LOUISIANA.

Population *1,773,482.
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, BATON ROUGE.

LOUISIANA is bounded north by Arkansas and Mississippi, east by Mississippi and the Gulf of Mexico, south by the Gulf of Mexico, and west by Texas. Its extreme length from east to west is about 300 miles, breadth 240 miles; land area, 45,966 square miles. The surface is generally low and level. There are low hills in the north and northwest, from which the land slopes gradually to the Mississippi and the Gulf. Much of the land along the river is below the water level during the spring freshets, and is protected from overflow by the levees, which are built on both banks below Baton Rouge, and on the west bank throughout the state. Many of the principal rivers and bayous are protected in like manner so that but a small portion of the land is subject to overflow. The extent of navigable water surpasses that of any other state in the Union, as also does the area of alluvial land. The soil of the river bottoms is exceedingly fertile, and yields large crops of cotton, sugar cane, rice, etc. The prairies are productive, and afford good pasture in places. The hilly section yields good cotton crops, but about half is covered with pine barrens.

The wooded area of the state is estimated at half of the total area. Louisiana has a greater area of long leaf pine and more cypress timber than any other state. There are also large quantities of oak, hickory, and other hardwoods. The state is excelled only by Washington in the value of its lumber products. 3,929,993,000 feet of lumber were produced in 1914.

The great agricultural staples are cotton, sugar, rice, and corn, but other crops of infinite variety are grown abundantly. Cotton varies much in production from year to year. The 1915 crop was 360,000 bales. The average is 500,000 bales or a little more. The state produces nearly all the cane sugar made in the United States. The sugar product has rapidly increased of recent years, 298,000 tons being made in 1914, in 188 factories. The yield of rice, in which Louisiana takes first place, is very large, and the quality excellent. In 1914, 401,000 acres were devoted to this grain, and the product was 13,714,000 bushels, nearly 6,000,000 bushels over the production of Texas, which takes second place. The total crop for the United States was 28,947,000 bushels. Sweet potatoes and truck are important crops. The genuine Perique tobacco is grown only in this state. The crop for 1914 was 126,000 pounds, grown on 300 acres. Cattle raising is an important interest. The farms of the state numbered, in 1909, 120,270 and averaged 87 acres.

The fisheries, especially oyster fisheries, form an important industry. Iron ores, ochre, gypsum, lignite coal and marl are abundant; large deposits of sulphur exist in Calcasieu Parish, the deposits being among the largest in the world, and the sulphur produced is 98 per cent. pure. In 1903, before the Louisiana sulphur industries started, the United States imported 191,033 tons of sulphur, and the domestic production was 5,000 tons. In 1913 the domestic production was 311,590 tons, almost all from this state, and the imports had dropped to 22,605 tons. Immense deposits of rock salt are found, much of it being 99 per cent. pure, on Petit Anse and Weeks islands. There are numerous oil wells in the western part of the state. In 1915 the petroleum production was 18,500,000 barrels. The natural gas fields are extensive and their development has been the cause of a rapid increase in manufacturing industries, especially in and near New Orleans.

The leading manufactures are refined sugar, cotton goods, lumber, naval stores, castings, machinery, clothing, flour mill products, cottonseed oil, and beer. Its commerce, carried on chiefly through New Orleans, is extensive and important. In 1909 the factories were 2,516 in number and their output valued at $223,928,000. On account of the great extent of navigable waters and the network of railroads penetrating every part of the state, the products of Louisiana's fields, mines, factories and fisheries are readily and rapidly moved, and none of the state's resources need be neglected for lack of transportation facilities.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Louisiana is 206, including 20 daily, 1 three times a week, 4 semi-weekly, 152 weekly, 1 fortnightly, 5 semi-monthly, 20 monthly, 1 bi-monthly, 1 four times during the college year and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 102, of which 59, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MAINE.

Population *762,787

(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, AUGUSTA.

MAINE is the most northeasterly state in the Union, bounded on the north by Quebec and New Brunswick, east by New Brunswick, south by the Atlantic Ocean, and west by New Hampshire and Quebec; its extreme length is 302 miles, width 285 miles, which is extended to 2500 miles by the many indentations; land area, 29,895 square miles. The northern part is mainly a wilderness of forest land with rugged surface and groups of detached mountains; thinly peopled, except in the fertile tracts of Aroostook county. In the northeast, on the St. John's river are several French Canadian settlements. The southern part is varied, seldom much broken, and has tracts of great fertility, while others are only moderately fertile, especially in the southeast.

The farms, at the time of the latest census, numbered 60,006 and averaged 104 acres. The potato crop is large and excellent, and Maine potatoes bring high prices as seed potatoes. The 1915 crop was 22,010,000 bushels, being exceeded in quantity by only three states. Hay is an important product, 1,397,000 tons being grown in 1915; oats, the foremost cereal, produced 6,080,000 bushels; corn, buckwheat, barley and wheat are also grown. Dairy products are of great value. Large numbers of horses and cattle are exported. Wool is abundant and of good quality. The principal fruit is the apple, which is largely grown.

The state holds a prominent position in the lumber trade. The fisheries are of considerable importance. The product of the salt water fisheries for a number of years has averaged close to $6,000,000. Over 12,000 persons are actively engaged in the industry. The seaboard towns enjoy a large coasting and West Indian trade. Large quantities of lime are exported from Camden, Rockland, and Thomaston. Granite is extensively quarried at various places, Maine standing third in this industry. Slate is quarried in large quantities at Brownsville and Monson. Ice is an important and profitable article of export. Maine is a fishing, hunting and summer resort of considerable popularity, and sportsmen and summer visitors spend there every year from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000.

Manufacturing industries are of great importance. In 1909, the 3,546 manufacturing establishments produced goods having a value of $176,029,000. Water power is abundant and regular, and there is an enormous amount of undeveloped power of this class available for manufacturing purposes. The leading articles of manufacture are cotton goods, lumber, woolen goods, leather, paper, boots and shoes, foundry and machine shop products, ships, agricultural implements, etc. The chief seats of the lumber trade are Augusta, Bangor, Biddeford, Calais, Eastport, Fairfield, Lewiston, and Machias; of cotton manufacture, Augusta, Biddeford, Lewiston, Brunswick, Saco, and Waterville; of ship building, Bath, Bangor, Belfast, Calais, Damariscotta, Machias, Rockland, Thomaston, and Waldoboro. Woolens are made at Bridgton, Dexter, Dover, Lewiston, Madison, Oxford, Sanford, and Warren; boots and shoes at Auburn, Bangor, Fairfield, Farmington, Lewiston, Richmond, Skowhegan, Norway, Paris, and Mechanic Falls. Bangor and Portland have foundry and machine shops, furniture factories, and steam planing mills. Extensive hemlock sole leather tanneries are located at Brookton, Grand Lake Stream, Kingman, Lincoln, Lowell, Medway, and Winn. Large spool factories are located at Foxcroft, South Lincoln and Willimantic. Apart from these special branches of trade, Belfast, Ellsworth, Gardiner, Hallowell, Portland, Rockland, Skowhegan, and Waterville are seats of varied and extensive manufactures.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Maine is 136, including 18 daily, 1 three times a week, 3 semi-weekly, 98 weekly, 1 semi-monthly, 17 monthly and 3 quarterly. The places of publication number 79, of which 16, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MARYLAND.

Population *1,341,075
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, ANNAPOLIS.

MARYLAND is bounded north by Pennsylvania, east and southeast by Delaware and the Atlantic Ocean, west by West Virginia, and south and southwest by Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia. The Chesapeake Bay divides the greater part of it into two unequal parts, known as the Eastern and Western Shores. Its extreme length from east to west on its northern border is 198 miles, and its width, following the course of the Potomac, varies from 3 or 4 miles to about 120 miles; land area, 9,860 square miles. The surface of the Eastern Shore is mostly level, and in parts low and swampy, but towards the north rocky and broken. The Western Shore, between the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay, presents mainly the same general features. The northwest is very mountainous; five or six ridges of the Alleghanies, principally the Blue and Laurel, traverse that section. In the extreme west are the beautiful elevated valleys named "glades." The mountain slopes are thickly wooded.

