SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The papers of Louis S. Rothschild are concerned primarily with the years when he was employed as Maritime Administrator and Under Secretary of Commerce for Transportation, 1953-1958. The bulk of the material consists of personal correspondence with friends, relatives, and acquaintances, and there is little substantive material relating to his governmental activities.

Rothschild's official papers and records were donated to Yale University in 1958, and additional memorabilia was presented to the Kansas City Museum of History and Science, Kansas City, Missouri. Thus, there are only a few references to Rothschild's official duties in this collection.

The Rothschild papers are organized into three series. The first is primarily in alphabetical order based on the subject, and the bulk of the second series is in the alphabetical order according to the names of the correspondents. The third series contains information on the N. S. Savannah and TIROS weather satellites and scrapbook material on the Public career of Louis Rothschild.

There are some exceptions to the above descriptions of the first two series. For example, the first series includes the subject "insurance", but it also has a separate folder on the Central Surety and Insurance Corp. The second series has correspondence filed under a name or topic mentioned or referred to in letter as well as materials filed under the names of the actual correspondents.

There is also an overlapping of material between the two series on certain topics. Considerable cross referencing of correspondence exists, and copies of the same letter may appear in both series. The first series has folders on the estates of Irving Bettman, Alfred P. Rothschild, and Nora W. Rothschild, but there are also letters dealing with the estates in the second series, or "Alphabetical File." Both series also contain correspondence dealing with taxes, investments, and Republican Party politics.

A large part of the first subseries, entitled "Personal File," consists of correspondence, reports, and clippings, and the subjects which are dealt with the most are estate management, insurance, the annual business of the Midwest Research Institute, politics, investments, and Rothschild and Sons, Inc. business interests. The balance of the subseries is comprised of business records, insurance policies, receipts, travel orders, photographs, and a diary.

The second subseries, labeled "Official File," is composed largely of copies of the Commerce News Digest, which reprints articles dealing with the Commerce Department, other government agencies, and important developments in the areas of manufacturing, banking, and shipping. The balance of the subseries consists of articles, clippings, announcements, and invitations, and this material covers such topics as Rothschild's official duties, developments in commerce and industry, job appointments, and building openings by various businesses.

A large part of the second series, or "Alphabetical File," consist of correspondence which deals with such subjects as family business, party politics, personal finances and trips, transport policy, cruise ship reservations, private clubs and organizations, job applicants, ship building, and the Kansas City real estate market. The remainder of the series is made up of clippings, memos, reports, social invitations, booklets, charts, and a few periodicals. Nearly all of the materials in this series deal with personal matters; however, there are a few scattered references to government transport policy and the trips Rothschild took as Under Secretary of Commerce.

Booklets, press releases, photographs, newspaper and magazine articles, copies of speeches, and souvenir albums make up the small series of miscellaneous items. The subject covered most extensively in this series is the N. S. Savannah, the world's first nuclear powered surface ship. There are also numerous articles and papers relating to the public career of Louis Rothschild. Additional topics include the TIROS weather satellites and wood varieties.

Numerous photos and one record have been removed from the collection and transferred to the audiovisual department of the Eisenhower Library. Three books have been transferred to the Eisenhower Library book collection.
