

New MARC 21 Values/Fields: Summary

INTRODUCTION– APRIL 2000 TAG TABLE CHANGES

This document summarizes changes to the LC ILS Tag Tables (LCMARC21 and HLASMARC21) made available in April of 2000. In most cases the changes are newly implemented elements incorporated into MARC21 since LC's implementation of the ILS in August 1999 (changes implemented at that time and documented in the first version of this BWTD are retained as Appendix 1). Although these data elements are now valid in the LC ILS, not all of them will be actively supplied in LC cataloging (they may occur as "pass through" data elements in records done as copy cataloging). In general, this BWTD summarizes the subset of newly available data elements from two aspects: 1) those to begin actively supplying; 2) those NOT to supply (those not actively supplied should be considered "pass through" data elements). This summary is relevant to general cataloging (all cataloging for the data elements NOT to supply). Application of newly available data elements relevant to cataloging done in the special format divisions will be determined by staff in those divisions, as will the guidelines for their application.

Staff should evaluate any customized templates and/or macros they may have developed to determine if these changes have an impact.

1. BIBLIOGRAPHIC ELEMENTS	Actively Supply?
	YES	NO
CONTROL FIELDS
Added value s (electronic) in: Book 008/23 (form of item) Music 008/23 (form of item) Serials 008/22-23 (form of original item, form of item) MX 008/23 (form of item) (and all corresponding 006 positions) NOTE: MARC21 has also defined this value for new positions in VM and MAPS 008s, but these positions will not be implemented at LC until Voyager release 2000 due this fall	X X X X X
Added value u (unspecified) to all 007/01 positions NOTE: 007s for Remote sensing images, Tactile materials, Kits, and Notated music and the extensions of the Computer file 007 will not be implemented at LC until Voyager release 2000 due this fall	X
VARIABLE FIELDS
028 (Publisher number) first indicator: 3= Other music number (was Other publisher number) 5= Other publisher number	X X

1. BIBLIOGRAPHIC ELEMENTS	Actively Supply?
	YES	NO
052 (Geographic Classification) first indicator defined; new values are: blank= LC 0= U.S. Dept. of Defense Classification 7= source specified in $2	X	X X
052 (Geographic Classification); new subfields: d= Populated place name 2= Source of code		X X
080 (Universal Decimal Classification Number); new subfields: b= item number x= common auxiliary subdivision 2= Edition identifier NOTE: $a is no longer repeatable; field is repeatable		X X X
210 (Abbreviated Title) defined second indicator position; new values are: blank= abbreviated key title 0= other abbreviated titles NOTE: field is now repeatable	X X
210 (Abbreviated Title); new subfield: 2= source	X
355 (Security classification control); new first indicator value: 5= record	X
Defined field 526 (Study program information note)		X
Defined field 552 (Entity and attribute information note) NOTE: field 552 has same definition as field 551 which is now obsolete	X
Defined fields 853-855, 863-865 (Captions and Pattern/Enumeration and Chronology) for bibliographic record use NOTE: previously valid only in Holdings records but added to bibliographic records to support CONSER publication pattern task group	X (fields created only in OCLC)

1. BIBLIOGRAPHIC ELEMENTS	Actively Supply?
	YES	NO
984 (Local inventory file compare status); new subfield: d= date NOTE: existing subfields $a and $b made not repeatable (if more than one file is compared, add additional 984 fields)	X (add if required by particular inventory file compare project; do not routinely add for Shelflist Compare project at this time)
Defined field 987 (Pinyin conversion marker)	X (add only as required by pinyin conversion project)

2. AUTHORITY ELEMENTS	Actively Supply?
	YES	NO
VARIABLE FIELDS
Removed first indicator value 2 (multiple surname) for fields 100, 400, 500 NOTE: see http://lcweb.loc.gov/catdir/cpso/multsur.html for information on change in practice for multiple surname indicator	X (change value 2 to 1 when editing authority records)

3. HOLDINGS ELEMENTS	Actively Supply?
	YES	NO
VARIABLE FIELDS
Updated 986 to make subfields $a, $b, and $d mandatory NOTE: Do not delete a 986 field if encountered	X (add if required by particular project based on that project's guidelines)

4. CHANGES TO THE MARC LANGUAGE CODE LIST

The following MARC language code changes/deletions/additions are reflected in the new tag table to be distributed in April, however the new codes themselves should not be used until June 15, 2000. To assist cataloging module users, each code now carries a legend in the 008 “language” drop down list as follows: “[use after 6/15/2000]” for new codes, and “[obsolete after 6/15/2000, use [xxx]]” for codes that will no longer be used after June 15.

Section 4a. Code changes

Old code	New code	Language name
cam	khm	Khmer
esp	epo	Esperanto
eth	gez	Ethiopic

ypk	esk	Yupik languages
zha	paa	Zhuang

5. CHANGES TO THE MARC COUNTRY CODE LIST

Two changes have been made to the 008 “Place of Publication” drop down list found in the cataloging module:

- 1) ai, the obsolete code for Anguilla, has been removed from the tag table (ai for Armenia (Republic) remains); this change allows staff repeatedly hitting the “a” key to progress through the list of language codes.
- 2) mh, the code for Macau, has been annotated to indicate that after June 1, 2000 the use of the code is obsolete (will be covered by the code “cc” for China after that date).

APPENDIX 1. LC ILS DAY 1 CHANGES

During the time the MUMS system was nearing the end of its service, there were data elements related to updates to the MARC 21 (then USMARC) formats that were not incorporated into MUMS. Although these data elements are now valid in the LC ILS, not all of them will be actively supplied in LC cataloging (they may occur as “pass through” data elements in records done as copy cataloging). In general, this BWTD summarizes the subset of newly available data elements from two aspects: 1) those to begin actively supplying; 2) those NOT to supply. Consider other newly available data elements not listed here as “pass through” data elements. This summary is relevant to general cataloging (all cataloging for the data elements NOT to supply). Application of newly available data elements relevant to cataloging done in the special format divisions will be determined by staff in those divisions, as will the guidelines for their application.