The soil of the Eastern Shore and the lower part of the Western is generally light and sandy, well adapted for peaches and market gardening, that of the central and northern parts very rich, yielding immense crops of tobacco, wheat, oats, and corn. Maryland has 48,769 farms with an average area of 104 acres. Wheat, 10,272,000 bushels in 1915; corn, 24,550,000 bushels; potatoes, 4,268,000 bushels, and oats, 1,530,000 bushels, are among the chief crops. Dairy products are next in value. A very important agricultural industry in the eastern portion of the state is the growing of truck and fruits for shipment to the northern cities and for the numerous canneries in the state. Especial attention is given to tobacco growing in the lower counties of the Western Shore. There were 16,280,000 pounds grown on 22,000 acres in 1915.

The oyster fisheries are more extensive than in any other state except Virginia. 25,000 persons are employed in this industry and the property in boats, apparatus, etc., was valued in 1912 at $3,980,087. The production is over 5,000,000 bushels a year. Clams, herring, menhaden, crabs, shad, and other salt and fresh water products bring the total value of the annual fishery output to over $4,000,000. The value of the fisheries of the whole of Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries is estimated at $10,000,000 annually.

The manufactures are very numerous—canned goods (fruits, meats, and oysters) being one of the most important. Maryland furnished in 1911, 48½ per cent. of all the canned tomatoes in the United States, 15 per cent. of the peas and 6 per cent. of the corn. The manufacture of boots and shoes, bricks, cement, chemicals, clothing, cotton and woolen goods, cooperage, tobacco, flour, leather, lumber, machinery, and metallic wares are leading industries. The total value of the state's manufactured goods in 1909 was $317,570,000, made in 4,827 factories. Its commerce is confined principally to Baltimore, whose foreign trade is very important, amounting to $150,000,000 yearly.

Maryland is bountifully supplied with minerals of great variety. Maryland coal is used extensively in all the Atlantic states, the product in 1914 being 4,138,517 tons. Fire clays are abundant, those of Mt. Savage having a wide reputation. Brown hematite is found in the Trenton limestone, and bog ore on the Eastern Shore. There are numerous quarries of marble, granite, serpentine, and other building stone, limestone for burning, and roofing slate. Kaolin is found in Anne Arundel county; magnesite near Baltimore, from which large quantities of magnesia, carbonate, and epsom salts are manufactured. There are many other minerals, including glass sand, mineral waters, alum, amber, barytes, breccia, soapstone, kaolin, mica, cements, tripoli, chromium, hone stone, mill stone, iron pyrites, ochres, etc., some of which are very plentiful. Gold, silver and copper are produced in small quantities. The total annual value of the mineral products averages over $10,000,000, of which coal produces about two-thirds.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Maryland is 191, including 16 daily, 3 semi-weekly, 114 weekly, 1 fortnightly, 3 semi-monthly, 33 monthly, 5 bi-monthly, 15 quarterly and 1 four times during the college year. The places of publication number 62, of which 28, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MASSACHUSETTS.

STATE CAPITAL, BOSTON.

MASSACHUSETTS is bounded north by Vermont and New Hampshire, east by the Atlantic Ocean, south by the Atlantic Ocean and by Rhode Island and Connecticut, and west by Rhode Island and New York. Its extreme length is 160 miles, and breadth from 47 to about 90 miles; land area, 8,040 square miles. The surface is greatly diversified; mountainous in the extreme west, hilly and broken in the east and northeast, and in the southeast mainly low and sandy. Toward the west is the fertile valley of the Connecticut river. The mountains are the Taconic and the Hoosac (continuations of the Green Mountain ranges of Vermont), with detached members of the White Mountains.

The soil in the hilly regions is not remarkably favorable for agriculture, being usually shallow and stony, but energy and intelligence have succeeded in making it very productive. The Connecticut valley, however, can hardly be excelled for fertility. The chief agricultural productions are dairy products, potatoes, hay, cranberries, maple sugar, and honey. Seed potatoes grown in the "hill towns" of Hampshire and Berkshire counties are much in demand for planting in the lower lands of Massachusetts and Connecticut. Corn is grown everywhere, the 1915 crop being 2,304,000 bushels. It is used chiefly for home consumption. Of other grain, the crop of oats comes first, with 824,000 bushels. Some rye and buckwheat are also grown. The tobacco crop, grown entirely in the Connecticut valley, is a valuable one. 7,300 acres were planted in 1915, and produced a crop of 8,030,000 pounds, having a value of $1,164,000. It produces cigar wrappers of high quality, excelled in this country only by those grown further down the river, in Connecticut. Onions are a valuable crop, Massachusetts ranking third among the states in 1915, with 1,487,454 bushels. Massachusetts produced 250,000 bushels of cranberries in 1915, more than half of the country's total.

The fishery interests are larger than in any other state, and almost half the fishing vessels owned in the United States belong to Massachusetts. The fish caught into the two ports of Boston and Gloucester in 1913 weighed 162,216,786 pounds and were sold for $4,983,017.

Manufactures, however, constitute by far the largest of its industries. It ranks fourth among the states in the total value of its manufactured goods, although it stands seventh in point of population. Not only is it the leading center of the American cotton, boot, shoe, leather, wool, and paper trades, but all the large towns are busy seats of more or less numerous branches of manufacture. The largest industries are the boot and shoe and cotton trades, in each of which, in normal years, the product is nearly $200,000,000. About 100,000 persons are employed in the cotton mills, and over 70,000 in the shoe factories. Woolen and felt goods, metal goods, paper and leather follow in order as named, woolen goods with a value, in 1909, of $141,966,882, nearly equal to the combined product of the second and third states in that industry. The chief seats of the ship-building interests are Boston, Quincy, Newburyport and Salem. The state is rich in building stone, principally granite. Massachusetts is exceeded only by Vermont in the output of granite, which is largely quarried at Rockport, Graniteville, Fall River, Monson and Quincy; a handsome brown sandstone is quarried in the Connecticut valley, and marble and limestone in Berkshire county, in which there are also deposits of excellent iron ore. Fall River, Lowell, New Bedford and Lawrence are, in the order named, the chief cotton manufacturing centers of the country.

The state has been assisting the country districts by building stretches of good roads in various places, and there are now nearly 9,000 miles of improved roads in the state. This, taking into consideration that the area of Massachusetts is but little over 8,000 square miles, is a proportion of improved roads that no other state even approaches. The Cape Cod Canal, an eight-mile cut, 25 feet deep, between Buzzard's Bay and Sandwich, finished during 1914, enables coasting vessels to avoid the long trip around the Cape Cod peninsula and shortens the distance between Boston and New York by over seventy miles. Except Rhode Island, Massachusetts is the most densely peopled state.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Massachusetts is 693, including 93 daily, 4 three times a week, 7 semi-weekly, 398 weekly, 4 fortnightly, 11 semi-monthly, 136 monthly, 7 bi-monthly, 1 five times a year and 32 quarterly. The places of publication number 201, of which 20, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEW BEDFORD†, pop. 109,568 (L 6); BRISTOL CO. (S.E.), pop. 316,964. On Acushnet R., near Buzzard's Bay, 56 m. S. of Boston. N. Y., N. H. & H. R.R. Tel. Exp. Banks. Port of entry, with commodious harbor, has important fishing and whaling interests and is a large coal-distributing center. New Bedford has sixty-seven cotton and yarn mills, operating nearly 3,000,000 spindles, about ten per cent of the whole number in the United States. There are over 50,000 looms for weaving cotton goods, and more fine cotton goods are produced here than in any other city. The mills use about 300,000 bales of cotton in one year. There are also silk and rubber mills, twist drill, copper, leather, cordage, glass, iron, paper, soap and candle, silverware, shoe, screw, sash and door, sperm and whale oil, carriage, chair and eyelet factories, numerous glass cutting establishments and many other industries. The value of the catch of New Bedford whalers in 1914 was $255,000. New Bedford Textile School.

MICHIGAN.

Population *2,976,030.
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, LANSING.

MICHIGAN is bounded north by Lake Superior, east by Lakes Huron, St. Clair, and Erie, and their connecting rivers, south by Ohio and Indiana, and west by Lake Michigan and Wisconsin; land area, 57,480 square miles. It consists of two peninsulas, of which the southern is the principal seat of wealth and population, its length, north to south, being about 300 miles; width, about 200; coast line of state on lakes not less than 1,600 miles. This part of the state is a very level region, abounding in lakes and streams, with very extensive forests of pine and other timber in the north, oak openings or natural parks in the south, and prairies in the southwest.

