilitate the reallocation of spectrum from governmental to commercial users...), which passed the House on November 20, 2004. When cost estimates become available, the RSC will update The Money Monitor accordingly.

Previously unavailable cost estimate

H.R. 5419 To amend the National Telecommunications and Information Administration Organization Act to facilitate the reallocation of spectrum from governmental to commercial users; to improve, enhance, and promote the Nation's homeland security, public safety, and citizen activated emergency response capabilities through the use of enhanced 911 services, to further upgrade Public Safety Answering Point capabilities and related functions in receiving E-911 calls, and to support in the construction and operation of a ubiquitous and reliable citizen activated system; and to provide that funds received as universal service contributions under section 254 of the Communications Act of 1934 and the universal service support programs established pursuant thereto are not subject to certain provisions of title 31, United States Code, commonly known as the Antideficiency Act, for a period of time

$1,188.0 million

Year-to-date net five-year change in House-passed mandatory spending:
$54,447,510,000.00

Year-to-date total of net one-year costs of appropriations passed during the 2nd Session of the 108th Congress:

Fiscal Year 2004: $2,000,000,000.00
Fiscal Year 2005: $764,837,900,000.00^{##}
Fiscal Year 2006: $19,347,000,000.00

^{##}This figure includes $25.78 billion in contingent emergency appropriations for FY2005, has been adjusted to account for previously unrecorded overages in the Agriculture, Interior, and Energy & Water Appropriations Bills, and excludes the Consolidated Appropriations Act for FY2005.

Year-to-date net five-year revenue change by House-passed bills:
-$279,663,000,000.00

An authorization (otherwise known as “discretionary spending”) explicitly allows funding for a certain program and / or directs a federal agency to take a certain action. Authorizations express the House's intent to spend, however, actual funding is provided through the annual appropriations process. Authorizations with no net cost, bills that would result in no significant net change in mandatory spending or federal revenue, and private-sector costs from federal mandates are not reported here.

Mandatory spending directly establishes an appropriation. No subsequent action is required for the money to be spent. The figures for revenue changes are from “static” estimates by the Joint Committee on Taxation or the Congressional Budget Office. That is, they do not take into account the stimulative effects that tax cuts and certain other revenue reductions have on the national economy.

All numbers in “The Money Monitor” are positive unless otherwise indicated.

Neither the costs of conference reports nor the costs of bills that have already been recorded under substantively similar House-passed legislation are recorded here. “The Money Monitor” only accounts for the costs of bills as they first pass the House (unless the prior bills related to such reports and bills have not come to the floor during this calendar year or unless they contain significant cost changes BEFORE going to the Senate). In short, “The Money Monitor” primarily tracks the House’s original monetary intent each calendar year.

Most estimates are provided by the Congressional Budget Office (CBO), though some are provided by the Joint Committee on Taxation, the referring House committee, or RSC staff calculations.
