Congressman Flake Thanks OMB Director Daniels for His Work Fighting Runaway Congressional Spending

Hopefully, Successor Has Same Commitment to Holding Down Spending

Washington, D.C. - Arizona Congressman Jeff Flake, who represents the state's Sixth District, today was disappointed by the news that Office of Management and Budget Director Mitch Daniels would be resigning his position.

Director Daniels has shown a strong commitment to holding down congressional spending, despite the fact that it has not made him very popular on Capitol Hill, especially with appropriators.

"Mitch Daniels is one of the few people in this town that has consistently fought to control runaway federal spending, so those of us that share that commitment will certainly miss him," said Flake.