The soil contains sufficient sand to make it easily tilled, and few districts excel it as a farming region. In the west and southwest is the great fruit belt. Beans, winter wheat, oats, and potatoes are abundant, and of excellent quality; corn and other cereals are largely grown. The 1915 crop of corn was 56,000,000 bushels; wheat, 20,448,000 bushels; oats, 64,260,000 bushels; barley, 2,508,000 bushels; rye, in which Michigan was exceeded by Wisconsin only, 6,045,000 bushels; buckwheat, 870,000 bushels, exceeded by only New York and Pennsylvania; potatoes, 20,945,000 bushels; beans, 4,250,000 bushels. (Michigan grows about half of the bean crop of the country.) Dairy products are very valuable. Wool is produced in large quantities, sheep numbering nearly 2,000,000. Peppermint and celery are raised extensively in the southwest, and grapes in the south. Sugar beets are grown in large quantities. Michigan holds third place in this industry. The beet sugar made in 1915 was 129,300 tons. Apples are an important crop, and Michigan produced 8,150,000 barrels in 1915.

The surface of the northern peninsula is somewhat rough and mountainous, with a good soil in most parts outside the mining regions; its mineral wealth is very great, especially in copper and iron. Large quantities of iron ore are mined and shipped to Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois to be smelted either alone or with the inferior ores found in those states. Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Gladstone, St. Ignace and Escanaba are the principal points of shipment. By far the most important copper mines of the country, and what is claimed to be the largest iron mine in the world, are in this state. Michigan produced 161,344,058 pounds of copper in 1914. There was also a production of iron ore to the amount of 10,796,200 tons, and of silver to the amount of 413,500 ounces. There is a large quantity of coal in the lower peninsula, used chiefly for local and railroad purposes, the production in 1914 reaching 1,283,030 tons. The salt producing territory covers about 9,500 square miles, and the 1914 product was 11,670,976 barrels; it is procured from artesian wells, and the Saginaw river and the mouth of the Manistee are the chief centers of manufacture. About 100,000 barrels of dairy salt are produced, pronounced by competent judges to be the best in the world, 3,600 persons are employed in the salt manufacture. Gypsum, fire clay, and glass sand are also found. The manufacture of cement is becoming a very important industry.

Michigan ranks high in the value and extent of its lumber product; the largest interest centering in East Saginaw. The lumber product, however, is rapidly falling off, through the rapid and wasteful reduction of the forest area. The fisheries on the great lakes are very valuable, the fish sold each year having a value of nearly $2,000,000. $2,500,000 is invested in this industry, which keeps nearly 7,000 men employed. Manufactures are important and varied. Among the leading products are iron, lumber, salt, paper, woodenware, furniture, farm implements, leather, cotton and woolen goods, machinery, castings, and hollowware. The greatest extent of the coast line gives Michigan a commanding position in lake commerce. The ship canal at Sault Ste. Marie handles more traffic than any similar thoroughfare in the world. In 1913, 79,718,344 tons passed through, nearly three times as much as went through the Suez canal.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Michigan is 707, including 72 daily, 3 three times a week, 18 semi-weekly, 521 weekly, 4 semi-monthly, 85 monthly, 2 bi-monthly, 1 four times a year and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 405, of which 82, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

Excellent harbor; a large commerce in grain with Canada and a very large shipping trade in grain, pork, wool and copper ore to Eastern markets. About 30,000 vessels traverse the river every year, carrying from 60,000,000 to 75,000,000 tons of freight, chiefly iron and copper ore. The Michigan Central R.R. tracks are carried through a tunnel under the river, connecting Detroit with Windsor, Ont. Manufactures numerous and important, including immense railroad car works and iron working establishments, numerous tanneries and tobacco factories and stove, adding machine, varnish, pharmaceutical supplies, emery wheel, ship building, locomotive, automobile, overalls, brass and bronze, clothing, paints and varnish and other works. There were in 1915, 2,300 factories, employing 195,000 wage earners, who produce goods to the value of over $90,000,000 each year. Much capital invested in iron and copper mines and lumbering interests. Export trade in 1915, $106,403,549.	Abend Post(German).....	{ Evg. ex. Sun. { & Sun. ## MINNESOTA.

Population *2,213,919.
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, ST. PAUL.

MINNESOTA is bounded north by Ontario and Manitoba, east by Wisconsin and Lake Superior south by Iowa, and west by North and South Dakota. Its extreme length from north to south is 380 miles; breadth varies from 183 miles in the center to 262 on the south line, and about 330 on the north border; land area, 79,205 square miles. The climate, although the cold during the winter season is somewhat severe, is healthful and invigorating. The surface is generally an undulating plain, diversified with rolling prairies, dotted with lakes and groves, with frequent timber belts. The northeast is generally hilly, and was formerly entirely covered with immense forests. The greater part of the salable pine has been cut, but there is a vast quantity of valuable timber, both pine and hardwood, still standing. There are thirty-two varieties of marketable timber found in the state. The lumber output of 286 mills in 1914 was 1,312,230,000 feet. This region also contains innumerable lakes, which abound with almost every species of fresh water fish; and much marsh land. The Red River valley is almost a dead level. The southeast is a beautiful rolling prairie region, while the surface rises from the undulating prairies of the south and southwest to the Hauteur des Terres or Heights of Land in the northwest.

In St. Louis county in the northeast is located one of the greatest iron producing regions in the world, the output of which keeps Minnesota in first place among the iron ore producing states. 300,000 persons are employed in the mining industries, and 21,946,901 tons of iron ore were produced in 1914. This was two-thirds of the total of the iron ore marketed in the United States in that year. Other mineral products are comparatively small.

There are productive fisheries of white fish and lake trout in Lake Superior. The soil is fertile, about two-thirds of it being adapted to the cultivation of cereals and general farm produce, although little more than one-third of this is under cultivation. While the temperature shows wide extremes, the Weather Bureau station at Duluth recording a range in one year from 99° in July to -45° in January, with an annual mean of 39°, the climate is particularly healthful and the long summer days are extremely favorable for the growth of vegetation, especially grain crops. The rainfall averages 28½ inches per annum, which provides ample moisture for all crops which can be grown in the latitude of Minnesota. In the northern part of the state drainage ditches are being constructed, and millions of acres will thereby be made suitable for agricultural purposes. Minnesota's largest and most valuable crop is wheat, for which its soil is peculiarly adapted. Instances are known where wheat has been produced for twenty-five years on the same land, which still continues to yield abundantly. Corn of high quality grows well all over the state, even in the northern counties. Wool growing is remunerative in the southwest. Maple sugar is an important product. Cattle, horses, and swine of the finest class are largely exported, and pork packing is a valuable industry. In 1915 Minnesota grew 73,420,000 bushels of wheat, 134,375,000 bushels of oats, 62,100,000 bushels of corn, 41,175,000 bushels of barley, 3,150,000 bushels of flaxseed. Minnesota held second place in the production of barley, third place in oats and wheat, second place in flaxseed. She held first place in potatoes, with 30,210,000 bushels; third place in rye, with 5,850,000 bushels. The annual value of the cereals is estimated to be $200,000,000, of live stock, $125,000,000, of dairy products, $50,000,000. There are over 800 creameries, three-fourths of them being co-operative, and sixty-seven cheese factories. The state has 210,000 dairy cattle and 1,292,000 other cattle and holds a high place in the value of dairy products, the dairy industry in the state having increased rapidly in recent years. The value of other farm crops, together with poultry, eggs, and miscellaneous produce, made the total agricultural wealth produced close to $500,000,000. The number of farms in 1910 was 155,759, their area averaging 177 acres.

Manufactures are rapidly increasing in number and value, and their value in 1910 amounted to over $400,000,000. The leading branches are flour and grist mill products, in which the state has held first place for many years, producing in 1909 nearly 23,000,000 barrels of wheat flour, over one-fifth of the country's total production, lumber and woodenware, carriages, furniture, and cooperage, while boots and shoes, bricks, leather, lime, saddlery and woolen goods are also extensively manufactured. It is estimated that the state's streams have sufficient undeveloped water power to supply the future needs of every industry, public or private, in the state.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Minnesota is 800, including 49 daily, 11 semi-weekly, 660 weekly, 3 fortnightly, 8 semi-monthly, 62 monthly, 3 bi-monthly, 4 quarterly. The places of publication number 468, of which 86, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MISSISSIPPI.

