Storage of Emergency Supplies

Some families prefer to store their emergency supplies in location. Choose a place in your home which would relatively safe in time of and earthquake (such as a closet or under a bed). The perishable supplies will remain stable longer if stored in a cool, dark location.

One suggested method for storing emergency supplies is to place them in a large, covered trash container, with a smaller covered container for miscellaneous items. They can be layered from bottom to top, 1. small covered container; 2. blankets; 3. canned milk and food; 4. 1 gallon of bottled water; 5. First aid kit and book. NOTE: It is best to store plastic water containers on top of the contents rather than on the bottom where they could crack and leak from the weight of the heavier objects placed on top of them.
