

Andrea Ferreira-Gonzalez, Ph.D.

Andrea Ferreira-Gonzalez, Ph.D. is currently a Professor of Pathology at Virginia Commonwealth University and director of the Molecular Diagnostics Laboratory at Virginia Commonwealth University Health System. At the national level, she is a member of the Secretary's HHS Advisory Committee on Genetics, Health and Society (SACGHS) and the Chair of the SACGHS Task Force on Genetic Testing Oversight. In addition, she serves on the Secretary's of HHS Personalized Healthcare Workgroup. Dr. Ferreira-Gonzalez also served as a member of the Clinical Laboratory Improvement Advisory Committee (CLIAC) to HHS, and has been involved in the development of clinical guidelines with the Clinical and Laboratory Standards Institute. Dr Ferreira-Gonzalez is the past-President for the Association for Molecular Pathology. She has been recognized both nationally and internationally for her work in the field of molecular diagnostics. She has been invited as a speaker at annual meetings for a large number of different national and international societies. Her publication record demonstrates over 60 publications in peer-reviewed literature and she has been sought after to contribute eight chapters to books in clinical molecular analysis.