★ Spotlight

★ A new version of the HSDL was launched on Tuesday, September 6th, 2005!

The new version offers:

- Advanced search: Documents can be searched by author, title, date published, exact phrase match and more.
- Filter results: Include only the most relevant content by narrowing your results by homeland security topic, geography, event, or date.
- "My Saved Searches": Save your personalized search for easy re-use in the future.

The Browse Courses section has been removed, but course information continues to be available to CHDS students and faculty via the CHDS website.

The security model has changed to allow users from authenticated sites to come directly into the HSDL. Your login and password will still be needed if you log in from home or want to use the "My Saved Searches" or "My Bookmarks" features.