Population *1,901,882
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, JACKSON.

MISSISSIPPI is bounded north by Tennessee, east by Alabama, south by the Gulf of Mexico and Louisiana, and west by the Mississippi River, which separates it from Louisiana and Arkansas. Its extreme length from north to south is 382 miles; average breadth, 142 miles; land area, 46,840 square miles. The surface is generally hilly or undulating, except in the Mississippi bottom, from Vicksburg to the Tennessee line, and between the Mississippi and Yazoo rivers, where it is low and swampy, subject to inundation, and covered with a dense growth of timber, but with soil which, if reclaimed, would be exceedingly fruitful. Below Vicksburg the surface for some miles inland is hilly, and known as the "cane hills" or "bluffs," and with a generally productive soil. There is a very fertile prairie region in the northeast where alfalfa, producing from three to five heavy crops each year, is one of the principal products. The southern part is chiefly a level pine region, and furnishes good pasture and large quantities of timber, tar, turpentine, etc. The soil of this tract, although sandy, is with suitable fertilization particularly well adapted to truck farming, and is being largely taken up for that purpose, as soon as the timber is cut off. In the production of lumber, chiefly yellow pine, Mississippi stands second among the southern states.

Agriculture is the prevailing industry. Mississippi had, at the time of the last census, 273,380 farms, averaging 67 acres. Cotton and corn are the great staples. The average crop of cotton for the five-year period 1906-1910 was 1,400,153 bales, and its value, including its by-products, was about $100,000,000. The crop in 1915 was 940,000 bales. While cotton is still king in Mississippi, the doctrine of diversified farming is spreading, with benefit both to the land and the farmers. The corn crop for 1915 was 69,350,000 bushels. The yield per acre has grown in five years from 13.1 bushels to 19. This average is low, compared with Connecticut's 50 bushels, but the increase is an indication of the improved methods constantly studied and practiced in the southern states to-day. The oat crop for 1915 was 5,375,000 bushels; rice, 45,000 bushels; hay, 350,000 tons. Wheat is grown in the north, and rice and sugar cane in the south. Dairy products, sorghum, and sweet potatoes are produced in considerable quantities. A little tobacco is grown. In the coast counties the growing of semi-tropical fruits is meeting with decided success. The pecan crop in these counties is worth over $150,000. The state has 447,000 dairy cows, 585,000 other cattle, 292,000 mules and 1,617,000 hogs. Drainage districts in the Yazoo-Mississippi delta have been organized, one project calling for the expenditure of $8,000,000. This will change the swamp lands into farming land unexcelled anywhere for fertility, as the soil has for ages been enriched and augmented in depth by the alluvial deposits of the two rivers.

Commerce is carried on principally through New Orleans and Mobile; coasting and river trade is large. The coast ports of Gulfport and South Pascagoula have a large commerce which is growing rapidly, both in exports and imports. These two ports send out over 400,000,000 feet of lumber annually. The state has no coal or iron of practical value. Its mineral deposits are confined mainly to fertilizers, soft limestone and clays. Tishomingo county has large beds of fine pipe and potter's clay, there is also some sandstone suitable for rough masonry. The state is growing fast in the number of its manufacturing enterprises. In 1909, it had 2,598 factories, an increase of 70 per cent since the previous count. The value of their products was over $80,000,000. Lumber and grist mill products were the most important, while cotton goods and cottonseed oil and cake rank next.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Mississippi is 216, including 17 daily, 7 semi-weekly, 180 weekly, 1 fortnightly, 3 semi-monthly and 9 monthly. The places of publication number 133, of which 89, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MISSOURI.

Population *3,372,886.
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, JEFFERSON CITY.

MISSOURI is bounded north by Iowa, east by Illinois, Kentucky, and Tennessee, south by Arkansas, west by Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska; length, north to south, 277 miles; average breadth, about 244 miles, ranging from 208 miles in the north to 312 miles in the south; land area 68,735 square miles. The Missouri River divides the state into two distinct parts. The surface north of the river is generally nearly level, while that south of it is undulating, becoming rougher and somewhat mountainous as it approaches the Ozark Mountains. There are also open, treeless plains, an extension of those in Kansas; and in the southeast, bordering on the Mississippi River, is an extensive marshy tract, called the "Sunk Country," the result of the earthquake of 1811-12. Plans have been made to reclaim the lands along the Mississippi and Missouri rivers and their tributaries, by levees along the great rivers and drainage canals in the valleys of the smaller rivers, and by this means large tracts of swamp lands, and other tracts subject to destructive overflows, can be profitably tilled.

The state contains every variety of soil. Corn, wheat, and oats are the staple products. The yield of corn in 1915 was 209,450,000 bushels, which gave Missouri fourth place in that year. Wheat produced 34,108,000 bushels, oats 31,850,000 bushels, apples 6,287,000 barrels, hay 4,636,000 tons, cotton 52,000 bales. Barley, rye, hay, fruit, white and sweet potatoes, tobacco, dairy and market garden products, wool, cattle, and pork are raised largely in excess of home needs. Sorghum and castor oil beans are largely produced. Hemp and flax are cultivated to some degree in the southern counties; so are grapes, and much wine is made. The farm crops had a total value in 1915 of $251,518,000. With the dairy, poultry and forest products added, the total shipments of farm, field and forest products reached over $300,000,000. Including what was consumed at the place of origin, the total of such products is estimated at $450,000,000. The principal live stock are sheep and swine, but cattle, horses and mules are produced in great numbers, the Missouri mule being a famous product. In 1916 Missouri had 4,505,000 hogs, being exceeded only by Iowa, 1,416,000 sheep, 1,555,000 head of cattle, in addition to 837,000 dairy cows, 1,084,000 horses and 329,000 mules. Missouri sheep, in 1908, contributed to the national wealth, outside of what was consumed within the state, nearly 6,000,000 pounds of wool, having a value, after scouring, of over $6,000,000. The output of poultry products is enormous. In 1910 Missouri's shipments from her poultry yards amounted to $30,766,267 and the total production about $50,000,000. Dairying is an industry of great importance, the surplus shipments in 1910 having a value of $3,182,380. As a very large proportion of dairy products is always consumed locally, it is estimated that the total value is fully $20,000,000.

Iron ore is mined in very large quantities, and the supply seems inexhaustible. The output of lead in 1914 was 192,612 tons, value $15,023,736; zinc, 105,994 tons, value $10,811,388. More than half the zinc in the United States comes from the Missouri mines. Bituminous coal is found in considerable quantities in the north and west, the output in 1914 being 3,935,980 tons. Silver to the value of $33,626 was mined in 1914. The Kansas oil field extends into several counties in Missouri. Some natural gas exists in the western part. Many other minerals abound; also marble, limestone, glass sand, kaolin, barytes, fire clay, etc. Two-thirds of the barytes produced in the United States comes from Missouri. The production of cement is large.

Lumbering is also an important industry. Meat and packing house products, flour and meal, boots and shoes, malt liquors, lumber, hardware and clothing are among the most important manufactures, but there are innumerable other articles made in the state, among which may be noted pearl buttons to the value of $113,469 in 1908, and corn cob pipes, the manufacture of which is confined to three or four counties in the state, where corn of a special variety producing a peculiarly large cob is grown. In 1912, 28,171,372 "Missouri meerschaums" valued at $500,000 were made and shipped to all parts of the world. Over $574,000,000 in manufactured goods was the 1909 output of the state's 8,375 factories. Missouri has grown rapidly in population and wealth, railroads have multiplied, and extensive areas of territory, particularly in the southwest and southeast portions of the state, have been brought into cultivation, and now support large populations, and afford a considerable surplus to feed the world.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Missouri is 1,000, including 86 daily, 16 semi-weekly, 735 weekly, 5 fortnightly, 26 semi-monthly, 116 monthly, 1 every 6 weeks, 5 bi-monthly and 10 quarterly. The places of publication number 476, of which 114, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MONTANA.

Population *432,614.
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, HELENA.

