Comments: The ICCVAM should encourage only the best research programs and only those that make a commitment to non-animal testing. Animal experiments are outdated. Many organizations and charities realize the importance of focusing on research and programs that are relevant and highly effective in advancing human health. Some of these are well known, like Easter Seals, the Brain Injury Association of America, the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation, the American Kidney Fund, and Helen Keller Worldwide.

I support your immediate acceptance of internationally validated non-animal tests. Please promote the health of humans through education, patient services, and essential research without the use of animals.

Respectfully, Cynthia Thomas
