2002-2003	Partnership to Promote Healthy Eating and Active Living. Economic Discovery Workshop, Physical Activity Working Group
2001-	Board Member, Partnership for Prevention
2002-2003	Member, Medicare Advisory Committee. Partnership for Prevention
2002-	Member, United Health Foundation State Health Rankings Advisory Group
2003-	Member, National Commission on Prevention Priorities
2003-2005	Member, Advisory Committee, Project MOVE, CDC
2002-2005	Member, Pennsylvania Cardiovascular Health Consortium
2003-	Member, Evaluation of Genomic Applications in Practice and Prevention (EGAPP) Working Group, CDC
2006-	Member, Secretary's Advisory Committee on Genetics, Health and Society

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS:

1991 - 1995	Adjunct Professor, Division of International Health, Emory University, School of Public Health
1995 -	Adjunct Professor, Department of Health Policy and Management, Emory University, Rollins School of Public Health
1999 -	Adjunct Scholar, Center for Clinical Epidemiology and Biostatistics, University of Pennsylvania, School of Medicine

1999- Adjunct Professor in the Department of Epidemiology, U. No. Carolina School of Public Health

MEDICAL LICENSE: Pennsylvania (M.D.)

BOARDS: National Boards - passed parts I, II, III
Board Certification: Internal Medicine (1977)
Board Certification: Preventive Medicine (1996)

SOCIETIES: American College of Physicians
American College of Preventive Medicine

HONORS: John Harvard Scholarship (Honorary)
Fellow, American College of Physicians
U.S. Public Health Service Commendation Medal (2)
Society of Prospective Medicine Medallion
U.S. Public Health Service Citation
U.S. Public Health Service Group Award (3)
U.S. Public Health Service Outstanding Service Medal
U.S. Public Health Service Meritorious Service Medal
U.S. Public Health Service Surgeon General's Award for Exemplary Service
Fellow, American College of Preventive Medicine
Named Fellowship, Steven M. Teutsch Fellowship

LANGUAGES: Danish - fluent
Spanish, German, Serbo-Croat: fair

HOBBIES:

ADDITIONAL TRAINING: Appalachia - rural health care, 6 weeks, 1972
Research: Duke University Medical Center: HL-A linked immune response genes, 1972
Harvard College: Light effects on porphyrin synthesis in algae, 1969-1970
American Management Association Management Course, 1983

FOREIGN EXPERIENCE: AFS exchange student, Denmark (1965-1966)
London, studying the National Health Service (4 weeks, 1973)
Belgrade, Yugoslavia, studying the Yugoslavian Health Care System (10 weeks, 1974)
Bangladesh, disaster assessment (3 weeks, 1988)
Russia, workshop on surveillance (1 week, 1993)

TEACHING EXPERIENCE: Guest Lecturer U. of Pittsburgh, School of Public Health
Guest Lecturer U. of No. Carolina, School of Public Health
Regular Guest Lecturer, Emory University, School of Public Health (MPH 532), 1989-1994
Conduct courses on prevention effectiveness, CDC
Kerr White Institute (1997)
Nordic Summer Course on Infectious Disease Epidemiology (1 week per year, 1995 - 1997)

DUTIES:

- 1977 - 1979
Epidemic Intelligence Officer, Center for Disease Control. Surveillance of parasitic diseases in the United States, including surveillance of malaria and publishing of Annual Malaria Surveillance Report; advising on clinical aspects of parasitic diseases; rendering epidemic aid; organizing pilot surveillance for toxoplasmosis. This function requires training in all aspects of parasitic and tropical diseases both within the United States and abroad, and consultation is provided to private physicians and to local, state, national and international health agencies. Parasitic Diseases Division, CDC, has a drug service whose function is to provide investigational drugs for the treatment of tropical diseases. This function requires a detailed knowledge of clinical tropical medicine, therapeutics, and investigational drug procedures, and collaboration with pharmaceutical companies and the Food and Drug Administration.
- 1979 - 1981
Chief, Kidney Disease Activity. Administer a program to increase the number of cadaveric kidneys retrieved through training of and providing technical assistance to procurement programs; conduct epidemiologic studies concerning the prevention of kidney disease. Provide consultation to state health departments regarding diabetes control project.
- 1981 - 1983
Chief, Operational Research, Division of Diabetes Control. Conduct and coordinate investigations of risk factors for complications of diabetes and methods for improving health services. Conduct special studies, e.g. mortality associated with insulin infusion pumps. Provide technical expertise to the Division and State Diabetes Control Projects. Provided scientific basis for control of major diabetic complications and developed evaluation system for State diabetes control programs.
- 1983 - 1987
Chief, Technical and Operational Research Branch, Division of Diabetes Control. As above. Responsible for supervision of professional staff. Provide leadership and programmatic direction regarding scientific aspects of diabetes control.
- 1987 - 1988
Chief, Epidemiologic Studies Branch. Provide leadership and coordination for epidemiologic surveillance, with emphasis on developing systems for surveillance of chronic diseases. Supervise staff of medical epidemiologists. Oversee development of software systems for epidemiologic studies and surveillance. Oversee study of major complications of anesthesia.
- 1988 - 1991
Director, Division of Surveillance and Epidemiologic Studies. Direct the communication and dissemination of surveillance and other epidemiologic information to facilitate the practice of epidemiology, to prevent and control disease outbreaks, and to improve the practice of public health. Responsible for CDC-wide system for the collection of epidemiologic data from a variety of sources. Oversee the collection, collation, reporting, and dissemination of epidemiologic surveillance data to assure that national morbidity and mortality information is accurate and rapidly available to users to facilitate disease prevention and control. Serve as the principal investigator for major epidemiologic studies; coordinate surveillance-related activities throughout CDC; and provide expert consultation on surveillance methods and practice to government and private agencies in the U.S. and abroad. Develop new approaches to epidemiologic study design, methodology, analysis and surveillance and practice. Responsible for epidemiologic communication with State, local, private, and international agencies.

1991 - 1996

Special Assistant to the Director, EPO. Develop approach to Prevention Effectiveness for CDC. Co-editor book on surveillance.

1992 - 1996

Chief, Prevention Effectiveness Activity, EPO. Develop a conceptual framework for the assessment of the effectiveness of prevention strategies. Develop training courses for CDC staff on economic analysis, decision analysis, and meta-analysis. Develop guidelines for methods for assessing the effectiveness of prevention strategies. Co-edit book on prevention effectiveness. Provide technical assistance to CDC programs in conducting prevention effectiveness studies. Coordinate assessment of the effectiveness and cost effectiveness of prevention programs. Establish and implement post-doctoral fellowship in prevention effectiveness. Establish and implement urban research centers to evaluate the effectiveness and cost effectiveness of interventions targeted at disadvantaged inner cities.

1996 -1997

Director, Division of Prevention Research and Analytic Methods, EPO. In addition to activities listed under Prevention Effectiveness Activity, responsible for development of a Guide to Community Prevention Services. Lead the development of behavioral, evaluation, and statistical sciences at CDC.

1997-

Senior Director, Outcomes Research and Management, Merck & Co., Inc. Serves as deputy director for 40-member staff which develops disease management programs, conducts policy analyses and outcomes research.

2000-

Group Leader, Customer Liaison Group, ORM, Merck & Co., Inc. Provides analytic support and leadership to the department as well as primary coordination of disease management and outcomes research to managed care, employers, and other Merck customer segments. Research agenda includes impact of benefit design on health care utilization and outcomes, quality improvement, preventive services, healthy human capital, comparative effectiveness and cost effectiveness.