MONTANA is bounded north by Saskatchewan and Alberta, east by North and South Dakota, south by Wyoming and Idaho, and west by Idaho; length, east to west, about 540 miles; breadth, about 280 miles; land area, 146,080 square miles. Montana's total area is 94,000,000 acres, classified into mountainous, 26,000,000 acres; farming lands, 30,000,000 acres; grazing lands, 38,000,000 acres. The farming lands of Montana are equal in area to the state of Iowa; the Indian and forest reserves to the state of Georgia, and the mountainous and grazing lands to the state of Indiana.

This state will always be an important factor in the stock raising industry, as more than half its surface can never be successfully cultivated, but must be devoted to other purposes. The area of cultivated land is rapidly increasing, but not more than 10 per cent of the land capable of tillage has been improved. While Montana has always been considered a mining state, the agricultural production is nearing the total of mineral production, and will soon exceed it in value. Nearly all staple crops known to northern states are grown in Montana. Fruit growing in the western portion of the state has become a great industry. Over 65,000 acres are planted in fruit trees, principally apples, the 1915 crop of which was 347,000 barrels. Nearly 7,000,000 fruit trees have already been set out. Wheat and oats are largely grown. The production in 1915 of the principal grain crops was as follows: Wheat, 33,825,000 bushels; oats, 31,200,000 bushels; barley, 2,720,000 bushels. Montana held third place in flaxseed, with 1,890,000 bushels. Potatoes made 6,045,000 bushels. Hay made a crop of 1,550,000 tons, with a value of $11,625,000. The yield per acre of all grain crops is much above the average for the United States. The Government has irrigation projects in course of construction, which will bring into use large tracts of land in northern Montana, while private enterprise is also reclaiming an immense area. "Dry farming" is also being practiced with a considerable degree of success in districts adapted to it. In Yellowstone, Gallatin, Beaverhead, and Cascade counties large numbers of sheep and cattle are winter fed for the spring markets. Montana has more sheep than any other state except Wyoming, having 3,941,000 head in 1916, producing 28,682,000 pounds of wool. Horses numbered 430,000, cattle 1,023,000. One-third of the population is engaged in farming and stock raising.

The mineral wealth is of great value. The output of gold in 1915 was valued at nearly $5,000,000; silver, 14,500,000 ounces. Copper, 275,000,000 pounds; zinc, which comes only from Silver Bow, Jefferson and Fergus counties, 184,086,000 pounds; lead, 14,000,000 pounds. Nearly every county has iron, and ten counties have deposits of bituminous coal, of which the 1914 yield was 2,805,173 tons. There are petroleum deposits in the northern part of the state. Montana surpasses all the states in the production of precious stones, her leadership being due to the sapphire mines, whose output in 1913 was worth $744,835. In the western and northwestern portions of the state vast lumbering interests have been developed; fir, pine, tamarack and cedar being the chief varieties. Water power is abundant. Leading industries are mining, lumber sawing, quartz crushing, smelting, flour milling, etc.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Montana is 270, including 19 daily, 7 semi-weekly, 231 weekly, 2 semi-monthly and 11 monthly. The places of publication number 181, of which 41, designated by a dagger(†), are county seats.

NEBRASKA.

Population *1,245,873
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, LINCOLN.

NEBRASKA is bounded north by South Dakota, east by Iowa and Missouri, south by Kansas and Colorado, and west by Colorado and Wyoming. Its extent from north to south is about 210 miles; greatest length about 420 miles; land area, 77,082 square miles. The surface is generally a vast, gently undulating plain, with a gradual ascent toward the mountains; the river bottoms are level. There are some bluffs along the Missouri River, some hills in the northwest, which is also partly occupied by the Mauvais Terres or Bad Lands. The state is well watered, three large rivers, the Niobrara, the Platte, and the Republican, crossing it from west to east, while the Missouri flows for 500 miles along the eastern border. The Missouri is the only navigable river. East of the Bad Lands and south of the Niobrara is a tract of sand hills of 8,000 square miles area, which afford some pasturage. Timber is scarce. Mineral products are of small importance. An interesting fact is that Nebraska produces 97 per cent. of all pumice dug in the United States. There is little coal, and that poor; but peat abounds. Brick and potter's clay are plentiful, and there are extensive saline deposits; good building stone abundant.

The eastern half of the state is a rich agricultural region. The west is mainly adapted to grazing, but farms are being taken up in many districts and half of the land area of the state is now under cultivation. Sugar beets are successfully grown in the western part without irrigation, and crops of thirty tons to the acre are not uncommon. In 1914, the sugar factories made 25,845 tons of sugar. There is an abundant rainfall in the east, and that of the west seems increasing annually since the era of agriculture, so that the farm limit is extending westward. The leading products are wheat, corn, barley, oats, sorghum, flax, and hemp; vegetables, small fruits, and grapes are raised extensively. Nebraska is one of the foremost states in grain growing and stood third in corn in 1915, and fourth in wheat. The corn crop was 218,000,000 bushels; wheat, 72,154,000 bushels; 70,400,000 of oats; 3,255,000 of barley; 3,500,000 of rye and 4,290,000 tons of hay. With wild prairie hay included, the total would be 7,770,000 tons. The money value of the grain and hay crops alone was greater than that of all the gold, silver and iron produced in the United States in that year. More than 150 species of wild grasses have been classified, which afford excellent pasture for large numbers of cattle and sheep. The live stock in 1916 numbered: hogs 4,266,000, sheep 374,000, horses 1,028,000, and cattle 2,887,000, of which 650,000 were dairy cows. The shipments of poultry in 1909 were 28,119,058 pounds; dressed meat, 210,893,160 pounds; eggs, 24,470,265 dozens; butter, 37,414,274 pounds, and cream, 3,502,776 gallons.

Manufacturing interests are growing, but are chiefly confined to a few of the large cities, principally Omaha, South Omaha, Lincoln and Nebraska City. They include meat packing and canning, smelting and refining, and the making of flour, farming implements, wagons, cars, etc. The dressed meat and packing industry is by far the largest, its product in 1909 being worth $82,248,720. Refining and smelting of metallic ores came next, with an output of $34,912,360. Mill products, $11,559,165, and butter, over $8,000,000, were next in line.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Nebraska is 655, including 82 daily, 2 three times a week, 18 semi-weekly, 558 weekly, 2 fortnightly, 6 semi-monthly, 36 monthly and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 413, of which 92, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEVADA.

Population *98,726
U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914.

STATE CAPITAL, CARSON CITY.

NEVADA is bounded north by Oregon and Idaho, east by Utah and Arizona, and southwest and west by California. Extreme length from north to south, 485 miles in the eastern and 210 miles in the western boundary; greatest breadth, 320 miles, decreasing to 310 miles in the north and to a point in the south; land area, 109,740 square miles. Surface generally is a table land about 4,000 feet above the sea, traversed by nearly parallel mountain ranges, between which are valleys varying in width from 5 to 20 miles, in some cases narrow canyons, and in others broad deserts, covered with sage brush and other scanty herbage.

The soil, when irrigated, is fertile and produces spring wheat, barley, oats, potatoes, hay, etc. abundantly. There is much good pasture, and cattle and sheep fatten readily upon it. The state lies almost wholly in the "Great Basin," the most arid region of North America, but it is considered possible, by storing the waters of its mountain streams, to reclaim several millions of acres by irrigation. Several irrigation enterprises have been completed and there are numerous others planned and under construction, and the agricultural interests are steadily increasing. Cotton and sub-tropical fruits do well in the south. Some cereals are grown, wheat being the chief, with 1,860,000 bushels to its credit in 1915, followed by barley, 576,000 bushels; oats, 555,000 bushels, and corn, 35,000 bushels. Potatoes gave a crop of 2,236,000 bushels on 18,000 acres.

Nevada's greatest wealth, however, is in its minerals. It has for years been a leading state in the production of the precious metals, especially copper, gold and silver. The milling and smelting of ore is the leading manufacturing industry. The output of precious metals in 1915 was gold, $1,968,000 and silver, 14,478,000 ounces; 67,480,000 pounds of copper were also produced, together with 14,782,000 pounds of lead; 21,000,000 pounds of zinc and 156,675 pounds of quicksilver. Other minerals are antimony, salt, sulphur, borax and gypsum, all of which are produced in commercial quantities. A valuable deposit of anthracite coal has been discovered on the Elko river, near Humboldt, and is being developed. The live stock interests of the state are next in importance to its mineral resources. The latest government reports show 499,000 head of cattle and 1,582,000 sheep in the state.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Nevada is 39, including 10 daily, 3 three times a week and 26 weekly. The places of publication number 26, of which 15, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Population *438,662
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, CONCORD.

NEW HAMPSHIRE is bounded on the north by Quebec, east by Maine and the Atlantic Ocean, south by Massachusetts, and west by Vermont. Its length is 180 miles from north to south; its extreme breadth 93 miles; average breadth 50 miles; land area, 9,005 square miles. Most of the state, except the southeastern part, has a rough and hilly surface. In the northern part are the White Mountains. The state is generally well wooded, and the yield of timber is very large. The valley of the Connecticut is famed for the beauty of its farms and villages.

In productions, the hay crop is by far the most valuable, and while this is steadily increasing the agricultural interests have for some years been gradually declining. While there are some very fertile tracts among the valley lands, the greater part of the surface is rugged and stony, and much more valuable as woodland or pasture than as tilled land. Oats, barley, buckwheat, corn and potatoes are very generally cultivated, but little more is grown than suffices for home needs. Dairy farming and wool growing are followed to some extent. Tobacco is grown in Cheshire county, in the southwestern part of the state. A fair quality of wrapper tobacco is produced. Fruit growing is generally profitable. In some localities in the south the peach is successfully cultivated.

One of the chief industries of the state at the present time is that of providing for summer visitors. New Hampshire has an almost perfect summer climate, especially in the central and eastern portion, and the scenery throughout the state is remarkable for its beauty, that in the White Mountain district being unsurpassed in all the eastern states. Visitors from the other New England states, and from many other parts of the country spend the summer months here, and the hotel and boarding house industry is one of considerable magnitude. It is estimated that summer visitors leave about $10,000,000 in the state each year. The state government, recognizing the value of good roads, is constructing three trunk line highways extending from the Massachusetts line to the White Mountains.

Fine building and monumental granite, which makes fully two-thirds, in value, of the state's mineral output, is extensively quarried at Concord, Milford, Pelham, Plymouth, and other places. There is a thin vein of tin at Jackson. A little zinc is mined. Other minerals are mica ($47,887 in 1914), soapstone and scythestones. There is abundant water power in all parts of the state, and manufactures constitute by far the largest industry. There is scarcely a town of any considerable size without its important manufacture. It is especially noted for its textile interests, which turned out cotton goods to the value of $42,879,380 in 1909, and woolen goods valued at $5,498,799. Paper and pulp in the same year $11,212,042, and lumber, $10,202,668. The other important manufactures are leather, carriages, flour, saddlery, clothing, starch, etc.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in New Hampshire is 106, including 13 daily, 2 three times a week, 2 semi-weekly, 73 weekly, 2 semi-monthly, 12 monthly, 1 bi-monthly and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 62, of which 13, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEW JERSEY.

Population *2,815,663.
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, TRENTON.

NEW JERSEY is bounded north and northeast by New York, east by New York and the Atlantic Ocean, south by the Atlantic Ocean and Delaware Bay, and west by Delaware and Pennsylvania. Its extreme length is 167 miles; its greatest breadth 59 miles, and its least 32 miles; land area, 7,525 square miles. The surface is mountainous in the northwest, hilly in the northeast and central parts, low and gently undulating in the south. The mountains, a part of the Appalachian system, are the Kittatinny or Blue, and the Highland Range. Between them lies the productive Kittatinny Valley, about 10 miles wide. New Jersey has 374.7 inhabitants per square mile, and is exceeded in density of population only by Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

The agricultural products of the state generally, especially market garden produce, are very extensive. The central part is the most thickly settled and is, in fact, a vast market garden for the supply of New York and Philadelphia, and the fruits and vegetables from this region are of a quality which is not surpassed anywhere. Large quantities of grapes and small fruits are grown in the south. Cranberries are an important crop. The chief cranberry counties are Ocean, Atlantic, and Burlington. The 1915 crop was 171,000 bushels, exceeded only by Massachusetts. Potatoes produced 12,090,000 bushels in 1915. The chief grain crops for that year were corn, 10,830,000 bushels; wheat, 1,560,000 bushels; oats, 2,275,000 bushels and rye, 1,420,000 bushels.

It has become one of the leading states in the value of its manufactures, which embrace a wide range of goods, and had a value in 1909 of $1,145,529,000. There are 8,817 manufacturing establishments, employing 371,265 people. Oil refining is the greatest of the state's industries, with an output of the value of $70,724,942. The silk industry comes next, with an output of $52,572,837. Other prominent manufactures are wire goods, $39,150,336; machinery, $36,718,446; chemicals, $35,657,246; rubber goods, $34,733,592; woolen goods, $30,754,104. Prominent also are china and sanitary ware, in which New Jersey has the largest production among the states, fruit and vegetable canning, glass, electrical goods, textiles, leather goods and soap. Mercer county is the chief seat of the pottery industry and Middlesex county of the brick and tile manufactures.

Its clay deposits, iron mines, zinc mines and slate quarries are very valuable. The clay products, consisting of brick and tile, and pottery, worth $16,484,652, furnished more than half of the total value of the state's mineral products in 1914. New Jersey's output of zinc in 1914 was 74,253 tons, valued at $7,515,914. Other mineral products were iron ore, 846,826 tons, and cement, 3,530,476 barrels. Iron ore is found generally throughout the state. There are a large number of productive mines of magnetic iron ore in Sussex, Passaic, Morris, and Warren counties. Clay for gas retorts and fire brick is found at Amboy, and valuable deposits of franklinite at Mine Hill and Stirling. In the northwestern portion of the state excellent roofing-slates, building and flag stones and rich hematites are abundant.

The oyster and deep sea fisheries are of great value. It has a large coasting trade, and considerable ship building is carried on. New Jersey is well provided with marine transportation, as three-fourths of her border is on navigable waters. An inland waterway is now being constructed, which will provide a sheltered channel from the northern end of Ocean county to Cape May, about four-fifths of the whole ocean coast of the state. It will have a minimum width of .100 feet, and a low water depth of six feet. Plans are being made for a canal from the Delaware, near Bordentown, to the ocean. Newark, the metropolis, has a population of 366,721, and its manufacturing industries are said to be more important in proportion to population than those of any other city in the United States.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in New Jersey is 374, including 41 daily, 1 three times a week, 3 semi-weekly, 279 weekly, 1 fortnightly, 6 semi-monthly, 36 monthly, 1 bi-monthly and 6 quarterly. The places of publication number 170, of which 21, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEW MEXICO.

Population *383,551.
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, SANTA FE.

NEW MEXICO is bounded north by Colorado, east by Oklahoma and Texas, south by Texas and Mexico, and west by Arizona; greatest length, north to south, 390 miles, average width, 335 miles. Land area, 122,460 square miles. Its general surface is a region of high plateaus, traversed by mountain ranges with isolated peaks. The valleys are generally nearly level, and their soil fertile. In the southeast is a part of the "Llano Estacado" or "Staked Plain." Some of this region is being brought into use under the modern systems of farming arid and semi-arid lands. There are about 40,000,000 acres of public lands open to entry.

The number of farms has increased nearly 200 per cent since 1900. The mesas, or table lands, occupy a large part of the surface, placing stock raising and wool growing among the leading occupations; the bunch grass affords rich pasture, and neither hand feeding nor shelter is necessary for the herds and flocks. The live stock in New Mexico includes 1,166,000 cattle, 76,000 being dairy cows. There are 3,440,000 sheep. The 1915 wool clip was 18,620,000 pounds. There are 200,000 goats and 234,000 horses. In the year ending June 30th, 1911, there were shipped out of the state 243,194 cattle; 16,756 horses and 775,286 sheep. The climate is very dry, the weather station at Santa Fe showing the lowest per cent. of humidity in the United States, with the exception of the station at Yuma, Arizona. The soil, when sufficient water can be had, shows wonderful fertility, and the days of continual sunshine are especially favorable to the development of plant life. Agriculture is becoming, with the development of the various irrigation projects, the leading industry of the state. Irrigation is in use on nearly half a million acres. There are extensive systems of water storage and irrigation on the Pecos, Rio Grande and other large rivers, which, with works projected, will reclaim three or four million acres. Many farmers are irrigating their own land by means of artesian wells. There are over 700 of these in Chaves and Eddy counties. There are many other river valleys of high fertility, whose soil is susceptible of irrigation. Over 15,000,000 acres have sufficient annual rainfall to be classed as "dry farming" land, and the flow of immigration into these districts is rapid and continuous. Those who have followed the methods of culture proper to such lands have been successful with such crops as are adapted to the conditions. While there is still much experimenting to be done with the system, there is no doubt that it will in the near future add considerably to the nation's food supply. New Mexico has over 8,000,000 acres farmed on this system at the present time. The agricultural productions are increasing rapidly in amount and value. Wheat, corn, beans, onions, cabbage, alfalfa, sugar beets, canteloupes, oats, wild hay, and all kinds of vegetables are produced abundantly. The chief grain crops are corn, 2,780,000 bushels in 1915; oats, 2,160,000 bushels, and wheat, 2,156,000 bushels; all of these show a large increase over the previous year. Of fruits, the apple, peach, melon, fig, apricot, pomegranate, and especially grapes, flourish.

Gold, silver, copper, iron, and lead exist, and all are being extensively worked. New Mexico's gold in 1915 was worth $1,500,000. The same year saw silver produced to the amount of 2,032,000 ounces. The production of copper was 72,000,000 pounds; zinc, 24,640,000 pounds; lead, 3,951,000 pounds. Iron ore has recently been discovered in extensive deposits. Bituminous coal is very abundant and deposits of fine anthracite exist. 34,345 tons of anthracite were mined in 1913. The total coal product in 1914 was 3,877,689 tons. Plumbago, mica, petroleum, cement, fire clay, gypsum, mineral paint, marbles and other excellent building stones are found. The mineral production for 1914 was $18,072,919. Chief industries are quartz crushing, milling and manufacturing of woolens, lumber, wines and brandies. A fine system of public roads has been planned, comprising over 1,000 miles through various parts of the territory, the work being done by convict labor. Several hundred miles have already been surveyed.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in New Mexico is 121, including 6 daily, 3 semi-weekly, 106 weekly, 5 monthly, and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 74, of which 25, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEW YORK.

STATE CAPITAL, ALBANY.

NEW YORK is bounded on the north and northwest by Lake Ontario and the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, east by Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and the Atlantic Ocean, south by the Atlantic Ocean, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, and west and northwest by Pennsylvania and Lake Erie. Its greatest length from north to south is 312 miles; its greatest breadth 412 miles; land area, 47,620 square miles. The surface is exceedingly diversified.

The greater portion of the soil is arable, much of it exceedingly fertile. The dairy industry is of immense value. The value of its products is exceeded by only one state, Wisconsin. There were 1,589,000 dairy cows in the state in 1916, besides 939,000 other cattle. Delaware and St. Lawrence are the leading counties in this important industry, each turning out about six per cent. of the state's total, with Delaware a little in the lead. The reports of the State Department of Agriculture for a recent year show that in addition to the milk and milk products used on the farms and delivered direct to consumers, the state dairies shipped out 745,555,809 quarts of milk. Its creameries made 42,671,688 pounds of butter, 112,555,404 pounds of cheese and 68,838,289 pounds of condensed milk were also produced. Casein and other milk products are also manufactured in large quantities. The many large cities make hay a valuable product, and more land is devoted to this crop than in any other state. The 1915 crop was 5,850,000 tons, its value, $91,840,000. New York was first in acreage, production and value. Immense crops of cereals are grown in the valley lands, which also produce an abundance of grapes and other fruit; hops in Otsego, Madison, Chautauqua and Oneida counties; tobacco is grown in several counties, and corn generally throughout the state. New York holds second place in buckwheat, this state and Pennsylvania producing nearly three-fourths of the country's total; first in onions and first in apples. The production of the principal cereals in 1915, in bushels, was for corn, 22,550,000; buckwheat, 5,320,000; wheat, 9,750,000; oats, 54,270,000; barley, 2,729,000, and rye, 2,805,000. Potatoes yielded 22,000,000 bushels, onions, 4,534,887 bushels. In the neighborhood of the large cities market gardening is extensively carried on. The fruit industry is of great value. New York's 1914 apple crop was 8,528,000 barrels. The census of 1910 credited New York with 35,603,897 grape vines. They produced 253,006,361 pounds of grapes, having a value of $3,961,677. The value of other fruit crops in the same year (1909) was: Apples, $13,343,028; peaches, $2,014,088; pears, $1,418,218; plums, $519,192; cherries, $544,508; apricots and nectarines, $14,490; quinces, $135,345, and small fruits, $2,875,495, a total of $24,826,041.

The state is well wooded and the timber varied and excellent. Its leading mineral is iron ore, of which the mines, especially those of the Champlain and Adirondack regions, yield abundantly. Galena is found in large quantities in St. Lawrence and other counties. Building stone is abundant, consisting of granite, white and colored marbles, of which those of Westchester and St. Lawrence counties are the most important; Potsdam and Medina sandstones and gray and blue limestones; also fine brick clay. It has large quarries of slate and stone for flagging. There are extensive deposits of hydraulic cement and gypsum, the former being largely produced at Rondout, Manlius, and Akron, the latter near Syracuse. A vast amount of salt is made, chiefly from the springs of Onondaga county. The 1914 output was 10,389,314 barrels, an output exceeded by only one state. In recent years new and promising salt fields have been developed in Wyoming and Genesee counties. The 1914 graphite production was 10,455,139 pounds, value $698,800. There are natural gas wells in several counties, with an output value in 1914 at $2,600,352; and petroleum is found near Olean, Wellsville and other places. The 1914 production of petroleum was 938,974 barrels. Many other minerals are found. New York has no coal.

The state ranks first in the value of its manufactures. The industries cover almost the whole range of business and are well distributed over the state. The value of the manufactured goods in 1909 was $3,369,490,000, over half of which ($2,029,693,000) was credited to the five boroughs of "Greater New York." The fishing industry is large and valuable, the menhaden and oyster fisheries being the most productive. Transportation facilities in New York are of the best. Railroads penetrate everywhere, the total mileage in the state being 8,416 miles. The Erie Canal connects the great lakes with the Hudson river, and a new barge canal, costing $101,000,000, is under construction, to take the place of the Erie Canal when completed. The main canal will run from the Niagara river to the Hudson river, with branches to Lake Ontario, and from the Hudson to Lake Champlain. It will have a depth of twelve feet, and the locks will be fifty-five feet wide and three hundred feet long, permitting vessels of 2,500 tons to pass, without transferring cargo, from any of the lake ports to the ocean. Much of its length is completed and in use. The state has appropriated $50,000,000 to be expended at the rate of $5,000,000 per year, together with a like sum from the counties, in improving the roads. The state ranked third in 1909, with an improved road mileage of 12,787. This is being increased every year.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in New York is 2,146, including 205 daily, 8 three times a week, 44 semi-weekly, 1,071 weekly, 1 three times a month, 14 fortnightly, 46 semi-monthly, 1 twelve times during the college year, 667 monthly, 1 every 40 days, 1 nine times a year, 1 seven times a year, 1 five times a year, 2 four times during the college year, 21 bi-monthly and 63 quarterly. The places of publication number 507, of which 62, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEW YORK †, pop. 5,047,221 (H17&N17); NEW YORK Co. (S.E.), pop. 2,187,747 and BRONX Co. (S.E.), pop. 615,600. The city is divided into five boroughs:—Manhattan Borough, 2,137,747; Bronx Borough, 615,600. Brooklyn Borough, 1,794,513; Queen's Borough, 386,727; Richmond Borough, 98,634. (New York and Bronx Boroughs are served by the New York post-office, and only the publications in these two boroughs are listed here. Publications of Brooklyn Borough are entered at the Brooklyn post-office and will be found under Brooklyn. There are numerous post-offices in Queen's and Richmond Boroughs and the publications issued therein will be found under their proper post-offices.) On Manhattan Island at m. of Hudson R., and on L. I. Sound (or East R.), and New York Bay. Term, of 14 important R.Rs. running to all parts of the country, including the Erie, N. Y. Cent., Penna., W. Shore, Cent. R.R. of N. J., etc. Tel. Exp. Banks. Federal Reserve Bank. Has one of the finest harbors in the world, and is the commercial metropolis of the United States. The foreign commerce of New York is very large, comprising more than half the entire import and export trade of the nation. The tonnage entered in the port for the fiscal year ending in 1915 was 12,647,606 tons, and there were cleared 12,162,347 tons, not including coastwise trade. Its domestic commerce is still greater, a considerable portion of the country drawing its supplies from this city. Its manufactures are little less important, and have grown rapidly of recent years, there being over 20,000 manufacturing establishments. Some few of the larger are furniture, clothing, machinery, sugar refining, tobacco and cigars, printing and publishing, lard refining, malt liquors, musical instruments, etc. The total value of the goods manufactured in 1905 in Greater New York was $2,029,693,000, sixty per cent. of the state's total production. Of this New York City proper as generally understood, consisting of Manhattan and Bronx Boroughs, produced $1,431,089,000. Its educational and other institutions include Columbia University, University of the City of New York, Cooper Institute, Colleges of Medicine, Law, Theology, etc.; Astor, Lenox, Mercantile, and other libraries; Metropolitan Museum of Art, Museum of Natural History, and many others.

STATE CAPITAL, RALEIGH.

NORTH CAROLINA is bounded north by Virginia, east and southeast by the Atlantic Ocean, south by South Carolina and Georgia, and west by Tennessee. Its extreme length from east to west is 490 miles; extreme breadth, 185 miles; land area, 48,580 square miles. The surface is very varied. For nearly 100 miles inland from the coast the country is level, marshy, and swampy; soil sandy but very fertile. It is estimated that there are nearly 8,000,000 acres of swamps in this region, which is known as the "Tidewater" section. Next is the middle or "Coastal Plain" section, with varied surface and fine soil. West of this is the "Piedmont" section, a fine farming region, producing North Carolina's staples, cotton and tobacco, in abundance, as well as large crops of wheat and other grain. It is a land of fertile valleys and gently sloping hills, increasing in altitude until they reach the "Mountain" region in the west. Some of the peaks in the Black Mountains and the Blue Ridge attain an elevation of from 5,000 to 6,000 feet, the highest land east of the Rocky Mountains. This region contains good grazing land, with much hard timber; and stock raising is largely carried on. It is a country of fine pastures and live stock of all kinds thrive. Grain and fruit, especially apples, are grown abundantly. The scenery is remarkably beautiful, and the climate is such that it is becoming a popular health and pleasure resort. In the coast region the river bottoms and reclaimed swamp lands are very fertile, and here cotton, corn, honey, beeswax, apples, peaches, and pears abound. Frost is infrequent, and the rainfall averages 60 inches. The Scuppernong and Catawba grapes are native here; cranberries and vegetables of all kinds are extensively produced, melons being especially fine. The lumber industries and fisheries are very valuable. Drainage work is being energetically prosecuted in this region, and many thousands of acres of swamp lands are annually brought under the plow. The pine region is being settled as the timber is cut off, but the forests are still extensive, and a large trade is done in timber, tar, and turpentine.

Cotton is grown chiefly in the southern and central counties. The middle section is adapted to the growth of cereals, tobacco, and cotton; sweet potatoes are a leading staple. In this section are a large number of cotton mills and woodworking plants. The state is excelled only by Kentucky in its tobacco crop, the production in 1915 reaching 198,400,000 pounds. In the truck growing industry she is among the first. The grain crops in 1915 were corn, 64,050,000 bushels; wheat, 10,355,000 bushels; oats, 8,050,000 bushels, all largely exceeding the previous year; rice, rye and buckwheat are grown to some extent. Potatoes produced 3,150,000 bushels; sweet potatoes 8,925,000 bushels, the largest crop in the country. Cotton produced 708,000 bales.

The principal manufactures are furniture, lumber, tar, turpentine, rosin, cotton and woolen goods, tobacco, zinc (smelted and rolled), carriages. The state takes fourth place among the southern states in lumber. The manufacture of cotton goods is very large and is constantly increasing, there being a greater number of cotton mills than in any other state. In the number of furniture factories North Carolina is exceeded by only one state. The 1910 census gives the value of manufactures for 1909 as $216,656,000, the product of 4,931 factories. The state exports coastwise and to foreign ports large amounts of lumber, cotton, tobacco, flour, and fish.

North Carolina has a large variety of minerals. It leads all the states in the production of mica, of which it had an output in 1914 of $195,270. Gold is mined to some extent in Cabarrus, Mecklenburg, Lincoln and Rowan counties, the 1915 yield being worth $181,141, and there is a branch of the United States Mint at Charlotte. Silver, lead and zinc exist, and there is a valuable mine of copper in Ashe county; barytes, corundum and many other minerals, and some precious stones are found. Coal and iron are found; the coal is mostly bituminous, and is contained in two fields, one in Stokes and Rockingham counties, known as the Dan River field, the other in Chatham and Moore counties, known as the Deep River field. The region from the Roanoke and Cape Fear rivers westward to Cherokee county contains rich beds of magnetic and hematite ores; the "Cranberry" mine, in Mitchell county, yields the purest magnetic ore yet found in the United States, producing a remarkably strong and tenacious iron. Clay products make up about half of the total value of the state's mineral wealth, granite two-thirds of the remainder. The granite quarries in Surry and Rowan counties produce immense quantities of stone of high quality.

There are abundant transportation facilities by both water routes and railroads; and the latter are constantly extending. Particular attention is paid to educational matters, and over a thousand school houses were built in the three years preceding 1911.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in North Carolina is 307, including 33 daily, 31 semi-weekly, 204 weekly, 2 fortnightly, 4 semi-monthly, 26 monthly, 1 bi-monthly, and 6 quarterly. The places of publication number 175, of which 82, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NORTH DAKOTA.

STATE CAPITAL, BISMARCK.

NORTH DAKOTA is bounded north by Manitoba and Saskatchewan, south by South Dakota, east by Minnesota, and west by Montana. Length, east to west, about 355 miles, width, about 200 miles. Land area about 70,552 square miles. The Missouri river furnishes navigation for boats of three to six hundred tons burden. The Red River of the North, also navigable, drains the great wheat valley on its eastern border. That portion of the state east of the Missouri river is mostly rolling prairie; the soil on the Missouri slope being a black, sandy loam, with clay subsoil; while in the Red River valley it is a vegetable deposit of unsurpassed richness. West of the Missouri river the land is more broken, with stretches of excellent farming and grazing lands along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad. In the north is a group of hills of moderate elevation known as the Turtle Mountains. In the southwest is a district of eroded clay hills, called the "Bad Lands," generally a good grazing region. Although great extremes of temperature are recorded, the Weather Bureau station at Bismarck registering 106° in July and — 44° in January, the climate is healthful and the soil productive.

The total area of tillable land is about 40,000,000 acres. There are 64,442 farms, averaging 333 acres. North Dakota's live stock, next to its grain crops, is the state's chief product. In 1916 there were 950,000 cattle in the state, of which 373,000 were used for dairy purposes; 801,000 horses, 9,000 mules, 250,000 sheep and 706,000 hogs. Creameries are numerous, and the dairy interests are large and growing larger, the products for 1909 having a value of about $4,000,000. The northern and central parts are especially adapted to the growing of wheat and other cereals, potatoes, vegetables and the earlier varieties of corn. The Red River valley is not excelled on this continent for wheat production. The chief products of the state are wheat, oats, barley, flax, corn, potatoes, dairy products, butter, cheese, and wool. North Dakota stands first in production of flaxseed; first in wheat, first in barley and fifth in oats. The 1915 crop of wheat was 151,970,000 bushels; oats produced 98,000,000 bushels; barley, 44,800,000 bushels; flaxseed, 6,534,000 bushels. While grain is still the greatest crop, other crops are claiming much attention, and diversified farming is becoming more common than formerly.

The rainfall is not great, but sufficient in ordinary years. The Missouri river and all small streams and lakes are lined with timber. Mineral products are natural gas, cement rock, lignite coal, brick and pottery clays, the last being found chiefly in Morton and Stark counties.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in North Dakota is 389, including 12 daily, 2 semi-weekly, 362 weekly, 2 semi-monthly, 10 monthly and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 298, of which 52, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.
